SANTA CLAUS IS COMING

Will Arrive Summer-side Monday And Charlottetown Tuesday.

(By Radiogram from Anticosti)
Hello Kiddies—I'm coming at last. I got away from the deck of the Empress of England in mid ocean Saturday and all went well till nearing Anticosti where I was forced to land on account of blizzards. The weather has cleared and I'm taking off this evening, Sunday, and will land in Summerside through the night. After a few hours sleep will come down the chimney at two o'clock Monday to Holman's Toyland and hope to meet all my little friends. After a short visit and other official business I will rest for the night and leave Tuesday morning for Charlottetown by way of Kensington, Hunter River, where we will have dinner. Will visit the schools along the way and arrive at Holman's, Charlottetown at two o'clock, where I hear all my little friends are so anxious to meet me. After my visit with them and an inspection of Toyland will visit as many of the schools as closing as possible, later calling on the Lieutenant Governor, city officials and others on my annual visit. Wednesday morning I will leave for Summerside by way of Bonshaw, Victoria, Crapaud, Tryon and Cape Traverse. I'm very anxious to meet all the kiddies, and want all the grown ups help possible so that no little ones will be disappointed this Christmas. 6887-11

Army Defeats The Navy 20-0

(Associated Press)
FRANKLIN FIELD, Philadelphia, Pa., Dec. 4.—S multaneous with a winter that made this colorful December setting seem like a mid-summer illusion. Army's football forces turned on the power and scored the Navy, 20 to 0, with a spectacular climax to the gridiron season of the eastern United States. Before a notable gathering and sell-out crowd of 79,000 spectators who found overcoats, furs and blankets superfluous in 65-degree weather, the cadets put on a dazzling drive to victory Saturday after checking the Navy's opening bid for a touchdown.

Hamilton Squad Wins Rigger Title

(By Elmer Dulmage, Canadian Press Staff Writer)
HAMILTON, Dec. 4.—The surging, relentless rush to the football peaks by the Roughriders of Regina had been pushed back to its one-year line tonight, smeared by a Hamilton Tiger defender of eastern gridiron supremacy that carried altogether too much power for the plainsmen.
Before a surprised crowd of 8,000 here Saturday, the Roughriders fumbled like stage-struck school-boys to help the Bengals win a third Canadian championship in five years by setting down the challengers from the West 25-6. It was the fifth straight defeat for Riders in the intersectional classic.

BIRTHDAY PARTY—Miss Helen Cahill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cahill, Grafton St., entertained a number of her little friends on Wednesday afternoon, November 30th, the occasion being her 10th birthday. A dainty luncheon was served, the table being gaily decorated with sweet peas and roses. A handsome birthday cake added to the beauty of the setting. After luncheon, Miss Helen opened the many beautiful gifts among which was an attractive signet ring, suitably engraved, and made a very pretty speech thanking her little boy and girl friends for their kind remembrances. Games, music and recitations concluded the happy affair.

GLASS-HARD SHAVING EDGES

● Shaving edges harder than glass assure you indescribable comfort when you use the "BLUE BLADE." Special tempering and a slotted center make the blade flexible—easy to adjust for your particular shaving requirements.

The "BLUE BLADE" is made in addition to the regular Gillette Blade sold in the green package.

Another Win For Peden

(Canadian Press)
MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, New York, Dec. 4.—Talk up another win for William 'Torchy' Peden of Victoria, B. C., his third straight in the six day bike rides and ninth victory out of an even dozen starts. It is a record never surpassed.
The big red head's latest win came Saturday night in a pulsating, fighting finish to Madison Square Garden's 53rd annual ride-to-nowhere when the reconstructed team of Peden and Freddie Spencer of Plainfield, N. J., eked out victory by a scant 14 points.

Premiers Greeted On Arrival At Moncton Airport

MONCTON, Dec. 4.—The important link airplane transportation is filling in Maritime Canada is daily brought to notice here by the many passengers using the airmail plane service between Moncton and Prince Edward Island. Within the past month many have travelled by air to and from the Island, regular partners of the air lines recently being the fur buyers doing business in the two provinces during the fox pelting season.
Saturday witnessed the arrival of two distinguished Maritimers at Moncton airport in the persons of Hon. Dr. Chas. D. Richards, K. C., Premier of New Brunswick, and Col. the Hon. Gordon S. Harrington, K. C., Premier of Nova Scotia. They were returning home from Charlottetown where they attended a conference with Hon. J. D. Stewart, K. C., Premier of the Island province.
It was the first time in which two premiers of these provinces have crossed Northumberland Straits by plane and to mark the memorable event His Worship Mayor Blakney, Ald. T. H. King, chairman of the Civic Parks and Airport Committee; Hon. E. A. Reilly, K. C., M. P. P., chairman of the N. B. Hydro Electric Power Commission, and other prominent citizens motored to the airport and extended a civic welcome to the visiting premiers upon their arrival.
The plane which was in charge of Pilot Walter Fowler, of the Canadian Airways Ltd., arrived at the airport about 10.15 and accompanying the distinguished party was Col. J. S. Jenkins, noted aviation enthusiast of Charlottetown, who established the airport in that city.
Premier Harrington proceeded to Halifax on the Maritime Express. Premier Richards remained in the city on Saturday.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

(By Tec)

The Largest Crowd Ever

Everybody is talking hockey these days, and judging by the enthusiasm manifest among the rank and file of fans and the gigantic advance sale of tickets, it looks to me as if the Charlottetown Forum tonight will house the largest crowd in the history of the rubber chasing game on the Island. Reservations from every part of the Province have been requested, which means that the entire Island will not be represented at the Forum tonight, but everyone will be solidly behind the Abbies in their drive for leadership in the "Big Three" loop of the Maritime Hockey Association.

Oh yes, I almost forgot to mention the Red Shirts' opponents tonight. In case the rabid fan is a little mixed-try and mix him, or her—I may say that Percy Nicklin's Hawks is the team scheduled with Abbies for the fixture, and furthermore it may be interesting to state that Hawks and Abbies are now tied at the top of the heap with three wins and one loss. The team which comes through tonight on the big side of the ledger will no doubt have plenty reason to be proud of its position.

No team can be expected to master the forward pass overnight, however, but so far it has been overdone and with disastrous results.

A N. S. Comment on Wolve-Hawk Game
Last Friday night the Charlottetown Abbeys outplayed the Halifax Wolverines and skated off the ice victors by a 2-1 count. On last night's play you couldn't say that the Hawks were the better team, for the Moncton boys didn't outplay the Wolves. Two more evenly matched teams never played on Halifax ice. There was little to choose between these outfits. In every close game a "break" decides the issue. Both teams knew that last night. Both teams fought for that "break" The Hawks found it and so won the match. As a display of he-man hockey, last night's affair couldn't be beaten. It had everything but high powered scoring. The opposing goalies and defences were too good for heavy scoring.

Hawks Present Powerful Machine
The Hawks presented a powerful hockey machine last night, but they didn't outplay the locals, which only goes to show that the Wolves are as good as the Hawks—or they were last night. Shields has not yet started to play his best hockey, but when a player tries as hard as Shields did last night he is bound to succeed. Moshier was going better than ever, and Lennon is fast rounding into tip-top form. The Kennedy brothers will go a little better as time goes on and Lawlor's work has been outstanding since the league opened. In fact Lawlor was the pick of the locals last night and perhaps the best man on the ice. I'm still waiting for Vair to shove Lawlor in with Lennon and Shields. This should make a fast skating frontline and I believe Moshier will work better with the Kennedy brothers. The Moshier-Kennedy combination worked for years in Kentville Wildcat uniforms and formed one of the greatest frontlines the Maritimes have boasted in many years of fast hockey.

His Views

Jimmie Smith, Halifax Sports Writer, says:
"You can have your forward pass—as it has been demonstrated, fate— but give me the flashing, teampay that characterized the performances of the Truro Bearcats when "Doggie" Kuhn, Hymie McArthur and Sammy Muddock held down the regular front line. The short passing game was their favorite mode of attack and it brought results—nothing less than a Maritime Championship. While the use of the forward pass in the attacking zone paves the way for more scoring in the N. H. L., Maritime teams could in our humble opinion, combine the old and the new rules to excellent advantage."

READY

debt payment.
OTTAWA, Dec. 4.—(C.P.)—Just what insistence by the United States on war debt payments may mean to the export trade of Canada, is now the subject of speculation here. Informed circles are naturally reticent. The disposition is to wait and see what will develop following consideration of the United Kingdom note by the Government of the United States. But the fact that the United Kingdom has intimated that tariffs may be imposed on United States products if payment is insisted on, has aroused great interest.
This hinges on two factors. In the first place, the field of trade is a large one. In the calendar year 1930, the United States exported to the United Kingdom domestic commodities to the value of $672,180,701. It is true that this total suffered a very material reduction in the following year, but even at that the United Kingdom absorbed United States products to the extent of $449,484,383.
Secondly, Canada is in a position to step in and supply many of the commodities which might be shut out if the United Kingdom determined to put up the barriers against United States products.
This would apply particularly in respect to natural products. From her farms, fisheries, forests, factories and mines Canada produces many of those commodities which now figure in the list of United States exports to the United Kingdom. The United States exports to the United Kingdom such things as wheat, barley, apples, wood and paper, canned and fresh salmon, furs, bacon, ham evaporated milk, eggs, etc. The list is a long one, but Canada is in a position to duplicate many of its items.

Some Figures

A few figures secured here give some indication of the extent to which the United States exports these commodities to the United Kingdom. In 1931 (the calendar year), the value of lard exported from that country to the British market was $22,234,976. The figures for the previous calendar year were higher. In 1930, lard exports totalled $26,950,685.
Exports of hams and shoulders from the United States to the United Kingdom in 1931 were valued at $10,693,154. Bacon exports amounted to $2,228,139 in the same year. Evaporated milk went from the United States to Great Britain to the extent of $1,671,161 in the same period. United States canned salmon exports to the United Kingdom were valued at $3,363,268.
Apples from the United States were exported to Great Britain in 1931 to the extent of nearly $14,000,000. Boxed apples were sent valued at $6,301,216. Those in barrels were valued at $7,515,608.
