Tourist Conference Opens At Ottawa

OTTAWA, Nov. 7 (CP)—Meetings of the fourth annual Dominion-Provincial conference on the tourist trade opened here today with all provinces except Newfoundland represented. The sessions conclude Wednesday. The delegation from the latter Province, headed by Premier Smallwood, was grounded by bad weather and unable to reach the Capital in time for the start of the meetings. Today's sessions were closed to the press. Future sessions will be public and open also to non-government delegates representing transportation companies and the Canadian Tourist Association. Dr. Leo Dolan, chief of the Canadian Government Travel Bureau, said one of the main decisions made at today's session was to "take inventory" of Canada's tourist facilities.

Soviets Move To Tighten Grip On Eastern Europe

BERLIN, Nov. 7 (AP)—Russia today installed Soviet military chiefs in two top jobs in an effort to insure that no one challenges her grip on Eastern Europe. This is the interpretation placed by Western military men of the appointments of Marshal Konstantin Rokossovsky of the Soviet Army as Polish Minister of Defense and Gen. Vasily Chuikov as chief of the Soviet Control Commission for Eastern Germany. The moves place two of Russia's prominent soldiers on the front where Soviet troops rub elbows with Western troops, and among the direct lines of communications with that front.

Guided Missiles Bases Planned In The Bahamas

NASSAU, The Bahamas, Nov. 7 (CP)—Guided missile bases are to be established by the United States on one of the Bahamas Islands off the Florida coast. The disclosure was made in the Bahamas Legislature today when a bill was approved waiving customs duties on materials used by the United States Government to establish guided missile bases.

The bill also revealed that the U.S. was sending experts to the Grand Bahama shortly to carry out preliminary experiments. There was no further word immediately available on the extent or role of the bases and it was not clear whether they are for operational or for training purposes.

Surplus Dairy Products Being Used For Relief

OTTAWA, Nov. 7 (CP)—A big chunk of Canadian dairy surplus bought by the Government, is going into the form of relief to feed distressed fishermen in Quebec villages near Labrador. This was disclosed today in an Agricultural Department report tabled in the Commons at the request of Minister Stewart (CCF-Winnipeg North). The report made public for the first time the Government's exact holdings of creamery butter. At Oct. 31 it was 47,094,658 pounds, out of a total 72,222,000 pounds in storage at that date. The Government has spent more than $30,000,000 for its storage holdings of 10,300,000 pounds of dry skim milk, 6,243,587 pounds of cheese and butter. The figures are for Oct. 1. Storage charges so far total about $350,000. The report said the Government had made arrangements with the Quebec Government to ship 20,194 pounds of creamery butter, 35,000 pounds of skim milk and 8,139 pounds of cheese to feed the distressed fishing villages. There was no indication whether the Government was paid for the shipments.

Pope Pius Gives Advice To Judges On Divorce

ROME, Nov. 7 (AP)—Roman Catholic judges throughout the world have been told by Pope Pius to beware of granting divorces which would break up marriages "valid before God and the Church." The Pontiff referred to his remarks, made to a group of Italian Roman Catholic jurists yesterday, as a statement of "fundamental norms." Thus, legal sources said, the Pope meant his words to be taken as guidance, rather than as a statement which would carry the weight of Roman Catholic law. Competent observers said that, whether Roman Catholic judges were considering Protestant or Roman Catholic marriages, the Pope's words would carry the same moral force. These sources said that the Roman Catholic Church, while it rules that its communicants must be married in its faith, considers marriages of non-Roman Catholics valid when performed in other faiths. The Pope's remarks were made public today. He cautioned Roman Catholic jurists that they have grave responsibility in the application of laws which prove contrary to Christian concepts. He said the responsibility is even graver if the decision should cause "a public scandal." This may have been directed particularly at strengthening the will of Roman Catholics who still are active in the law in Communist-controlled countries such as Czechoslovakia, where the Government has just promulgated Church control legislation.

Abbott Safe From Rental Boost

OTTAWA, Nov. 7 (CP)—Finance Minister Abbott, who announced boosts of 20 and 25 per cent on rental ceilings last Thursday, won't feel the pinch himself for at least two years. The lease on his five-room Sandy Hill apartment had expired earlier this year. He arranged to renew it for another two years at the rate of $150 monthly—long before the rental boosts were announced.

Tenants Organize To Oppose Rent Boosts

MONTREAL, Nov. 7 (CP)—A central office to organize tenant opposition to the recently announced 20-25 per cent rental increases, will be opened shortly here, the Montreal Tenants Association said today. Clarence Rosenhek, legal adviser for the Association, largest organization of rent payers here, said that no organized protest had been made to date by rent payers. But, he said, an office would be set up sometime this week to form headquarters for those protesting the increases, with the purpose of forwarding the protests to the proper quarters in Ottawa.

Estimate Rentals Boost May Affect 4 Million

(By Harold Morrison) OTTAWA, Nov. 7 (CP)—The boost in rental ceilings which comes into effect 10 days before Christmas will hit some 4,000,000 Canadians living in rented rooms, apartments and houses, Government officials estimated today. The report showed that the 20 and 25 per cent increases in rents. Other Government estimates: 1. In most cases, however, the rental increases will not go into effect before Feb. 1, 1950. Tenants renting on a monthly basis will have to receive a month's notice as from Dec. 31. 2. Some of this type of accommodation is rented on a weekly and not a monthly basis and that means that only a week's notice—not a month—will be given by the landlord. 3. In most cases, however, the rental increases will not go into effect before Feb. 1, 1950. Tenants renting on a monthly basis will have to receive a month's notice as from Dec. 31. 4. If the Government had lifted the controls completely to meet the wishes of Canada's landlords, urban rentals in the big cities would have increased by approximately 100 per cent. 5. Taking into consideration both rural and urban areas, the new ceilings generally are considered to be about 25 per cent below the level which would prevail if the regulations had been removed completely. The officials emphasized that accommodation constructed since Jan. 1, 1947, does not come under the Government's controls and therefore the increases do not apply. The same thing applies to accommodation vacated on or after Nov. 1, 1948. Tenants with long-term leases would not be affected by the rental increases until the leases expire.

16 Canadian Boy Scouts Decorated For Bravery

OTTAWA, Nov. 7 (CP)—Nine-year-old Wayne Morris Crowell of Turin, N.S., today cycled his heels smartly, and bowed as Canada's Governor-General bent over and pinned the blue ribbon of the Silver Cross on his khaki shirt. The Wolf Cub was the youngest of 16 members of the Boy Scouts Association to be decorated at a ceremony, house investiture, during the ceremony, more than 60 veterans or their next-of-kin, also received awards for wartime gallantry. The coveted Silver Cross—one of the top awards in the Boy Scouts Association, "for gallantry with considerable risk"—went to the Nova Scotian lad for a "good deed" a few months ago. He rescued a young boy who had fallen into a pond near his home. Three other Scouts received a similar award. Sixteen-year-old John Roubie of Windsor, Ont., won his for rescuing a companion from drowning in the Welland River. Those decorated with the Silver Wolf included Eli Boyaner, Saint John, N.B., for services as Scoutmaster

Little New In Equipment Is Reported

But One Million Persons Parade In Red Square To Mark Revolution.

MOSCOW, Nov. 7 (AP)—Soviet Russia today saluted the 1917 revolution with a traditional military demonstration and a parade of a million persons through Red Square. Maj. E. K. Walters, acting American air attaché, said the military show included "a fine display of first-line air equipment." But foreign military observers agreed the Russians had put less emphasis than usual on the military side of the observance of the 32nd anniversary. Prime Minister Stalin's son, Lt. Gen. Vasily Stalin, led a squadron of fighter planes over the square in a procession that included 22 four-engined bombers and 91 jet fighters. L. H. Randall, Canadian air attaché, commented that "I saw very little new and certainly less emphasis on the military angle." The military parade, formed by Moscow garrison troops and led by major drum and cymbal bands, began after 11 a.m. and was over before 11 a.m. It was viewed by Marshal Alexander M. Vlasov, Minister of Foreign Affairs, and by a group of Soviet leaders. These leaders were headed by Vice-Premier V.M. Molotov, former Foreign Minister, and Gen. Georgii Malenkov, who yesterday threatened in an anniversary speech that a new world blood bath would spell the end of capitalism. A parade of workers immediately followed the military demonstration. More than 1,000,000 marched through Red Square for five hours. At the end, 20 artillery salvos were fired in salute. In an order of the day Vlasov said that "the military and political war-riors are meeting provocations, spies and their loyal lackeys, the right-wing Socialists and the left-wing Trotskyists for aggression and a new war." He called on the armed forces to "constantly improve their military skill" and stand everlastingly on guard.
