IRISH PARLIAMENT APPEALS TO CANADA

Address Forwarded by Irish Parliament to Members of Canadian Commons Appealing for Sympathetic Co-operation.

The Dail Eireann, or Irish Republican Parliament, has prepared an address to the Canadian House of Commons setting forth the situation in Ireland from the point of view of the Sinn Fein and enumerating in detail the acts of reprisals by British soldiers.

The address which was adopted at the January 1921 session of the Dail Eireann, is signed by Eamon De Valera, President, and the members of the various divisions of the county. Details of the reprisals and other particulars are given in appendices.

The address sets forth at considerable length the history of Ireland's relations with England and its final subjugation by the latter; the depopulation of the country consequent upon the monopoly of trade and industry by England and the efforts put forth by the Irish people for the restoration of their status as a free sovereign state among the nations of Europe.

The results of the election of 1918 are given in detail by counties and polling districts. At this election the Republicans secured 72 seats, the Irish Parliamentary party 6; official Unionists 21; Independent Unionists 27.

A detailed statement shows that during the period 1801 to 1911 the population of Ireland fell off by one fifth while the population of England and Wales was quadrupled and of Scotland trebled in the same period.

The report on reprisals covers a period of four years, 1916 to 1920 inclusive. During these four years

Artillerymen Warmly Welcomed Last Night

A most enthusiastic welcome awaited the P. E. I. Heavy Artillery Brigade last night on their return from Petawawa. The station platform was crowded with citizens anxious to greet the boys on their arrival and to cheer them for their splendid showing made at the ranges.

It was late when the train pulled in—nearly 12 o'clock—but the crowd for the most part waited patiently. The monotony of waiting was agreeably relieved by occasional music from the Regimental Band and by impromptu songs from Mr. Sandy MacGregor, who was, as usual "on deck" and employed his entertaining talent.

On arrival Lieut. Col. MacKinnon the officers and men of the Brigade were heartily cheered. The parade homeward was illumined by torches and with the music, lights and cheering resembled a triumphal march, which indeed considering the hardships which they had undergone and the long journey they had made, was very agreeable.

Strike Caused Danger When Fire Started

QUEBEC, June 27.—Sabotage is the latest development in the strike of the city police and firemen. The handful of men who have remained at their posts in the Fire Brigade responded to an alarm at 3 o'clock this morning. The hydrant that the firemen had been compelled to use for some time. As a result a length of hose had to be strung to hydrants some distance away resulting in a delay of some minutes. Meanwhile the blaze rapidly spread and chances of getting it under control were endangered. The four sub-chiefs and chief Connelly battled desperately against the blaze, assisted by their volunteers and the men of the 22nd Battalion who were brought from their hall where they had just before dispersed a mob. OTTAWA, June 27.—That the decennial census now being taken will show Canada to possess a population approximately nine million souls is the official estimate here from statistics already available, and by the use of two methods of computation utilized by international statisticians the Dominion's population is variously estimated at nine and a quarter and eight and three-quarter millions. The department here has decided that a middle point might be struck and places the estimate at nine million. At the last decennial census the population was something under eight million.

WORK OF CANADIAN SOCIETY OF TECHNICAL AGRICULTURISTS

Interesting Paper Read by President J. A. Clark at Meeting of Provincial Branch Last Night.

The following paper was read by Mr. J. A. Clark, president of the Provincial Branch, Canadian Society of Technical Agriculturists at a meeting of that Society last night in Mr. Clark's office, Experimental Farm Station. There was a good attendance and in addition to Mr. Clark's address an interesting talk was given by Mr. Ewen McMillan, of South Africa, who spoke of agricultural problems in his country and of the research work being conducted there. Mr. Jones of the Dominion Live Stock Branch, was present for the first time. The meeting adjourned after some further business.

Mr. Clark, who has recently returned from attending the Winnipeg Convention of the Canadian Society of Technical Agriculturists summed up his observations in his address—

On June 15th, there met in the city of Winnipeg a Convention of Scientific Agriculturists representative of those engaged in agricultural research, administration, education, extension work, publicity and experimental problems from every province in the Dominion. The three-day convention was held in the Royal Alexandra Hotel with about 40 delegates present. The General Secretary, Mr. Fred H. Grindley, gave a very encouraging report of the work of the Society since the organization convention that was held in Ottawa last year. The Society is now on a permanent basis, with a membership of about 600, with 13 branches in different sections of the Dominion. Representatives from each of these local branches gave their reports on the second day of the Convention, submitting quite a number of problems for discussion and consideration. The Western Ontario Branch submitted many questions about the existing organization. The report of the Montreal Branch was most enthusiastic, and was so encouraging that the Convention decided to have a copy presented to the Western Ontario Branch, as it seemed to answer so many of the questions raised.

President L. S. Klink of the University of British Columbia, discussed in his presidential address, agricultural education in the broadest acceptance of the term, including the three generally accepted divisions: teaching, research and extension; also, agricultural policies for the Dominion, the Provinces and the colleges, and the organization of technical agriculturists. He emphasized the importance of research, saying that it was not generally understood by the public, who thought that the first duty of the college was to teach, and that research work could wait. This frequently led to the fostering of a species of intellectual parasitism, and a growing inability on the part of some instructors to profit by the more advanced work of others. He held that research was a necessary part of college work and should not be left to the hands of the public. He gave due publicity to their work, said Professor Klink, investigators and their work would receive more generous recognition, and not leave themselves so open to the oft-repeated charge that the mysterious work of research is employed to provide another means of giving lazy professors more time to loaf.

P.E.I. Light Horse Begins Camp

The P. E. I. Light Horse under the command of Lieut. Col. W. C. Cook go into camp this morning as one of the largest cavalry units ever trained in the Province.

The unit is composed of 255 horses with a personnel of 200 men. A Squadron will mobilize at the Armories this morning at 8 o'clock. The two outlying squadrons B and C, from Summerside and Montague will arrive at 11 o'clock by train.

Capt. J. R. Paton, M. C., Quartermaster, was kept busy yesterday putting up the tents at the Exhibition Grounds, where the squadron will camp.

It is regrettable that the cavalry troops will be forced to parade every day beyond the Golf Links in order to get a field of 30 acres clear for manoeuvring purposes. It is the intention of Col. Cook to have the parade next Sunday with the men mounted. The regiment will leave their quarters at the Exhibition Grounds, at 9.30 in the morning, skirting the city and arriving at the market square at 10.30 where the troops will dismount and forming up will march to St. Paul's Church.

THE WEATHER TEMPERATURE TIDE, MOON, ETC.

NEW ERA ARRIVED

The time had arrived for deep heart-searching among agriculturists in Canada, said the president, certain questions existed for which remedies should be sought and applied immediately. The satisfactory solution of these problems must be preceded by recognitions, first of all, that great public questions should be considered from the public point of view. There should be no dividing in interests in agriculture.

The aims and objects of the society, said Professor Klink were insistence upon a higher academic standard for undergraduates, larger opportunities and better facilities for post-graduate work and more adequate provision for investigation and research. The attainment of a measure of success in these directions would be a direct contribution by the society to the community.

Agricultural education had progressed to a point where it was imperative that maladjustments be remedied, that functions be well defined, that a more perfect articulation be effected, and a unified and consistent policy be evolved. Service national in scope must underlie the determination of the society, because back of these lay the problem of public support.

A very hearty civic welcome was tendered to the visiting delegates at a luncheon given in their honor by the City of Winnipeg in Assiniboine Park. The delegates and prominent business men toured
