MacNutt, speaking at Rotary yesterday said: "The Legion tried to improve upon the government's present system of wage fixing but will not meet the demands necessary to carry on total war, and it is the necessity of immediate, complete and scientific mobilization, organization and utilization of all our resources, spiritual, intellectual, natural, financial, agricultural, industrial and manpower in such a manner that Canada may be geared to produce essential foods and munitions and to wage war to her maximum capacity." Major MacNutt pointed out that all such workers were protected against accident during outbreaks as regards compensation. Hon. H. H. Toronto-New York Trans-Canada Line TORONTO, Ont., Jan. 12.—A general revision of schedules in Trans-Canada Air Lines' non-stop international service between Toronto and New York city is announced. The importance of the two-hour flight is emphasized in these days of national stress as being demonstrated daily by the number of passengers and amount of air mail carried in connection with the war effort of the two great democracies, and the fact that Washington and Ottawa are only a few hours apart by air.

Find death of 15 men in fire Was accidental SHIPSHAW, Que., Jan. 12.—(C.P.)—Deaths of 15 men in a construction camp fire early Sunday morning was accidental, a coroner's jury decided today after hearing 12 witnesses at the inquest today. The jury conferred for 10 minutes after evidence had been completed, and then brought in its verdict. A rider suggested that the number of watchmen at the camp be increased from one to three, and that water pressure in the fire mains be increased. A short time after the jury's verdict, the last of the bodies was identified and an official recapitulation listed 15 dead and 13 still in hospital, two of them believed dying. Previously, only 12 bodies had been definitely identified, with three listed as missing. Positive identification of the remaining bodies, accounted for all of the 92 men who used the building as sleeping quarters. A first identification list, in mid-afternoon, had placed Charles McCord, Montreal, as dead, but a later announcement said that he was safe. With all the men accounted for, the death list was: David Lacoste, Val d'Or, Que.; V. Italiano, Montreal; George Segue, Montreal; Clayton Ross, Blackville, N. B.; August Svensson, Montreal; Jean F. Godin, Scottstown, Que.; Leo d'Amours, Trois Pistoles, Que.; Alme Champagne, St. Pierre, Que.; Eugene Gauthier, St. Joseph d'Alma, Que.; Henri Gignac, St. Christine, Que.; Henri Paquin, St. Christine; George Beauchamp, Joliette, Que.; Peter Kowitz, Montreal; Joseph Gougeon, Montreal, and Alphonse Nadeau, Montreal. At today's inquest, Fire Chief Marcel Dusot of Shishaw said that small fires had started at the huge construction camp on "many previous occasions" through the carelessness of the occupants of the huts. Chief Dusot testified that a water main had broken during the fire, dropping water pressure from a normal 50 pounds to 35 pounds. The large double, "H" shaped hut, with 92 single rooms arranged in wings joined by long passages, burned with lightning speed shortly after midnight Sunday. It was one of a group housing 2,000 workers at the construction company of Canada construction workers at Shishaw.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—(AP)—Overturning administration legislation the United States Senate voted 54 to 31 Saturday to raise the limits on farm prices before wartime controls could apply—action opponents charged might boost food prices 25 per cent. Adopting an amendment by Senator Joseph O'Mahoney (Dem., Wyoming) to the pending price control bill, the chamber voted to link farm prices to urban wages by revising upward present basic "parity" levels. These revisions would be effective only for price-fixing purposes. The revised O'Mahoney amendment also restored to the bill a provision previously eliminated by the Senate banking committee, providing that no price ceiling should be fixed on farm commodities which was below the 1919-29 average price of those products.

Kuala Lumpur (Continued from page 1) to move into shelters. People were visibly heartened by the familiar whistling roar of the R.A.F.'s Brewster Buffalo fighters overhead and the absence of bombs in the town area gave spirits a boost.

British headquarters said severe fighting continues in the Selangor area, although "our troops have been withdrawn to positions north of Seremban."

On the north-south railroad to Singapore and a connecting line of 24 miles to Port Dickson, the nearest harbor, Seremban is 35 miles southeast of Kuala Lumpur which is second only to Singapore itself as Malaya's biggest city.

The new line has been established in that region and Japanese assaults are being resisted, the war bulletin said, acknowledging that the withdrawal had been carried out under the pressure of enemy pursuit and repeated air attacks.

Neither anchor of the slanting British line across the Malay peninsula was fixed precisely by the British communiqué. It apparently stretched, however, from the west coast at a point slightly north of Seremban northeast to the vicinity of Kuantan, on the opposite side, 160 miles from Singapore.

The line, once the two thirds of the peninsula had fallen to the invaders, who now have entered another state, Negri Sembilan, which is bordered on the south by Johore, the last before the narrow causeway to the Malay peninsula from Singapore Island with its city of Singapore, its docks, airfields and fortifications forming the great naval bastion at the far eastern crossroads of the British Empire.

British headquarters said Seremban was bombed by the Japanese communications there had been severed, but that damage to road and rail lines on the southwest Malay coast, also was attacked, the communiqué said and a small ship was sunk in its harbor.

Japanese bombers which have made Singapore a daily target appeared over the island again several times today, but the communiqué said preliminary reports indicated no damage and only two casualties.

British fighters and anti-aircraft batteries battled Japanese planes here and at many scattered places in southern Malaya.

Dr. B. C. Keeping reported on the result of the annual Christmas Seal sale, announcing the gratifying news that it had exceeded last year by a good margin. Through an oversight in last week's report of the annual meeting of the Gyro Club, the name of Mr. A. G. Hogan was inadvertently omitted from the list of speakers.

Dr. Hogan expressed a desire to be relieved of office, but the directors reluctant to lose the services of so valuable a member prevailed upon Mr. Hogan to accept the position of chairman of the fellowship committee. Mr. Hogan's associate on this committee will be Mr. J. Gordon MacDonald. Ex-Gyro Jack Cameron was a guest.

C.W.A.A.F. Officers Entitled to salute

OTTAWA, Jan. 12.—(C.P.)—Officials drew attention tonight to regulations of the Canadian Women's Army Corps and the Canadian Women's Auxiliary Air Force in hope of simplifying the saluting problem for both women recruits and members of the armed forces.

Saluting, previously considered a moderately simple operation, a creature of respect to senior officers and the King's commission became a matter of confusion with the entry of women into recognized uniformed formations.

There is such a thing as a "courtesy salute" but actually the answer to this saluting problem is carefully laid out in regulations of the C.W.A.A.C. and C.W.A.A.F.

The C.W.A.A.F. is not an auxiliary but a part of the Royal Canadian Air Force. Its officers hold the King's commission just as R. C. A. F. officers do and are therefore entitled to the salutes of senior officers and officers of lower rank, as well as soldiers, sailors, and officers of lower rank in the other fighting forces.

The C.W.A.C. as an auxiliary to the army requires its members to salute only C.W.A.C. officers and army officers connected with the administration of the C.W.A.C.

Men of the armed forces are not required to salute members of the C.W.A.C. but may give courtesy salutes if they desire. Members of the C.W.A.C. may return courtesy salutes.

It was said that the Netherlands high command was confident it could keep the Japanese from over-running its valuable East Indies possessions, and that if any of the islands are abandoned "we shall leave the Japanese only completely destroyed oil fields which they will be unable to use for a considerable time."
