Plunging into pond. Garry Snider, 11, of Toronto, rescued his schoolmate, Frances Mourin, who had fallen through thin ice. Companions on shore of York township body of water only laughed at her plight, until Garry arrived, jumped in.

H-BOMBARDIER? — Dr. Clarence E. Larson, as executive director of the Oak Ridge, Tenn., National Laboratory, may play a leading role in the development of the H-Bomb. Larson warned that it "will be an extremely difficult task" to organize scientists and technical experts for the task.

LOOK, MA, IT FLOATS — It took two weeks, 21 tugs, high tide, straining winches and a brisk northeast wind to do it, but the USS Missouri is finally freed from a mudbank in Hampton Roads, off Norfolk, Va. The battleship slips afloat sternward, and was taken to the Navy Yard at Portsmouth for inspection in dry dock.

FOR ASCENT WITHOUT A SCENT — Two air freight agents spray a deodorizing chemical on one of 20 Angora goats before their flight from New York to Poona, India. The goats, from a Sonora, Tex., farm, needed the deodorizing to insure their social position with the cargo plane's crew. The agents are Vera Mammarella of Flushing, holding a tight grip on the Angora, and Mary Glynn of Bayside, operating the sprayer.

Postal proposal of Alex Lum, restaurant owner of Winnipeg, was promptly accepted by his 18-year-old pen pal in Hong Kong, so he will travel to Hong Kong for the marriage. Immigration officials say he'll have no trouble bringing his bride back into the country.

JACK COOPER, 14, AND HIS DOG, CARLO — For eight hours after Jackie Cooper, 14, plunged through soft ice on the Black River near Sutton, Ont., Carlo, his dog, lay whimpering beside the hole until a search party brought the boy to the surface. The boy and his dog had chased a rabbit across the river early in the afternoon, and the ice near the middle of the river gave way plunging the boy into 10 feet of water. His body was found 20 feet from the place where the ice gave way.

Freshly frozen every day, citizens of western Canada are way down in Old Man Winter's deep freeze this year. Typical of the far from tropical conditions is scene on Manitoba highway. It took hours to clear this road. Perilous parking was offered western motorists this week, as is usual this winter out there. When Winnipeg owners left their cars at night, they couldn't be sure they would be able to find them in the morning.

Almost completely demolished, this freight car lies against badly wrecked engine at Gananoque Junction, 15 miles east of Kingston, following collision between two C.N.R. freight trains. No one was hurt as one train, backing up, smashed into the locomotive of a following freight. Crew of the standing train's engine had time to jump off the train before the crash. Firemen managed to put out flames of caboose which caught fire.

Her "favorite" freed, Margaret Palechuk, 9, St. Catharines, is all aglow. Said "favorite" is her uncle, Michael Palechuk, 19, discharged at Welland Friday when grand jury returned "no bill" on charge he had murdered Arthur Gough, taxi driver.
