It pays to buy in this Province. Wm. McInnis, City, left yesterday for Boston.

Mrs. Copp, of Baie Verte, is visiting in this Province. Delicious chicken and salmon salad will be served at the Halloween tea next Friday.

The tea at St James Hall next Friday will be only twenty cents. Rev. Geo. Steele, Shediac, formerly of this Province, has returned from a trip to Toronto.

E. W. McKay, Belfast, and H. D. McEwen, Morell, were in the city yesterday. Rev. Geo. Ayers, Sackville, formerly of this city, preached in Woodstock, N. B. last Sunday.

Rev. Mr. Kirby, formerly of this city, was a visitor in Woodstock, N. B. last week. Vernon Steele has returned to Brantford from a visit to his parents, Rev Geo. and Mrs. Steele, Shediac, formerly of this Province.

A. E. and Mrs. Williams, Moncton, formerly of this City, have returned from a visit to St. John. Rev. W. A. Brown, one of the field workers of the International Sunday School Association, who was in the city recently, delivered a strong address on Sunday School organization in Moncton on Saturday last.

Capt. Moore of St. John, formerly of this City, was in Newcastle, N. B., last week on official business. The Marine wharf has been greatly improved this year. The planking has been extended right across the wharf, the track has been raised and plank ed between the rails and a new slip has been placed on the eastern side.

Mrs. W. A. Compertharte, Moncton, well known in this Province, has returned from a visit to Monreal. The planking done this year was on the western side between number three warehouse and the Tidal warehouse number one warehouse and the end of the wharf. The work is just about completed and will be finished this week. Other improvements are being planned for next season.

All should remember the sale of Mrs C. V. McGregor's furniture at 49 Upper Hillsboro Street on next Wednesday at 11 o'clock. Pierpont Morgan, of newspaper fame, is at present in Cincinnati, the guest at Dalvay, the residence of the late Alexander Macdonald, whose summer home was in this Province, the most beautiful home in that city, which has been placed at his disposal by Misses Stallo, now touring in Europe, who in this are carrying out a wish of their grandfather, expressed before he died. In fact, the Tribune says that Mr. Macdonald had made arrangements to have Mr. Morgan, his personal business friend, occupy it at the convention.

Mrs. G. A. Ross, Iarville, N. B., whose husband is a native of this City, was a guest in Hampton, N. B., last week. The following from the Toronto Star will no doubt be of general interest in this province. As the Thanksgiving season approaches the thought of man will soon be directed to preparations for the usual sumptuous dinner considered appropriate to that holiday. Some attention to the turkey, the piece de resistance of the Thanksgiving dinner, is not out of place. The cost of this Thanksgiving and Christmas necessity has advanced a hundredfold in fifteen years. From 1894 to 1901, the average wholesale price ranged from 7.687 cents to 9.825 cents per pound, but since 1902 the price has not fallen below 12.10 cents per pound. Last year's price of 17 1/2 cents per pound was the highest up to that time, and every housewife knows that the retail price last year was considerably more. The chart which the Federal Department of Labor publishes shows that the price of fowls and turkeys has advanced more sharply and more in proportion than that of any other meat, whether beef, or pork, or mutton.

Those attending the Bijou last evening were delighted with the pictures shown on the screen this no doubt was in great measure due to the new picture machine installed which the management have secured. The same pictures will be shown tonight and Mr. Daye will be heard at his best in illustrated song. Miss Kate McDonald, who has resided for some time past in Victoria, B. C., says the Oakland Maple Leaf, is spending a few months in San Francisco with her sister, Mrs. A. D. MacInnis. Both these young ladies attended the pie social of the San Francisco Society. They still take an interest in their old home at East Point, P. E. Island.

The dance given by Mrs McCreedy at the Armouries Friday evening for the officers of H. M. S. Cornwall was the social event of the season and a delightful success in every way. It was also the coming out dance of Miss Louise McCreedy and several of her young friends, and charming debutantes they were. The Captain, Commander, about a dozen of the officers and an equal number of the senior cadets from the Cornwall were present, and everybody had a thoroughly enjoyable time.—13xam.

The Oakland Maple Leaf says:—Brother Aldrick, late of St. Mary's College, Oakland, came to Portland about the middle of August. Brother Aldrick, who was the son of Allan McDonald (Pilate) of Georgetown, P. E. I., came to California in 1888 and affiliated himself with the Christian Brothers in that year. From 1889 to 1897 Brother Aldrick taught in St. Peter's School, San Francisco. I first met him in that city in 1893, and in these seventeen years he has become scarcely any older looking than he appeared to me then. He is yet sound as a bell and in the ordinary course of events good for many years to come. Brother Aldrick is principal of St. James' School, Vancouver, Wash., with residence in this city. His friends in this city were pleased to see his healthful appearance and hope that the Northwest will weave a spell over him.
