Luxurious Furs for Autumn and Winter

Quality is the test in selecting your furs and with this in view we invite you to see our admirable collection of neck furs and muffs now shown in our ready-to-wear department. Whether you have grown really serious on a fur purchase, or have it in mind only as a hope, it will be an inspiration for you to see these goods. We would ask your particular attention to a display of oranberger mink which in excellence of quality and rich finish at the price easily excels anything ever offered by the department. We are fortunate in securing a very large assortment of these beautiful goods at prices which were away below their regular commercial value, consequently this elegant range of furs which so much resemble the genuine Labrador Mink (but at less than one quarter the cost) can now be obtained at better and lower prices for good quality stock that you have yet been able to procure.
