Hugh Miller united in holy bonds of matrimony, Irma Margaret, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Seymour MacInnis, Cumberland Street, Charlottetown, to Corporal Louis Sydney Taylor of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police detachment in Alberton, Prince Edward Island, and formerly of England.

The bride looked very winsome in her gown of rust crepe with hat and accessories to match. She was attended by her friend, Miss Mabel MacInnis, Charlottetown, who looked very sweet in a gown of green crepe with hat and accessories to match. The groom was ably supported by the bride's eldest brother, Mr. Peter MacInnis, immediate after the marriage the happy young couple left amid showers of "confetti and rice" for the home of the bride's parents, where a dainty lunch was served to immediate relatives and friends. Before her marriage the bride was tendered numerous showers by her many friends, from which she received many beautiful and useful gifts.

The many friends of the happy couple wish them many years of wedded life.

Great-West Manager Reports Good Year

J. O. HYNDMAN,

Charlottetown Branch Manager of The Great-West Life Assurance Company, whose Annual Report found elsewhere in this issue, shows substantial progress during 1937 with gains in assets and business in force. Tuesday, February 1, is the date of the 46th Annual General Meeting of the Company.

Saint Dunstan's Credit Union Meeting Held

The second annual meeting of the St. Dunstan's Credit Union Ltd. was held in the Holy Name building, Charlottetown, on Jan. 20, 1938, Rev. P. McMahon, D.D., presiding.

A large attendance of members, proof of the great interest in the progress of the union, followed the proceedings of the meeting with great attention. The president in his address traced briefly the history of St. Dunstan's Credit Union from the small beginning on June 28, 1937 of fifteen members with share capital of thirteen dollars and twenty-five cents to a membership as of Dec. 31, 1937 of one hundred and eighty-nine with a share capital of sixteen hundred and ninety-six dollars. It was noted that the loans during the year amounted to two thousand, four hundred and eighty-five dollars.

The president stressed the fact that the paid up share capital represented the combined savings of the members during those six months, thus emphasizing the thrift value of the credit union. This thrift attitude is clearly a step towards the social and economic betterment of the people. The continued study of these co-operative problems was strongly urged and suggestions were offered for the formation of study clubs to carry on this most important branch of credit union activities.

The directors recommended a dividend of three percent on paid-up shares as of Dec. 31, 1937. The treasurer's report was then given. It was noted that membership to Jan. 20 was two hundred and thirty and that the volume of business transacted to date was six thousand, two hundred and thirty-seven dollars.

Following is the balance sheet as of Dec. 31, 1937:

Table with 2 columns: Item, Amount. Assets: Loans $1,735.50, Cash on hand 30.12, Total $1,765.62. Liabilities: Shares $1,696.37, Unpaid fund 1.35, Guaranty fund 52.63, Undivided earnings 15.25, Total $1,765.62.

The report of the credit committee, which meets weekly, was given by Mr. Ambrose Joy who pointed out that the responsibilities of this committee involved a careful consideration not only of the needs of the borrower but also the protection of the depositor. A comprehensive report of the supervisory committee which meets monthly was given by Mr. J. Macdonald. He reported that the
