The advance, leaders said, left the troops facing the Basques' triple line of trenches, part of Bilbao's last ring of defence fortifications.

Amorebieta, which previously was reported unofficially as burned, was seen to be more or less intact but it was believed the Basques had left.

PLAN OFFENSIVE

BILBAO, May 17—(AP)—The General Staff of the Spanish Government's Eastern Army drew up plans tonight for a quick offensive on the Catalan front in an effort to divert Insurgent pressure from Bilbao.

Telegram published here revealed Basque President Juan Antonio Aguirre had wired Luis Companys, Catalan President, for such indirect aid to his forces "within eight days". Companys replied the General Staff of the Eastern Army was already drawing up plans to carry out the request.

Meanwhile Bilbao, bound in by the Insurgent ring for 47 days, picked 4,000 non-combatants for evacuation to France.

Thick weather today protected the beleaguered city from Insurgent planes but outside the city the Basques watched their foe bomb Amorebieta, 10 miles southeast of Bilbao.

The Basque Government said a document found on one German prisoner listed 30 German pilots who were flying daily over the front.

Later she was summoned by Mrs. MacKnight's husband, Edgar, when he came home from work and found his wife's body, Mrs. Feury testified.

She told how she found the body lying in blood, and beside it, a package of ham and pork from the delicatessen—the delayed dinner which the state charges threw Gladys into a slaying mood.

10 years. It is unlikely they now would be willing to accept the British obligation to France and Belgium.

Great Britain and the Dominions are separate members of the League of Nations. They are all bound by the provisions of the League's Covenant. But their attitude toward collective security under the Covenant differs.

Australia already has submitted one concrete proposal to the conference which may bear fruit. It is the conclusion of a Pacific Ocean non-aggression pact. Under the proposal Great Britain, New Zealand, Canada, Japan, the United States, Russia and France, all of whom are vitally interested in the Pacific, would take part in a conference, probably at Tokyo, to negotiate a "regional understanding pact of non-aggression."

Melbourne press comments on the proposal indicate that "regional understanding" would carry with it the obligation to give military help in the event of an attack on any member agreeing to it.

attacked her son," he said.

"Mrs. Tierman said she took the children to Brookhaven Sunday morning," he said. "She had with her a small bottle of gasoline which she threw over the bodies of the children after she killed the daughter and cut her son's throat."

Morris said that after covering the bodies of her children with leaves and setting them afire, Mrs. Tierman went to Jones Beach, a third of the way to New York on the south shore of Long Island.

There, according to Morris, she met her "boy friend."

"I met George at Jones Beach," Morris quoted her. "We stayed at the beach until night when he returned to New York."

A Brookhaven high school girl, walking through the woods to her home, stumbled over the dead girl's body. Frightened, she ran for aid, and searching officers found Jimmy, his throat cut and his head bruised.

Jimmy was reported out of danger tonight.

KENSINGTON

A most enjoyable evening was spent in the King George hall at Kensington, on May 11th, when a banquet was held celebrating the auspicious occasion of the 10th anniversary of the Kelvin Grove Women's Institute.

The hall was attractively decorated in Coronation colors. The tables were prettily trimmed with flags, and covers were laid for 100 guests including the members of the Institute, their husbands or gentlemen friends. All the former members were especially invited to be present. After a sumptuous supper the President of the Institute Mrs. William Casly presided while the following program was carried out.

Instrumental music, Mrs. Edward MacMurdo, Piano. Mr. Arnold Walker, accordion. Toast to our new King George VI, responded to by singing God Save The King. Toast to our Dominion of Canada responded to by singing O Canada. Toast to the Women's Institute, proposed by Mrs. David Murphy was responded to by Mrs. John Walker by giving the history of Kelvin Grove Institute.

The evening closed with the singing of "Shout and Acclamation Be Forgot" and "Good-night Ladies", after which the gathering dispersed on the high note of happiness and satisfaction. Following is the History of the Kelvin Grove Institute as read:—

HISTORY OF KELVIN GROVE INSTITUTE

For a long time the women of Kelvin felt they would like to see an Institute organized in the community which finally resulted in the ladies getting together on Monday afternoon, May 9, 1927 in the school room, to organize what is known as the Kelvin Grove Institute, No. 138. Miss Jane MacKenzie, assistant supervisor at that time, was present and organized and supplied the necessary literature and instruction.

It was with courage and trembling we began this work, but were much encouraged by the interest and willingness of those present to do their part.

The officers appointed at this meeting were as follows:—President, Mrs. Harold Laird. Vice President, Mrs. Marion Stavert. Secretary, Miss Ann MacLellan. Treasurer, Mrs. Bertha Walker. Directors, Mrs. John Stavert, Mrs. W. A. MacMurdo, Miss Fanny Glover. Auditors, Miss Marion Casely, Miss Etta Stavert.

Twenty (20) members were enrolled as charter members.

Our meetings have always been held at the homes of the members, on the first Tuesday of each month. Our chief activities are centered around the school-room. Among the articles procured for the school are a library and book-case, lunch cupboard, set in wash bowl, water bucket, kettle, dishonary, globe, "Drive Slow" sign boards, maps, window blinds. Had we means of Douglass fir put around the interior of school room. Paid half the expense of painting outside of school. An honor roll of former teachers had been nicely painted, framed and hung in the school room. Have always given the school children a treat at Christmas and school closing. Have the school room thoroughly cleaned during vacation, and scrubbed whenever needed. We procured window boxes in which we plant flowers and also have begun a perennial flower border.

Contributions have been made of twenty-five dollars ($25.00 yearly); five dollars ($5.00) yearly toward the Carnegie Library. Donations to the Prince County Hospital of money, quilts, blankets. To the Protestant Orphanage of money, knitting and clothing. Also helped toward the Red Cross Society. We have also given liberally at different times for charitable purposes. The sick in the community are always remembered with boxes of fruit. Our Institute also paid for toxoid, for inoculation of the school children against diphtheria.

To raise funds to carry on this work we have our membership fee, parlor socials, pantry sales, ice cream festivals, plays, special collections and a silver collection at each meeting. We also made an autograph quilt which gave us a neat sum. Every year since our Women's Institute was organized we have sent one or two delegates to the Institute convention in Charlottetown, and they have always brought back reports which are of much benefit to our club.

We have had several prominent persons to speak at our meetings on different subjects: Miss Mary Mill, Red Cross nurse, on Child Welfare; Miss Catherine MacLean, Junior Red Cross nurse, on crippled and deformed children; Miss Dorothy McKenna, Red Cross nurse on Home Nursing; Hon. A. E. MacLean, M.P., on Women's Rights; Rev. J. W. A. Nicholson, on Peace; Mr. John Cotton on Legislation; Miss Ethel Schurman, supervisor, also visited our Institute and gave a very helpful demonstration on preparing salads. Miss Fanny Glover, one of our members, also gave a very instructive demonstration on making paper flowers.

Miss Dorothy McKenna, Red Cross nurse was engaged by the Institute to give the members a course in home nursing, consisting of ten lessons on different subjects, jects, which was found very helpful.

Papers have been prepared by our convenors on all the subjects of the questionnaires. As in all societies we have had our dark days as well as our bright ones, but I am sure you will all agree with me that in looking back over the years that have passed we have much to be thankful for.

Only one of our members, in the person of the late Mrs. Archibald MacMurdo, has been removed by death, and has passed on to a higher service.

Seven of our members have been married, and have gone with us to make homes for themselves in other communities.

We try to be sociable and always have our cup of tea at the close of our meetings; a little gossip does no harm and often we tell our experiences, failures and successes in our different home-work. In this way we receive help from one another and it strengthens that bond of unity that has always existed among our members. The only way to become broad-minded is to love one another more, and to cultivate a true spirit of friendliness, and let us remember that now as never before our home and country need our inspiration and assistance.

Will not we as a part of the four thousand (4000) Institute members of this province unite in prayer for peace throughout the world, and do all in our power to bring about that glad day of peace and harmony. B

Russia Enlists Army Against "Saboteurs"

MOSCOW, May 17—(AP)—Russia enlisted her army of 1,300,000 men today in a fight against followers of Leon Trotsky and against "espionage and sabotage."

The Kremlin decree established supreme military councils to dominate the army in both its new task and its normal defence functions and to provide a check against army commanders.

The dominant army commander will be members of the new councils, but their orders must be countersigned by at least one other member of the council who will have close contact with the Communist Party.

Thus no single officer is in supreme command of troops, an action designed to minimize chances of any opposition developing within the army.

PARIS, May 17—Air Ministry officials, informed the United States Department of Commerce has refused to issue licenses for the projected New York to Paris trans-Atlantic air race, discussed today the possibility of shifting the North American takeoff to Canada.

The officials said a takeoff from Canada was being considered but added that no definite decision had been made and there was a chance the French government might bow to wishes of United States officials and call off the race entirely.

The Belfast talkie fans who had the pleasure of seeing the picture "Wings of the Morning" at the Prince Edward on the Coronation night are all loud in their praise of a wonderful evening spent at the end of a perfect day. —J.

Court Upholds New Deal Law

WASHINGTON, May 17—(AP)—The United States Supreme court stamped its approval today upon a new deal law which Treasury officials said would permit the Government to retain all but a fraction of the $963,000,000 it collected in taxes under the old, invalidated Agricultural Adjustment Act.

The court, with only Justice McReynolds dissenting, upheld provisions of the 1936 Revenue Act restricting refunds from collections under the invalidated processing and floor taxes.

In order to obtain refunds under the act, taxpayers must prove that the taxes were not passed on to consumers or others.

Treasury officials said the decision definitely abolished the government of responsibility for any claims except those meeting the strict requirements.

Oliver said he learned the Canadian Government planned a transcontinental air route from Vancouver to Halifax, to cut a cross Maine. He wrote the Governor no right of way should be given until Canada has given assurance marine traffic now shipped from Halifax and Saint John, N.B., would be restored to Portland, Me.

The congressman also has protested against giving a rail right of way across Maine for Canadian exports to be shipped from Halifax and Saint John, depriving Portland of the business that was formerly sent through that port.

asphalt plants can be removed at the present time and that expert knowledge regarding same should be obtained before taking on this expense." The resolution was moved by Coun. E. A. Foster, chairman of the Public Property Committee, and seconded by Coun. Henry Laphorne.

Last night's special meeting of the council followed a long cautious session. Resolutions regarding the street program and the City Asphalt plant passed with practically no discussion.

It was understood last night that the paving of the Victoria Park roadway, an estimated $40,000 project, would be deferred until later in the year, possibly in August. 25 per cent of the cost of the Park project, if it were undertaken, would be contributed by the Dominion Government and 25 per cent by the Provincial Government, Premier Campbell announced last week. The City would contribute the remaining 50 per cent.

Recommendation was made by the jury in the verdict, brought in after nearly two hours' deliberation, that all possible precautions be installed to prevent a similar accident in the future.

Evidence submitted said the Canadian National Railway did not have a derailing switch as a safety appliance at the point of the runaway, and that a derailer would have prevented the accident.
