C.C.M. SKATES

JUDGE a skate in the same way as an edged tool. The steel—its temper, keenness and strength. In C.C.M. blades, costly Sheffield Chrome Nickel Steel—found in the highest-priced motor cars and finest edge tools—is used. This special steel is given a secret heat-treating process which achieves a flint-hard keenness without approaching brittleness—because it leaves below that flint-hard surface a stubborn "core" of exceedingly tough steel.
