—WELCOME VISITOR.—We had the pleasure of a visit, on the 14th of this month, from two former residents of Summerside, P. E. I., to E. Island, namely, Philip and Henry F. Smith, the well known plasterers, says the Oakland (Calif.) Maple Leaf. The Smith brothers left their old home town about forty years ago, going to St. Paul, Minn. After living in that city for several years, Philip returned to Summerside and Henry came West. From that time until a few weeks ago, the brothers had not met one another, and therefore it was an unusual pleasure to meet them here in Oakland on a beautiful March day. For a number of years past Philip has made his home in Souris, Manitoba, while Henry has been living in the State of Washington, his family residing at present in Seattle. We would be pleased to welcome them as permanent residents of one or other of the bay cities. "Phil" is a wonder. He is now in his 87th year, and looks and feels "just as young as he used to be." They have taken much pleasure in reading Watson Clark's "Reminiscences" in the recent issue of The Maple Leaf, as they knew the old town in its early days. Two other brothers, Michael and Andrew, are well known plastering contractors of St. Paul.

Halifax Woman Spent Hundreds of Dollars Seeking Relief—Found it in Dreco—Now Feels Fine all the Time—Enthusiastically Recommends Dreco to all Sufferers.

No happier woman lives in Halifax today than Mrs. Charles Ingram of 5 Agricola Street, who was rescued from seven years lingering illness by Dreco. Her plight was pitiful, for her's was the anguish of a young woman losing her youth to the insidious inroads of chronic stomach and intestinal disorders. Today, thanks to Dreco, Mrs. Ingram has a different story to tell. "I had dizzy spells," says Mrs. Ingram, "would have black spots before my eyes and would lie awake for hours at a time after going to bed. My appetite was so bad that I had to be coaxed to eat anything and whatever I did eat would cause gas to form in my stomach that distressed me terribly. I was in this condition for seven years and spent hundreds of dollars trying to get relief but nothing did me any good, until I found Dreco. I felt better from the very first bottle. Now I am like a new woman. Have gained twelve pounds in weight and everybody tells me how well I look. My appetite is splendid, I sleep well, feel fine all the time. Dreco was wonderful to me and I only hope that every woman who suffers as I did, will have the good fortune to try it."

Dreco is being specially introduced in Charlottetown by E. A. Foster. It is also sold in Summerside by Gallant Drug Co., Limited, and by all good druggists everywhere.

TRYING FOR THE FIRST TEAM

The other evening a bright boy called upon a certain gentleman and asked him for a donation towards the funds of a juvenile football club.

"Look here, Johnnie," said the gentleman, "I believe you're the seventh boy to call on me on behalf of that particular club. Am I to expect any more?"

"Very likely," said Johnnie promptly. "I expect all the fellows will come in their turn!"

"Goodness!" gasped the gentleman. "Are you all collecting them?"

"Yes, sir," remarked the youngster. "You see, there's a first team and a second team, and it's the rules as follows—"

Putting out a grimy copy of the club's rules—evidently written by a youthful secretary—the boy pointed to Rule V, which read: "Them as collect most money plays on the First Team; them as don't play on the Second Team!"

IN MEMORIAM

MRS. ALLAN McDONALD

A deep gloom was cast over Chepstow on March 8th, when it became known that the angel of death had visited the home of Mr. Allan McDonald, and claimed as its victim his beloved wife, Josephine, at the early age of 40 years.

The deceased was a daughter of the late Ronald J. McPherson, Charlottetown, who predeceased her about two months ago. She leaves to mourn besides a sorrow-stricken husband, nine small children, ranging in age from one week to 12 years; also three brothers, Paul J., of Charlottetown, Bernard in Spokane, Wash., and Ronald Hilary in Western Canada.

Her funeral to St. Mary's Roman Catholic church, of which she was a devoted member, was largely attended. Requiem high mass was sung by Rev. J. C. McLean, after which all that was mortal of a loving wife and mother was laid to rest in the adjoining cemetery.

There to await the final resurrection. The pall-bearers were: Enos McDonald, Sylvester McDonald, George Creamer, Aneas McCauley, John McIsaac and Albenus McDonald. R.I.P.

BRINGING UP FATHER

MRS. JAMES KICKHAM

To those who shared her friendship for long years, as well as to those with whom she was less intimately acquainted, the death of Mrs. James Kickham of Souris West on March 9th, brought a genuine twinge of regret. Although sick for some time her death came as a great shock. Her patience under her severe illness together with her resignation to the Divine will, bear testimony to the noble character which she possessed.

The departure of such a genial nature creates a void that will not be easily filled. To those who knew Mrs. Kickham from the inside, her personality was greater than the sum of her qualities because it was invested with the graces of the spirit which adorn character and make the person amiable and lovable.

Respected, honoured, and beloved to the last she will be sorely missed and mourned by hosts of friends who admired the integrity of her life and the unchanging quality of her friendship.

She was visited frequently by her devoted pastor Rev. Fathers Walker and McDonald. The last Sacraments of her holy religion were administered to her by Father McDonald who also conducted the service at the grave.

She leaves to mourn their loss, a husband and one son Jack, and two daughters Alice at home, and Mrs. May her soul rest in peace.
