Special to The Guardian.

OTTAWA, August 26—Dredging operations in several parts of Canada have been stopped owing to the new policy adopted by Hon. Dr. Pugsley of holding up work when the appropriation is exhausted.

Plans have been completed at the office of the Dominion Dry Dock Company for the proposed docks at Levis and St. John.

They will be filed shortly at the department of Public Works when formal application will be made for a subsidy under the conditions of the act passed at the last session of Parliament.

THE CONFERENCE OF METHODISTS.

VICTORIA, B. C., Aug. 25—At the morning session of the Methodist general conference, Dr. F. C. Stephenson was unanimously re-elected secretary He interpreted his election to mean that the whole conference would form a forward movement committee. James Woodsworth was re-elected senior missionary superintendent for the west. The secretary read a letter from the Methodist missionary at Port Simpson as follows:

"While passing through Prince Rupert Saturday last an incident came to my notice which I feel sure will be of interest to you and all who are in sympathy with the Lord's day act. One of the features planned for the entertainment of Sir Wilfrid Laurier was a Sunday excursion, When this was mentioned to him, he courteously declined, saying in as much as the government has a law called the Lord's day act, it is incumbent on the representatives of the government to observe it. You will be pleased to know that on Sunday morning, despite numerous duties of the preceding day, the premier of Canada wended his way to the house of God.

"Yours sincerely.

"GEORGE H RALEY."

The conference greeted this announcement with enthusiasm and a long continued hand-clapping.

The election of fraternal delegate to the churches was then proceeded with. Chancellor Burwash was unanimously chosen as representative to the British Wesleyan conference. Dr. Burwash suggested that N. W. Rowell be appointed to accompany him as lay delegate. This was agreed to. Rev. Dr. Heartz, of Nova Scotia, and J. M. Aitkins, K. C., Winnipeg, were elected fraternal delegates to the Methodist Episcopal church United States.

BANKER BEATEN BY CUDAHY WILL NOT WED HIS DIVORCED WIFE.

NEW YORK, Aug. 25—Jere S. Lillis, who was bound and beaten in the Kansas City home of John P. Cudahy, denied today that he will marry Mrs. Cudahy, who has just obtained a divorce from her husband on grounds of incompatibility. "Any report that Mrs. Cudahy is coming east to meet me," he said in his hotel here this afternoon, "and that we are to be married is absurd on the face of it; we haven't corresponded and I don't know anything about her I have no intention of marrying anyone. Moreover, I couldn't marry Mrs Cudahy if I wanted to. There are religious obstacles in the way. I want to be left alone; I am staying here with my two sisters, and I should prefer that the public cease its interest in me."

Several Italian bishops have already done so at Milan, Turin and Venice.

At these places the priests are denouncing in the churches the "scandalous attire" in which women have been appearing in public.

CH'TOWN FIREMEN CARRY OFF HONORS

TRURO, August 24.—The final sports of the firemen's tournament were finished today. The Charlottetown department captured the one mile relay in 3.45 and had Hooper exerted himself in the last quarter the maritime record would have been broken. The final of the hundred was very exciting and out of the forty entries Stanley and Hooper, of P. E. I., Learment, of Truro and McKenzie, of Sydney, qualified, the first three finishing in that order in 10 4-5 over a slow track.

Sydney won the duty race and McGuire of Halifax, romped to the tape an easy victor in the veteran's fifty yard event. FRENCH CRAZE FOR ORDERS

PARIS, August 25—The French craze for wearing a ribbon in the lapel of one's coat is such that those not entitled to sport a state decoration console themselves with the insignia of some private society This is frequently the closest possible copy of an official decoration. The craze has grown to such proportions that one Parisian man or woman out of every ten, wears a ribbon or rosette.

The Ministry of the Interior has now sent a circular to the various prefects ordering them to take action against the wearers of misleading emblems.

One particular abuse of the decoration of the Legion of Honor is to be suppressed, that of a performing baboon which is appearing at a music hall wearing the full insignia of a grand officer.

SHOOTING AT OTTAWA

OTTAWA, Aug. 25—A high wind and difficult light on Rockcliffe range today did not prevent remarkable shooting being done, particularly by marksmen from the prairie provinces, who are accustomed to such weather conditions. The eastern shots had a rather poor day.

The best performance of the day was by Sergt. Armstrong, of Hamilton, who put on a possible in the Burland match at 1,000 yards, in spite of the gale and the glare. It was phenomenal shooting. CANADA'S PLAN WELL APPROVED

No Opposition Members Are Wanted in The Coming Imperial Conference

Special to The Guardian.

LONDON, August 26—The Army and Navy Chronicle says Canada's aim at training her own naval personnel is very good.

Mistakes are sure to be made, but Canada is in earnest and will ultimately build up a navy that will count.

Earl Crewe, replying to a suggestion that the Opposition members of Parliament participate in the Imperial Conference did not think such a departure should be convenient either in this or other countries.

NEW PIGMY RACE IN NEW GUINEA

Details of this discovery by British explorers in New Guinea of a new pigmy race as contained in reports which have reached London from the expedition. The party, under Walter Goodfellow, the noted ornithologist, is exploring the largest unknown area in the world's surface.

The men of the new race were first seen by Captain C. G. Rawling. The meeting, says Reuter, is described as follows: "Captain Rawling was making a short trip into the mountains. While proceeding with his Papuans, the leading man gave a yell and dashed ahead. There were visions of pig, but the quarry turned out to be two hillmen, who, after a long chase through the jungle, were caught. They were dreadfully frightened, but their faces assumed a more or less calm expression which their bags and spears had been returned to them, and they were presented with some beads. Captain Rawling then offered them a cigaret, but nothing would induce them to smoke it. Doubtless they thought it was poisoned. They were naked except for a grass helmet, a bag,and a tiny strip around the waist. They were four feet three inches and four feet six inches in height, respectively.

"A few days after, when entering the hills, Captain Rawling spotted two more fording the river below, and a quarter of a mile away. The men accompaning the explorer crouched like cats, and taking to the torrent, gave chase. The river made too much noise for the hillmen to hear their pursuers until they were cut off. The dwarfs fought valiantly nevertheless, but were at last dragged to the shore. On being measured they were found to be four feet two inches and four feet four inches, so it looks as if all these people actually belong to a tribe of dwarfs similar to those of Central Africa, but good looking and well proportioned."

One of the explorers says that it is difficult to make out whether the Papuans are cannibals or not. Heads of the enemy slain in battle are kept strung from the ceilings of their houses, but it is impossible to say whether the bodies have been devoured.

Dr Eric Marshall describes a remarkable native festival, including a war dance and pig sacrifice. Two full-grown boars, on each of which a man sat astride, were led to an altar, while the women, plastered in wet mud from head to foot kept up a tremendous wailing. Amid shouting and "tomtoming," the boars were clubbed to death. The women then cut the carcasses free, and threw themselves on the dead bodies, wailing loudly in ecstacies of grief.

Afterwards there was innocent play, the woman and girls, many of them quite pretty, chasing the men up to the riverside and into the water. "This is one of the few ceremonies," Doctor Marshall says, "when the women are allowed to beat the men, the latter not being permitted to retaliate. The damsels finally became so bold that they stormed the camp."

JAPAN BUDDHISTS USE THE BIBLE.

NEW YORK, August 25—M. E. Bishop M. C. Merriman, of Korea, says Christianity is making such headway in Japan that the Buddhist priests are using the Bible, which they term "The Universal Good Book," in their service.

"The Methodists, Presbyterians, Congregationalists and Anglican and Protestant Episcopalians are practically one body, all using the same hymn book, the same literature and the same methods, so the Orientals there know only two forms of the Christian religion, the old and new, Catholic and Protestant," he said.

"Because there is no friction to occasion doubt or distrust, the Christian religion has had a tremendous effect on the nation, beyond what appears in the mere number of converts. It has taken hold at the top, and percolated to the common people.

"The 200,000 Christians in Japan are divided about equally between the Protestants and the Greek and Roman Catholics. There are 200,000 Christians in Korea."

DOG HAILS A CAB.

MONTREAL, Aug. 25—M. Jean Richepin's dog has recently shown some skill in evading municipal hospitality. Years of a petted existence as a family friend had cost him the homing instinct. Too well-bred to show any concern when he missed his master in the street one fine morning, he jumped into a passing fiacre. Putting up his head with a low howl he let the cabby see the name and address on his collar, and was driven in triumph to the poet's house.

Nowadays everything is advertised. There is no reason why a dogs' cemetery should not be run on sound business lines, but there is something arresting in the large notice I recently came across in a French paper.

The "Society of France announces that a cemetery for dogs and other domestic animals" boasts Matanity of a capital of 350,000 francs—they tell you to telephone for terms for concessions for three or five years—significant dates—and they end with this expressive sentence : "The cemetery, where more than 8,000 dogs are already buried, is a curiosity well worth a visit. Entrance fee, ten cents."

REAR-END COLLISION ON THE GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY.

FLINT, Michigan, August 25—In a rear-end collision between passenger trains, no. 4 and 14, both eastbound, on the Grand Trunk Railway, two eight persons are known to have been killed, three were probably fatally injured and five were seriously hurt.

It was reported early today that four passengers were missing.

Train no. 14 stopped to repair defective brake when No. 4 crashed into the sleeper on the standing train. The engine of No. 4 plowed half way through the sleeper, crushed to death some of the sleeping passengers. The wreckage of the sleeper caught fire and others of the passengers were burned or scalded.

It is said there were 18 passengers on the ill-fated car. When the forward train stopped, a brakeman was sent back to signal the 10.45 train following, but the explosion of the torpedo which was placed on the track as a warning was heard too late by the engineer of No. 4 to stop his train.

As fast as they were recovered from the ruins of the burned sleeper the bodies of the dead were taken to Durand. Some of the injured were also taken to that village and others were brought to the hospital in this city.

The dead bodies recovered during he night are: Two unidentified women, one about fifty years old, and the other about sixty, and six persons whose bodies were so badly scalded and burned as to make identification difficult, if not impossible.

RESULT OF ROYAL COMMISSION

LONDON, Aug 26—The Canadian-West Indies Royal Commission's recommendation is mainly of a premissive nature.

One question was how far in farming any reciprocal trade arrangements it might be desirable to deal with the West Indies collectively, or whether it might not be well to make an application of such arrangement permissive in individual cases, so that the Colonies not desiring to adhere at one might have the opinion of doing so at a later date.

The Commissioners found it impossible for them to recommend the adoption of any general scheme embracing all the colonies, and they consider a Uniform Tariff out of the question.

SUBMISSION

Since they Father's arm sustains
thee, Peaceful be;
When a chastening hand restrains
thee It is He.
Know his love in full completeness,
Feel the measure of thy weakness;
If He wound thy spirit sore,
Trust Him more.

Without mummur, uncomplaining,
In His hand.
Leave whatever things thou canst not Understand.
Though the world thy folly spurneth,
From thy faith in pity turneth,
Peace thy inmost soul shall fill,
Lying still.

Like an infant, if thou thinkest
Thou canst stand—
Child-like, proudly pushing back
The proffered hand—
Courage soon is changed to fear,
Strenght does feebleness appear;
In His love if thou abide,
He will guide,

Fearest sometime that thy Father
Hath forgot?
Though the clouds around thee gather,
Doubt Him not.
Always hath the daylight broken,
Always hath He comfort spoken,
Better hath He been for years
Than thy fears.

Therefore, whatsoe'er betideth,
Night or day,
Know His love for thee provideth
Good alway.
Crown of sorrows gladly take,
Grateful wear it for His sake,
Sweetly bending to His will,
Saying still—

To His own the Saviour giveth
Daily strength;;
To each troubled soul that boweth,
Peace at length.
Weakest lambs have largest share
Of the tender Shepherd's care
Ask Him not then, "When?" or
"How?"
Only bow,
