the only redeeming feature of his series of letters is that even judges disagree on points of law. as brought to my attention by a letter published by Judge Stowart a horse while back after one of his decisions had been reversed by a Higher Court, therefore why should the judgement of this lone "Traveller" be taken as final.

VISITS PARENTS.-Sister Mari-stella daughter of Conductor John and Mrs. Hughes, 61 Pownall Street City, spent a pleasant afternoon with her parents Friday, January 18. Sister Mari-stella who was on her first visit after three years spent in Mt. St. Mary's Novitiate was accompanied by the Rev. Mother Superior of the Novitiate. SUPREME COURT.-At the Supreme Court yesterday before Mr. Justice Hazard and jury the case of Beowall Carver vs Julia Carver administratrix, and others, came up for trial. The parties belong to Mount Albion and Cherry Valley. The action is on a promissory note for $108.00 in favor of the late Francis Forbes in which the plaintiff claims was endorsed over to her for value, his contention being that he had built a house for the deceased. The defendant who was administratrix of the late Mr. Forbes denies that the note was endorsed. The parties liable on the note have paid the money into the court to abide a result of the trial. Adjudgment was made until 10.30 a.m. today. In the case of the Royal Bank of Canada vs Jerry P. Gauthier, action on a promissory note a verdict was given Monday for the defendant Sylvano Desroches was admitted as a student in law in the office of Messrs Gaudet and Hazard.

Here is a chance for "Traveller" to put his "John Hancock" to the test. He has a greater knack of contradicting himself than any man I have read across. On Nov 8th he was wrong in making the train crew for not making faster time and today Jan 19th, he makes a flip flop and says: "Since the coming in of the operation of the broad gage, our road has become a MENACE NOT ONLY TO THE PASSENGERS AND 'TRAIN HANDS'."

DEBATING SOCIETY - The Mount Stewart Social Club held its first debate of the season Thursday night, the 17th inst, and judging by the number that were present, young and old, it certainly must meet with approval. The subject for discussion was, Resolved that the Dreamer is a greater benefit to the world than the Practical man. Mr. George Clark opened for the affirmative, and Mr. H. P. Pechan for the negative, and were ably supported by the following speakers, Pro: Ray Smallwood, Harvey Douglas and Geddie Douglas; Con: Aeneas McDonald, Ira Douglas. The Rev. Mr. Palethorpe taking no particular sides, made it all the more interesting, as he brought out in a very pleasing manner, the great benefits derived from both Dreamer and Practical man. Mr. Arthur Coffin who acted chairman after hearing both sides so ably discussed, decided the question by calling on the audience, and after taking the count of raised hands, announced that the Practical man had "won the day."

(Sgd.) J. O. HYNDMAN No. 4. To D. Nicholson, M. P. House of Commons, Ottawa. "If no better solution arrived at night suggest for consideration that special train leave Sackville about six a. m. each morning bringing passengers to Ocean Limb previous day. Car Ferry leave Borden first trip about seven a.m. returning immediately. Passengers would then be given time and opportunity to connect same day for all parts Island."

"Traveller" was President of the Charlottetown Board of Trade in 1914, but after receiving that honor, and his term expired, he evidently forgot that he had not accomplished all. He surely has been "travelling" somewhere and has
