Premier Law's Lieutenants Angered at Lloyd George's Attacks

Resent Criticisms of Mediocre Political Capacity and Attainments of Bonar Law Cabinet. Former Premier's Stock is Rising. Press Comment Reveals New Premier as Losing Favor With the Public.

(Special to The Guardian.)
LONDON, Oct. 31.—There has been a slight lull in "big gun" election oratory today. The new Prime Minister, Mr. Bonar Law, moved into his official residence in Downing street and will hold his first Cabinet meeting tomorrow. He is still experiencing difficulty in completing his ministry. Mr. Lloyd George and Lord Birkenhead, in their recent speeches at Glasgow, made great play with the mediocre political capacity and attainments of the statesmen of the Prime Minister had gathered around him, as compared with those who remained loyal to Lloyd George, and these personal attacks on the new administration have caused considerable angry feeling on the part of the Prime Minister's lieutenants, the more especially as, in their election campaign, they are feeling their inferiority in oratory in comparison with their opponents.

Baldwin Was Tactless.
Moreover, Stanley Baldwin, who is Mr. Bonar Law's chief lieutenant, is generally thought to have been somewhat tactless, from an electioneering standpoint, when he declared that there would be no immediate reduction in taxation. Altogether, in the general estimation of the press, Mr. Bonar Law's election stock seems to be in a falling market, while the Lloyd George stock, the newspapers assert, is rising.

Lord Curzon, in a letter to friends in Belfast, makes his first political pronouncement in this campaign, expressing the fervent hope that a government will come into power in England, which will be thoroughly loyal to the Irish settlement as contained in the action of 1920, as far as the six Ulster counties are concerned, and declaring that he wishes to bring home to the minds of the British electorate that the single element of the Northern Ireland government is to promote even still closer relations between Ulster and the rest of the Empire.

Sensational Evidence in Block Fire Investigation

Golden Carr Swears he was Offered $100 by Louis Block to Burn His Junk Warehouse, Which was Insured for $4,500. Fire Happened Few Days After. Mr. Block Denies.

An investigation by Fire Marshal E. Bear was begun in the Police Court yesterday into the circumstances of the fire on Sunday morning, Oct. 1st in the warehouse of Louis Block, Jewish junk dealer, city. The investigation was the result of information given by a local man that he had been offered $100 by Mr. Block to set fire to the building a few days before the conflagration. The warehouse stock was insured for $4,500 and a full claim is being paid. The Attorney General assisted the Fire Marshal and Mr. Donald MacKinnon, K. C., appeared for Mr. Block.

The witnesses examined yesterday were Louis Block, Golden Carr, Geo. B. Hooper, Margaret Carr and Percy Carr. Adjournment of the investigation was made until 10 o'clock this morning.

Louis Block Testifies

Twenty three years in the junk business, Louis Block testified that for the past two years he did not own any real estate. He at that time sold his property and continued to do business in his old location on the south side of Water Street where he also lived. The property, formerly his, now belongs to the city. He used the warehouse for storing junk and also the cellar of the dwelling. The goods in the warehouse were insured at the time of the fire, Oct. 1st, but not those in the cellar.

There was a fire in the warehouse Sunday morning, Oct. 1st. He had put insurance on it for $4,500 in one policy, with Mr. Rogers. The lady book-keeper at the Rogers' office asked him at the time what goods he had and

Fine Exhibition of Scenes From Many Lands

Distinguished Artist on Visit to the City is Exhibiting Many Beautiful Pictures Under Auspices of Daughters of the Empire.

The beautiful exhibition of landscape and portrait paintings, and a number of views of Greenacre, Elliot, Maine. Two large portraits of Miss Dorothy and Miss Wanda Wyatt, Summerside, are attracting attention. Other portraits include one of an early settler in New Brunswick, the Rosse, and a particularly interesting one of a young girl, Miss Jack, who is a native of St. John, N.B., received much of her training from the famous Charles Lasar and from Walker Douma, the noted decorative painter in London and Paris who has been several seasons here studying for several seasons, Birmingham Society, and at the Walker Gallery. In Canada she has been a contributor to the Montreal Academy. Her paintings exhibit a keen spiritual perception. They are rich in atmosphere and vivid in color and realism—a splendid combination of observation and feeling. Miss Jack today is in a fair way to join that brilliant galaxy of American women artists and pupils of Lasar, which numbers Cecilia Beaux, Mary Gay, Minor J. Chapman and Jessie P. Lacey.

on controverted phases navy budget which is now in hands of president for approval, basis of settlement not disclosed. Killed While Riding With His Fiance

(Special to The Guardian)
OGDENBURG, N. Y., Oct. 31.—Harold Main, of Guelph, near Ottawa, was instantly killed early this morning, near Manotick when a closed car in which he was riding with his fiance, Miss Viola Skann, of Prescott, went into a ditch on the Prescott-Ottawa highway and overturned.

Miss Swann was driving the car and fearing that she could not pass an approaching vehicle, asked Mr. Main to grasp the wheel. The car swerved to the side of the road, skidded in the soft dirt and went into the ditch. Mr. Main was thrown through the windshield, fracturing his skull. Miss Swann escaped without injuries.

Mr. Main, who was an insurance agent, was well known throughout the Ottawa section.

Fisherman's Body Taken Back Home On Board Patriot

LUNenburg, N. S., Oct. 31.—With her flag at half-mast, the Canadian destroyer Patriot arrived here today from Gloucester with the body of Captain "Bertie" Demone, member of the champion Bluenose crew, who was drowned at the American fishing port Thursday night. Captain Angus Walters, of the Bluenose, uncle of the dead man, and H. R. Silver, Halifax, accompanied the body. The crew of the destroyer stood at attention while the casket, draped with the British ensign and containing the body of the late fisherman, was borne ashore on the shoulders of eight of the Patriot sailors. It was taken from them by eight members of the Bluenose crew and placed in a waiting hearse. The crew of the vessel accompanied the body to Captain Demone's late home. All flags in Lunenburg are flying at half-mast.

Magnificent Chesterfield Prize Offered Guardian Contestants, Attracting Attention at Holman's

The Splendid $150.00 Chesterfield Offered as a Prize in the Guardian Contest, is on Display at Holman's Summerside, Where it is Attracting Great Attention.

The magnificent $150.00 Chesterfield to be given as a prize in The Guardian's Big Circulation Contest is now on Exhibition in the show window of R.T. Holman Limited, Summerside, and is eliciting much favorable comment. It is superbly constructed throughout, Marshal Sanitary Cushions and springs in back seat and arms; made for Holman's by a firm that specializes in high quality furniture. The Chesterfield is 84 inches long; has extra well braced frames; reinforced through out; and the foundation is strengthened by woven strap webbing. These Chesterfields have come forth packed into every inch, and we spring construction is uniform. They have that luxurious, embracing quality that puts one at ease with the world. The lucky candidate who secures this coveted prize is assured of limitless comfort, with her home the centre of attraction and the envy of many. The Guardian's $150.00 Chesterfield to be given away in our Big Circulation Contest is one of the most popular prizes that could be imagined at this value, and we would advise those interested in examining it to call at Holman's Furniture Department, where it may be seen at any time.

10 Days More of Great Contest Left—Step Lively

There is going to be a fine skirmish this week in the Guardian's great campaign. Next Saturday is the last day of the $100 Extra prize offer. Next Saturday also means the close of the final extra vote offer of the campaign.

It is a case of everything to gain and nothing to lose this week. Subscriptions turned in this week count on the $100 extra prize and also count on the 100,000 extra vote offer on $20 clubs. Get into the battle in real fashion this week. This is the big week of the campaign. No more special prizes—no more extra votes. Things are getting real interesting now. Everybody is getting votes and the wise candidates will not lose many minutes this week.

If you haven't been working hard, candidates, get real busy now. Secure every possible subscription this week—it will bring you nearer to victory and the grand prize Studebaker. You cannot hope to win the $150 Studebaker or the $138 Maxwell without some effort. Just stop and think what it means to win one of these great cars. It not only means that you win a great prize, but also means that you have outbested your opponents. It means victory with all its laurels and it also means that the hundreds of friends who have been sending in their coupons and subscriptions for you regularly, can rejoice with you on the closing night of the campaign. Ask all your friends to help you now while it means so much to you. Realize all your promises. Get in touch with all those "see you later" friends. Explain to them that their help just now will mean everything to you. Don't take "no" for an answer. Throw in the high speed ahead—open the throttle and dash ahead of your opponents and WIN.

The Guardian campaign management wants you to know what a very great advantage it is for you to get in every possible subscription this week while the last extra votes are being given. And this is the intent and purpose of this article. If you realize this advantage you will leave no stone unturned to secure subscriptions this week. "STEP LIVELY."

Severe Wind Storm Continued Last Evening

Central and Eastern Part of Province Affected Most. Halloween Boys had Rough Playmate in Mischief Making About the City.

The Halloween crowds of boys who were out looking for mischief last night had a rough and up-temperous playmate in the severe windstorm which visited the province Monday night and which continued with unabated fury all last evening, wreaking considerable damage throughout city and country.

The city streets yesterday were littered with the wreckage of broke limbs and roof shingles and this morning present an even more disastrous appearance. "For the wind she blew a hurricane" to quote a well known Canadian classic.

During the storm a large tree on the Beales property, Kent St. was blown down yesterday and many windows last night throughout the city were blown in and broken. Some cars standing out were damaged, their tops being blown off.

In the Newsome block a chimney blew down, crashing through the roof of the Caledonian Club and the Sons of England Hall, putting out the lights and causing considerable damage. In the country many trees and barns, especially in the West Milton, Peter Brodie, Auctioneer, River district, were damaged and
