

NOVEL PLAN TO AID POOR

Women Asked to Save Combs, Which Can be Made Into Hair Nets.

BERLIN, October 2.—It is reported that the women of Wurtemberg have adopted a novel scheme for raising subscriptions to charity. They have issued leaflets headed, "Collect Women's Hair." The leaflet explains that every woman can contribute towards helping the sick and poor by sending their useless combs to certain depots, whence they will be forwarded to Stuttgart, where a hair-dresser will convert them into invisible hairnets. The explanation is that until recently China supplied nearly all the hair used in this way, but the exportation of hair from China was stopped when the Boxer troubles began.
