Medals Awarded For Bravery

The school house at Clearmont, Prince County, was filled to overflowing on Monday evening on the occasion of the presentation of a bronze medal and certificate respectively to parties for conspicuous bravery and life saving presented by the Royal Canadian Humane Association of Hamilton, Ontario.

Mr. F. A. Driscoll was called to the chair and asked His Honour, Judge Inman, to present the awards, which were acknowledged by the recipients in fitting terms.

The two men who were rescued, namely, Mr. Hopgood Rayner and Gordon Dalziel, spoke very feelingly of the pluck of their rescuers, and especially of Mr. Kelly who is quite elderly and who at a great risk to his own life saved theirs.

ANNUAL C.W.L. CONVENTION THIS WEEK

The eleventh annual Diocesan Convention of the Catholic Women's League of the diocese of Charlottetown will be held in Charlottetown opening Thursday, July 13th, at one o'clock p. m. in the Knights of Columbus Hall, Queen St. Delegates are expected from the twenty-two sub-divisions on the Island and an excellent program has been arranged by Mrs. Jos. Creamer, Diocesan President.

Friday morning the sessions will open at 9 o'clock when the district sub-divisions will present their reports and again at 2 p. m. Social service, relief work, educational assistance, libraries, health service will be some of the subjects under discussion and much progress is expected along the line of catechetical instruction and young people's activities.

Friday evening at 8 o'clock in Rochford Square Hall the public meeting will be held at which addresses will be delivered by His Excellency Bishop O'Sullivan and Reverend Dr. Terence Campbell of Alberton. The Diocesan President, Mrs. Creamer, will present a report of the National Convention held in Quebec June 12-17, and Miss Florence Dorsey will preside.

Representatives of the provincial and civil governments are expected to be present as well as His Honour Lt. Governor Dalton. Musical numbers will be furnished by the Corpus Christi Choir under the direction of Mr. W. J. Brown.

An interesting feature of the program will be the public investiture of Mrs. W. J. MacIntyre, past national president, with the papal decoration, the medal "Pro Ecclesia et Pontifice" recently conferred upon her by His Holiness Pius XI. This will be done by Bishop O'Sullivan and it is expected that many of the Diocesan clergy, among them Rt. Rev. Monsignor Maurice MacDonald, Diocesan Chaplain, will be also present.

It is the first time this decoration has ever been awarded an Island woman, only six other living Canadian women having, this honor, the highest that can be given a woman other than a queen by the Catholic Church.

Saturday morning at 8.30 o'clock High Mass will be celebrated at the Basilica by His Excellency the Bishop, which the delegates will attend and at which a special sermon will be preached.

Resuming business the convention will hold its election, pass resolutions and other routine business and will also be addressed by Bishop O'Sullivan on Diocesan works.

The complete agenda will be published later and all are looking forward to a very successful convention, which though being held earlier in the year than formerly, bids fair to be the largest ever held. This is the fifth time this convention has been held in Charlottetown and the local ladies are working hard to make it a successful one.

LECTURE

The work of archaeologists has done much to give us, in clay tablet and cylinder, the Babylonian side of many accounts of battles and deeds that we know from the Hebrew point of view in the Bible. Among the great kings were Sennacherib, Esarhaddon and Assurbanipal, all of whom did much in the way of conquest, city building, and the making of records and libraries. It is interesting to know that there existed a special business library four thousands years ago. The books were not of paper but of tablets of clay incised with a wedge-shaped stylus that gave the name cuneiform to the writing. There were also temple and palace libraries, and Assurbanipal in particular collected not only the archives of his own country but sent scribes into other lands to collect and translate their books and place them in his magnificent library.

The lecturer showed how the writing of the Babylonians was like that of the Egyptians, originally pictorial in character, but rapidly changed to symbols on account of the limitations of their writing materials.

The literary remains of the Babylonians is varied and includes maps, documents, laws, dictionaries, record of temple payments, omens, plans, prayers, and historical record. The two most interesting groups of tablets deal with the Babylonian story of Creation, in which the struggle between Tiamat and Marduk was recounted, and the story of the Deluge, which bears a remarkable resemblance to the account of Noah and his ark. The subject of the lecture tonight will be the Greeks and Romans and their books.

IN MEMORIAM

MICHAEL J. JOHNSTONE

The following is taken from the "Prince George Citizen" of the 29th of June:

Michael Johnstone who for the past four months has been manager of the Prince George Hotel, passed away in the City Hospital on Friday morning following a brief illness.

The deceased was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry Johnstone of Halifax. He received his early education in England and returning to Canada entered his business training in a bank in Charlottetown, Prince Edward Island, while Walter Hornsby manager of the local branch of the Royal Bank of Canada was starting on his career.

Mr. Johnstone did not remain very long with the bank, giving it up to enter the Federal Government Service, where for many years he was engaged in the immigration services of the Dominion at various points in the United States. He settled in Vancouver about three years ago. Coming from there to Prince George. He is survived by his widow, formerly Miss Louise Dawson, daughter of the late Mr. W. E. Dawson a former Mayor of the City of Charlottetown, two brothers, Henry, City Engineer for Halifax, and Martin, barrister at Lethbridge, besides a sister, Mother Johnstone, of the Sacred Heart Convent in St. Louis, Missouri.

The funeral services on Tuesday were conducted by the Rev. S. Pollinger of St. Michael's Anglican Church. The pall bearers being Judge Robertson, John Stott, Charles S. Wsenden, Dr. Hugh Dickey, Harry Bowman, and William Corbett. The remains were forwarded to Vancouver on the evening train, accompanied by Mrs. Johnstone. During their brief stay in the city, the deceased and Mrs. Johnstone, made a host of friends whose sympathy is extended to Mrs. Johnstone in her bereavement.

Discovers Fine Specimens Of Horologists' Art

An interesting visitor to Charlottetown yesterday was Mr. John J. Lightstone, of Outremont, Montreal. Mr. Lightstone has as his hobby the collecting, classifying, and assorting the historical significance of watches. His interest in horology arises out of his love for art, and the fact that it is today a lost art. All of the watches in his collection of over four hundred pieces have been made by hand. The horologists of those days was a master craftsman who spent many years as an apprentice before being allowed to join the watchmakers' guild. This guild, previous to 1630 was not distinct from that of the blacksmiths, but in that year Charles I granted them a separate charter.

The high regard the people of that time had for these geniuses is evident when it is recalled that two of their number, Thomas Thompson 1638-1730, and George Graham 1673-1751, are buried in Westminster Abbey.

Mr. Lightstone has been collecting rare specimens of their work for twenty-nine years, and claims to be the only authority in Canada on all branches of horology since the death of Mr. J. Sutcliffe Smith of St. Catherine's, Ont. It is Mr. Lightstone's intention, when his collection is complete, to donate it to Canada if the Federal Government will open a Horological Museum.

While in Summerside recently, Mr. Lightstone obtained an exceedingly fine specimen of 18th century horology from Mr. H. R. Crockett made by Donald McIntosh of London, England. The entire balance plate is made of a single piece of gold beautifully decorated by the engraver's art.

In Charlottetown he added another piece to his collection, an English Verge, made by T. Jones, London, in 1673. This watch is driven by a chain so fine, the individual links can scarcely be discerned with the naked eye. This watch was obtained from W. N. Tanton's. Mr. Lightstone was fortunate in discovering another Verge of G. H. Taylor's. It was the work of A. Franklin, Liverpool, England. The decoration was put on by the fire gilding process which was the method used prior to our electroplating process. The balance plate of this watch is pierced by over 100 holes in a uniform pattern, and decorated in great detail.

STRAWBERRY CROP BELOW EXPECTATIONS

While there was an increased acreage of strawberries producing this year, a number of factors combined to reduce the yield far below expectations, reports Mr. Richard Creed, of the Dominion Fruit and Vegetable Branch.

"There was considerable increase in the acreage of strawberries in the Province this year," Mr. Creed states. At the same time there were some growers who did not have their plants properly protected and as a result the plants suffered considerable winter killing. Some growers have reported that they were having extremely poor yields and upon investigation of causes, it was found the plants were badly infected by mildew. It is believed that this is the first time the disease appeared in this Province.

As a whole the season has been unfavourable for the development and ripening of berries due to the fact that we have had a dry season with very cool nights. The present indications are that we have many disappointed growers, who had anticipated a full crop. During the last few days growers have realized that the crop is very materially falling short of expectations. It is only a matter of a few days till the strawberry season in this province will have passed for another year.

"The price of berries has been fair in comparison with other commodities. At present they are selling for 2 boxes for 25c. The prices are always controlled by supply and demand and it is possible that in a few days the good berries will command a higher price than at present."

FILLERS—Centre-forward—"Gosh I could kick myself for missing that penalty." Captain—"Better let me do it—you might miss again."
