HORSE NOTES.

—Mr. J. W. Smith, Maitland, N. S., purchased from Mr. George Bryenton, Malpeque, a very fine specimen of horseflesh descended from the lineage of the superior stallion, Captain Aubrey, 2,051 dam by Brazilian. This individual, a mare, already enjoys the distinction of having won the stake race for the Maritime Provinces in Charlottetown some time ago. This was in the four year old stake 2:22 1-4. There has been exhibited in this individual a velocity of speed yet to be developed and the owners are intent on first giving the animal the best possible care as well as the most judicious training so as to develop the animal as well as the speed. The price realized was, certainly, handsome and encouraging to the production care and development of well-bred horses. Mr. Bryenton does not believe in wasting time and feed on scrub individuals, but is positively disposed to lavish care and expense on approved breed and promise.—Y.

PERSONALS

—Mrs C. B. Matheson, Kensington spent a holiday at the home of Mr. Matheson, Charlottetown. She returned home Friday.—Y.

—Mrs Davies and Mrs W. W. Lowther, Charlottetown are spending a few days in Kensington, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. L. T. Lowther.—Y.

—Mr. B. C. Hardy, and son, Union Road are guests at the Methodist Parsonage, Kensington.—Y.

—Mrs. Charles Richardson returned recently to her home in South Brewer, Maine after a short visit to her home in Kensington. She came home to comfort her father during his sickness. Mrs Richardson went away about thirty-three years ago, but has been home at intervals since. This is the first trip she has made in winter and her experience revives recollections of reminiscences transmitted to her by her grandparents about winters in the olden times.—Y.

SICKNESS IS EXPENSIVE

Being sick is expensive. Being in good health is a money saver. Many families could easily buy a motor car with the money they spend annually on doctor's bills and similar expenses for ailments that might have been avoided by a little preventive work.

Some kinds of sickness are unavoidable. There is no apparent reason why they should develop, no seeming cause for their coming, but still they do come and people are laid low. This costs money, but it cannot be helped. It is part of the ups and downs of life, and the doctors must be paid for his services.

On the other hand, however, there are many diseases and defects that can be classified as preventable. By this I mean that they could have been prevented or at least curtailed if foresight had been shown, if the trouble had been put right early enough, before it developed into the chronic stage, or until it had affected other organs of the general health of the individual. Take as an example a decaying tooth. To go to a dentist at once and have the cavity filled, or failing that to have the decaying tooth extracted, is the right and proper thing to do. But how many people do it? The general tendency is for everybody to delay, to procrastinate, to put off till to-morrow or next day, a duty that could be very well done better to-day. It would be hard to estimate the amount of trouble caused by that foolish little word "wait". Sometimes, however, the reason for delay in having one's personal health and condition attended to, is because the seriousness of the condition or its possible results, have not been pointed out to the sufferer. For instance, few people expect those who have been told about it, know that decayed teeth and diseased tonsils may lead to rheumatism and heart disease in later life, or that in neglecting a mild case of scarlet fever, kidney disease and deafness may result from complications. Even such a common thing as a squint results in impaired vision giving the person the use of practically only one eye. Then there is the question of indigestion, or pain in the stomach after eating. This is often associated with constipation and yet many people do not make any effort to diet themselves and so remove the cause of constipation. They eat everything that appeals their appetites and depend for relief on tablets and aperient medicines. If the public could

Giant Sub. Carries Crew of Ninety-one

NEW LONDON, Conn., Mar. 7.—Giant among the submarines in the United States navy, the V-1 sailed for the trial grounds off Block Island to be put through tests. The manoeuvres today were preliminary to the diving ones which will be carried out tomorrow. The V-1 carries a crew of seven officers and 84 men, is 341 feet long, and 27 feet six inches wide. Her armament consists of six torpedo tubes and one five-inch gun mounted on the forward deck.

Slits Singer's Nose in Duel On N. Y. Stage

When the curtain fell, Bohnen rushed to his dressing-room, and it was half an hour before the flow of blood could be stopped so that the wound could be dressed.

Only appreciate the danger of chronic indigestion in that it may lead to ulceration of the stomach and possibly develop into cancer more care would be taken to keep their intestinal tract in good condition.

Offers Mrs Pankhurst Her Seat in The Commons

LONDON, March 8.—"I feel that I have been in the House of Commons as a sort of preliminary canter, waiting for a real horse to come along," declared Lady Astor, M.P., last night, as she offered to resign her seat in favor of Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst the one-time militant suffrage leader. "There is no sacrifice any woman would not make to get you into the Commons," Lady Astor added. Mrs. Pankhurst gracefully declined the offer of Lady Astor, but expressed willingness to contest some seat which may fall vacant. She said she was a constitutionalist, but denied a rumor that she had accepted an invitation to become a Conservative. Mrs. Pankhurst recently returned to England from Canada with the intention of permanently residing here and desirous of entering parliament.

6,700 AMERICANS HAVE THEIR HOMES IN LONDON

LONDON, March 8.—Americans living in London now number 6,700 and the number of Australians is approximately the same. The Canadian population is 5,000 and there are 4,700 South Africans and 1,700 New Zealanders. Of the 147,000 foreign residents nearly one-half are Russians and Poles. Three-million of the 4,500,000 living in London are London born. The French population number 13,500. There are 11,300 Ital-ians and 8,800 Germans.

Not a Sign of Backache Since

Willow Brook, Sask. March 8.—(Special)—"I have been troubled with backache for almost three years. I have tried all kinds of medicines but they didn't help me at all. I sent for some Dodd's Kidney Pills and they did me much good. I have not had a sign of backache since." This statement comes from Mrs. R. Kolaso, a well known resident of this place. That Mrs. Kolaso's trouble was caused by the kidneys is evidenced by the immediate relief she got. Weak kidneys are not confined to grown people only. They are too often found in children, sowing the seeds of future ills unless the kidneys are strengthened and put in condition to do their full work.
