ILSLEY BUDGET DRAWS STRONG CRITICISM

Protests Holding Of Transportation Board Hearings In Ch'town

OTTAWA, Ont., July 8 —(Special)— W. Chester S. McLure, Progressive-Conservative member for Queen's protested in the House of Commons today, the holding of a meeting of the Board of Transport Commissioners of Canada in Charlottetown, to hear evidence on freight-rates charged on the Borden-Tormentine Car Ferry. Meeting of the Board is scheduled for July 17.

Shortly after the House convened, Mr. McLure sought an answer from either Prime Minister MacKennie King or Transport Minister Chevrier as to under what authority the board was holding this meeting.

Mr. King said the question was one which would properly come to the attention of the Minister of Transport, and Mr. Chevrier said that any individual or group of individuals may make applications to the Board of Transport Commissioners to have rates revised. He promised to give a more definite answer shortly.

"On a point or order", Mr. McLure declared," I wish to protest against this meeting being held."

Mr. Speaker ruled that the matter was not one on which debate could be held at the time, and on consultation with his colleagues, Mr. McLure proposed to move an adjournment of the House of Commons to discuss the matter as a question "of urgent national importance".

Holding of the meeting, the Queen's member contends is improper, unconstitutional, and has no real legal standing. Rates charged for the Borden-Tormentine ferry, he affirms, can only be decided directly by the Minister of Transport or between Minister of Transport and the Provincial Government according to the terms of Confederation.

"By the terms of the confederation pact", Mr. McLure explained in the opposition lobby, "we were promised that this ferry would be regarded to all intents and purposes as a bridge and rates would be charged similar to mileage rates, or toll, as on a bridge.

"In 1931 when the freight rates on automobiles was lowered from $7 to $3 return, it was done directly by the then Minister of Transport, the late Honorable R.J. Manion on his own ministerial responsibility. It is a matter for the Minister—not for any sub-contractor such as the board of Transport Commissioners or the Canadian National Railways."

The Queen's member is taking all possible steps to have the meeting postponed or cancelled and to have the ferry rates declared solely a matter of negotiation between Ministers of Dominion and Provincial Governments.

Cardinal's Condition Shows Improvement

QUEBEC, July 8 — (CP) — Condition of Rodrigue Cardinal Villeneuve, stricken by a sudden illness during the week-end "is the same as last night" Msgr. Paul Nicole, the Cardinal's secretary, said today. The Quebec archbishop last night was apparently out of danger and on the road to recovery.

Msgr. Nicole said that, as no change was noted in the Cardinal's condition since yesterday, no official communique will be issued today. A statement by Msgr. Omer Plante, Auxiliary Bishop of Quebec, is scheduled to be issued early tomorrow.

Arab League Note Sent To Britain, U.S.

CAIRO, July 8 — (AP) — The Arab League, in notes to Britain and the United States, today challenged the right of the United States to intervene in Palestine before the case has been placed before the United Nations and assailed what it called the "claims of a clamorous and noisy band of Jews" in the United States.

The League, giving its views on the Anglo-American inquiry committee report which recommended immediate emigration to Palestine of 100,000 Jews, declared that "the disturbances that will occur in Palestine and the whole Arab east, and the consequent endangering of peace and security, are the responsibility of those who decided to support and fulfill the recommendations of the Anglo-American committee."

Police officials meantime, said nearly 1,000 of more than 2,000 Jews taken into custody in the wave of arrests June 29 by British authorities had been released.

Gen. MilesC. Dempsey, British commander-in-chief in the Middle East, arrived in Palestine apparently for a three-day inspection tour.

The Arab League note also asked for negotiations looking toward replacing the present government of Palestine, now under British mandate, with another "in conformity with the rules and in agreement with the aims and principles" of the United Nations.

The note to the United States said the League felt that "Zionist policy is on the point of succeeding in bringing about an intensive clash between the interest of the Arab east and the policy and interests of the United States."

The note said the Palestine situation was "the direct result of mistaken British policy."

British Troops Take Revenge On Italians

TRIESTE, July 8 —(AP)—British occupation troops—smarting under the indignities their comrades suffered from Italian rioters last Saturday—turned on the Italians tonight in a violent counter-demonstration.

Show windows were smashed and heads were cracked during the one-hour fracas in downtown Trieste before club-swinging British military police drove the angry troops back to their barracks.

The disorder began when a group of British soldiers, accompanied by some American soldiers, congregated in the Piazza Goldoni, which had been a concentration point for the Italian rioters.

The soldiers then went to the Excelsior Theatre, a motion picture house for British servicemen, and awaited reinforcements.

Joined by troops leaving the cinema, the Britons marched down the broad thoroughfare rolling up their sleeves, swinging their belts and shouting insults to Italian bystanders. There were approximately 1,000 British demonstrators.

Once they charged en masse up a steep hill striking out at fleeing civilians in the path and shattering windows.

British military police rushed into the fray and drew some blood with their clubs.

An irate Tommy asked an M.P. who was pursuing him: "What did we fight this war for anyway?"

"Don't ask me," rotorted the M. P. as he shoved the soldier in a military truck.

Former R.A.F. Pilot Charged With Murder

LONDON, July 8 — (CP) — Scotland Yard today charged George Neville Heath, handsome former R.A.F. pilot, with murder in the slaying of a pretty movie extra and combed a wide section of southern England for the strangler of Sheila Martin, 11-year-old Fawkham schoolgirl.

Sixth female victim of a month-long crime wave, the girl was strangled, a Home Office pathologist reported after examining her body, found today face down in a clump of nettles.

The discovery of this crime spurred the search for Doreen Margaret Marshall, beautiful 21-year-old Middlesex girl, who disappeared last Wednesday after a champagne dinner with a man in a fashionable south coast resort hotel at Bournemouth.

Police arrested Heath in Bournemouth late Saturday after a two-week search that extended to the continent.

Heath was led to the dock in West London police court this afternoon and charged with the murder of Margery Gardner, 33, whose nude, mutilated body was found two weeks ago in a London West End hotel.

A hearing was set for July 23.

Atomic Bomb Secret Will Be Closely Guarded

Radiation Effective Within Mile Of Bomb--Armored Warships Safer Than Transports

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer

ABOARD THE U.S.S. APPALACHIAN, July 8 — (AP) — The blast of X-rays and invisible alpha, beta and neutron rays that hit ships from the atomic bomb were more crippling than the blast that smashed down and the heat that wrecked some vessels.

It appears likely that some of the target fleet would have been unable to sail away even if engines still were in commission and it is probable that some ships that could sail might not have gone more than a few days out before they became ghost ships for lack of sufficient personnel able to work.

The precise effect of these rays is, and will remain, the most closely guarded secret of the atomic bomb. The fact that many of the 3,400 animals are likely to live does not tell the full story of what would have happened to men.

Parties specially trained were able to enter the lagoon three hours after the air burst. But they could not approach closely to the numerous target ships.

Around these ships, x-rays stood like walls many feet thick. The outer edges of these ray walls were sharply defined. Just a few feet lay between a safe zone and a deadly one.

Even planes at 2,000 feet above the target ships more than an hour afterward picked up what Col. Stafford Warren, radiation chief, said was a "goodly" amount of x-rays. That altitude was the x-ray proof.

Col. Warren said that during this same time, the amount of x-rays from the water near the target centre and from some ships was terrific.

Neutron rays appeared only during the atomic flash, but they were absorbed in solid matter and caused all the other kinds of rays.

Col. Warren estimated there was danger from the rays within a mile of the bomb.

Scientists and officers agreed that the rays would have made casualties of most or all of crews topside on some ships. Some would have been killed outright by rays. Others would have died within a week or month. Still others would have been ill within a week and some for as long as six weeks. Many of these would have recovered, but some might have been left with permanent injuries.

The rays, like other phases of

City To Investigate Cost Of Taking Over Electric Light Plant

Appointment of a three-man committee with power to secure "full information concerning the plant, lines, equipment, financial setup and all other matters pertinent to the operation, costs and revenues of the Maritime Electric Company, Ltd., in this city to the end of taking it over to be owned and operated, either by this City Corporation or jointly by the City and the Provincial Government," was authorized last night at the regular monthly meeting of the City Council.

A resolution to this effect, moved by Coun. J. D. Stewart and seconded by Coun. Gordon MacDonald was passed unanimously. The resolution also urged that the Board of Public Utilities make "a full and immediate investigation into the recent breakdown, and consequent serious curtailment of electrical supply" at the Maritime Electric plant.

Inconvenience to tourists and others in endeavouring to reach the Province by ferry from Tormentine was also the subject of strong criticism, which was directed against the Federal Department of Transport.

Mayor B. Earle MacDonald presided at the meeting, all the Councillors being present except Coun. J. E. Noonan.

The Mayor welcomed Dr. O. W. Nordland on his first appearance before the Council as meat and food inspector. Dr. Nordland succeeds the late Dr. I. E. Croken in the position.

Advocates Purchase

Mayor MacDonald read a statement in which he condemned the recent breakdowns at the Maritime Electric plant and advocated that steps be taken for the City, either on is own responsibility or in conjunction with the Provincial Government, to purchase the Company's interests in the Province and thereafter to operate the business as a municipally-owned enterprise.

Coun. J. G. MacDonald said the recent stoppage of electrical current in the City had caused a great loss to many merchants who deal in perishable foods. It was his opinion that the affairs of the Maritime Electric Company should be subjected to an inspection and an investigation by the Public Utilities Board.

Coun. J. D. Stewart said the Company had a monopoly for the furnishing of electric current in Charlottetown and large outside areas. Because of that monopoly it was more or less indifferent to the complaints of its patrons. It was a serious situation when essential services in the City were without warning deprived of electrical current and power for the better part of several days, Coun. Stewart said. He did not mean to infer that the officials of the Company did not do the very best they could when the breakdown occurred. That was not the point. The point was that such contingencies should long ago have been foreseen and provided for.

Coun. Stewart stated that the Maritime Electric Company's profit last year from its operations in the Province approximated $40,000, most of which profit went to the United States. That money should remain in the Province and the only way to retain it was to have the City, if possible in conjunction with the Provincial Government take the whole plant over, he said.

Transportation Muddle

Mayor MacDonald said the situation at Borden and Tormentine for the past few weeks had been "deplorable". Dozens of people, many of them strangers to the Province, had been forced to live in their automobiles at Tormentine for as long as 24 hours while waiting to be ferried across the Strait. There were no eating places, lavatories, or other essen-

British Loan Clears First Barrier

(By Francis M. LeMay

WASHINGTON, July 8—(AP)—The $3,750,000,000 loan to Britain cleared its first barrier in the House of Representatives today on a 181 to 67 vote after President Truman wrote that its defeat would imperil the United Nations plan for world economic co-operation.

The vote came on a motion to put the Senate-approved legislation formally before the House for a four-day debate.

It gave no accurate measure of the opposition's strength, for the loan's opponents split on an attempt by some members to block consideration and sweep the bill from the floor. Several foes of the loan voted for the rule presenting the measure to the House.

Mr. Truman declared that "without this (loan) agreement it will be difficult, if not impossible to proceed with the United Nations program for economic co-operation."

With some administration leaders voicing concern that the ratification bill might fail, State Secretary Byrnes cabled from Paris an appeal to the House for ratification.

"The British loan is the first essential economic step toward peace and security," Mr. Byrnes said.

Indicative of administration difficulties, Chairman A. J. Sabath (Dem.-Ill.) of the rules committee told the House that "for the first time in 13 years I am unable to support the administration."

On the other hand, Rep. H. W. Smith (Dem.-Va.), who often differs with the administration on domestic matters, took the offensive in behalf of the loan.

"Don't measure this thing in dollars," he shouted. "Measure it in blood. Measure it in terms of peace."

"If we are going to have foreign trade we've got to break the sterling bloc. This agreement will do it."

And, he told the House, "If Winston Churchill had not been standing there in those dark days early in the war, many more American boys would have lost their lives."

Rep. H. H. Buffett (Rep.-Neb.) one of the opposition leaders, called for defeat of the ratification bil, declaring it "moves us toward destruction by Communism."

The money would be used to "expand socialism and state ownership" in Britain, he told the House.

Rep. Sabath told the House Britain "never has done anything for our nation," while "we have saved her twice."

Budget Proposals Accepted By Two Provinces

OTTAWA, July 8 —(CP)—Finance Minister Ilsley today informed the Commons two provinces had accepted "in principle" the Dominion-Provincial relation proposals made in the budget. He did not name the provinces.

Mr. Ilsley, speaking in reply to a question by P. C. Black (PC-Cumberland), said in addition to the two provinces which had accepted one had requested further clarification and that had been provided. Others had acknowledged receipt of the new Federal proposals.

The replies of the provinces would be tabled later.

Mother Cabrini Proclaimed A Saint

By FRANK BRUTTO

VATICAN CITY, July 8—(AP)—The bells of Rome's churches rang out yesterday proclaiming the sainthood of the Blessed Mother Frances Xavier Cabrini. Ceremonies rich in pageantry and religious symbolism in St. Peter's Basilica brought to a close the process of canonization by which for the first time a citizen of the United States was elevated to sainthood in the Roman Catholic Church.

The impressive rites began at 8.15 a.m., with more than 40,000 faithful from Rome and other parts of the world in attendance. Among the worshippers were nuns of the Missionary Sisters of the Sacred Heart, founded by Saint Frances Xavier — as she now will be called.

Mother Cabrini was born in Italy but went to the United States at an early age. She died in Chicago Dec. 22, 1917. Her order had established charitable institutions in many cities of the United States in London and Paris and in Buenos Aires and Rio de Janeiro.

At 8.45 a.m., the Pope was borne into the Basilica upon his portable throne at the head of a cortege of cardinals and other high church functionaries.

Failure Of Government To Reduce Taxes, Cut Expenditure Condemned

OTTAWA, July 8 — (CP) — Opposition spokesmen, firing the opening guns in the budget speech debate, today criticized the Government for offering only meagre tax relief, for failing to cut expenditures sufficiently and for leaving the country's peacetime economy to the "blind blundering of chance."

J. M. Macdonnell (PC-Muskoka-Ont.), chief financial critic of the Progressive Conservative opposition, set off the barrage in a 9,000-word speech in which he stressed the "unreality of the budget." There was unreality in the new proposed deferred tax relief, in the facing of deficits, in the failure to accentuate production and in the failure to make a concentrated attack "on the citadel of extravagance."

Non-Confidence Motion

He concluded his criticism by moving a motion of non-confidence in the government. The motion called on the House to express regret that the budget provided no tax relief until 1947, that it gave no indication of any serious attempt to eliminate extravagance, and that the policies of the government were discouraging production.

Angus MacInnis (CCF-Vancouver East) acting leader of the C.C.F. party, and Solon Low, Social Credit leader, followed Mr. Macdonnell.

Mr. MacInnis said the budget looked "back to yesterday, not forward to tomorrow." It contained no indication that the government was prepared to prevent the economy of the country from going back to what it was in the thirties. There was no proposal to bridge the gap between the investments needed for full employment and those private enterprise is prepared for.

"Blind Blundering"

"The country that could plan so well for war is left in peace-time to the blind blundering of chance," said Mr. MacInnis.

He also moved a motion of want-of-confidence in the government. It criticized the government for failing to increase income exemptions sufficiently, for failing to provide for public investment to assure full employment, for failing to provide for social security measures in the offer to the Provinces, and for failing to recognize co-operatives as non-profit-making organizations.

Mr. Low said the budget as a whole had been a "great disappointment" to Canadians who had worked and sacrificed during the war. He said the government had failed to meet the needs of lower income groups in raising income tax exemptions for single persons from $660 to $750 and married persons from $1,200 to $1,500.

Exemptions should have been placed at $1,200 and $2,000 with tax bonds providing the difference in revenue. The bonds could be

Scout-Guide Campaign Off To Good Start

The Boy Scout-Girl Guide Financial Campaign to raise $10,000 to carry on their work in this province got away to a splendid start yesterday when a donation of $500.00 was received from the firm of DeBlois Bros. Ltd. through the Hon. G. D. DeBlois.

Collectors in charge of the special names division of the campaign under the co-chairmanship of Mr. P. R. McCormick and Mrs. Louis Sadler are expected to launch the drive proper today. A joint appeal to the public to support these two worth while youth organizations by Mrs. Helen Y. Reay, provincial commissioner for the Girl Guides, and Major N. W. Lowther, M.M., provincial president of the Boy Scouts Association, appears elsewhere in this issue.

The immediate objects for the financial campaign have been outlined by the Rev. Sidney J. Davies, field commissioner for the Boy Scouts, and are as follows:

British Goods In Improved Position

OTTAWA, July 8—(CP)— The 10 per cent loss in the value of the British pound in terms of the Canadian dollar as a result of the dollar being brought into parity with the American dollar will give certain British goods an improved competitive position in the Canadian market and much depends on what extent the British exporters will have goods to take advantage of the change, trade experts said here today.

Most of the products Canada is shipping to Britain such as wheat, bacon, and cheese are priced in Canadian dollars and the change will not affect the returns to the Canadian producer. These products, however, will cost 10 per cent more in terms of sterling.

As Canada's loan to Britain is in terms of Canadian dollars, the loan will not be "worn out" any sooner with the higher value of the dollar and as the time for repayment is so long delayed the amount it will cost Britain to repay the loan will depend on the rates of exchange at that time rather than now.

For a time after the war British exporters found it impossible to produce certain types of goods that could be sold under the Canadian price ceiling. To meet this situation they were allowed in on a production cost basis and often sold higher than somewhat similar goods made in Canada and under the ceiling.

Such British goods found the competition difficult but with the greater premium on the Canadian dollar, the returns to the British manufacturer in sterling will be correspondingly increased and may enable him to meet Canadian prices.

Persons in Canada receiving remittances in sterling will find themselves 10 per cent worse off than before the value of the dollar was increased.
