Tense Atmosphere Prevails In Europe

Alarming Rumor Comes From Yugoslavia — Italy May Act As Mediator.

(By Frank H. King, Associated Press Staff Writer)

(A. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)
LONDON, Nov. 25.—A tense atmosphere prevailed in Europe at the beginning of a new week tonight as nation after nation joined in the cry "Who's our ally?"

In the last few days new shouts of discord have echoed across the borders of European nations. Countries big and small were hunting new security in alliances with powerful neighbors or distant strategic countries.

Calm counsels in the principal European capitals continued to believe warfare would be limited to words and that the Old World would escape a repetition of the cataclysm of 1914.

U.S. TO SEEK NAVAL ACCORD

(C.P. A.P. Cable) (By Guardian's Special Wire)

LONDON, Nov. 25.—The significance of the United States is likely to be an informal naval accord with Britain was being discussed in official quarters today.

It was learned from reliable sources over the weekend that this step is likely in the event of existing naval limitation treaties being ditched through failure of these two countries and Japan to reach an accord in current tripartite conversations.

Japanese insistence on actual naval parity has made the hope of such an accord being reached dimmer as the conversations proceed.

Meanwhile a tentative arrangement for Japan's forthcoming denunciation of the Washington Treaty was outlined to United States Ambassador at Large Norman H. Davis by Ambassador Tsumo Matsudaira of Japan during a golf match.

The date for the denunciation was not however set. The two ambassadors discussed the general outlook but it was understood there was no change in the general situation as a result. The conversations are virtually deadlocked at present.

ACCUSATIONS THREAT TO EUROPE'S PEACE

Article Inspired By Il Duce Demands Immediate Discussion of Yugoslavia's Charge Against Hungarian Authorities.

(A. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)
MILAN, Italy, Nov. 25.—Through Premier Mussolini's newspaper Il Popolo D'Italia, Italy today issued warning that Yugoslavia's accusations against Hungary, now before the League of Nations, threaten to destroy all possibilities of calming Europe's clashing passions.

An article understood to have been inspired by Il Duce himself demanded immediate discussion of Yugoslavia's charge that Hungarian authorities connived with the terrorists responsible for assassinating King Alexander in Belgrade.

The article, which appeared in the Italian press almost completely ignored the matter, and in tradition of the Moscow government, preferred to stress the problems of other nations.

The discussion as to whether Britain will throw the weight of her support to the United States in the present tri-power naval negotiations with Japan, or revive the old Anglo-Japanese alliance, was discussed in the Soviet press. In London such a revival was decided out of the range of possibility by the most authoritative quarters.

The general political atmosphere on the continent may be cleared somewhat by a decisive victory for Germany in the Saar plebiscite in January.

An unexpected French victory, or vote for status quo under League sovereignty, according to opinion in Geneva, would serve only to embitter Europe's basic political problem—the relationship between France and Germany.

With Mussolini in the limelight as difficult as the problem as any continental leader. Regime of a group of six-year-olds is play to Il Duce compared with the puzzle he faces in shaping Italy's destiny as regards foreign relations.

Disarmament in the dol-drum and chances for reviving this part of Geneva's work unlikely, nations from the Baltic sea to the Mediterranean were adopting new tactics in chasing the age-old European will-o'-the-wisp—security.

Shot While On Hunting Trip

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)
CHEATHEAM, N. B., Nov. 26.—Accidentally shot through the chest while on a hunting trip, Francois Doucette, 25, of Collette, N. B., died in hospital here this evening.

How the accident occurred was unknown. A companion who had set out in a different direction yesterday found Doucette lying on the ground, a bullet from the latter's rifle having pierced his body just above the heart.

The victim was spending a vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George D. Doucette, of Collette.

A general meeting of farmers will be held in the hall at Kinkora Wednesday evening, Nov. 28th at 7.30. The potato marketing scheme and other subjects will be discussed by Messrs. J. J. Trainor and J. A. Gillies. All farmers are invited to attend. L-2742-11-26-21

MOTHER AND DAUGHTER FOUND DROWNED

Widow of Publisher of Port Hope Guide Takes Own Life— Husband Died of Poisoning, It Is Al- leged.

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)
PORT HOPE, Ont., Nov. 25.—Dr. F. W. Diamond, Port Hope coroner, announced yesterday the inquest on the deaths of Mrs. Donald M. Wilson, 34-year-old widow of the editor and publisher of the Port Hope Guide, and her daughter, Carol Emily, aged 21 months, would be held in Port Hope on December 3. Mrs. Wilson, with her child in her arms, sought death yesterday in the waters of Lake Hope, less than a month after her husband died, allegedly of arsenic poisoning.

The inquest on her husband's death will take place here on Nov. 30.

The body of Mrs. Wilson was found washed ashore on the beach early yesterday by Inspector Gardner and Willis Farrow, who had been summoned to the scene by Hammond Brown after he had discovered the woman's deserted automobile above the cliffs. The child was found 250 yards along the beach. Mrs. Wilson had disappeared from the home of her foster father, Blake Symons, here Friday afternoon.

In her automobile was found a tragic note addressed to Mr. and Mrs. Symons:

"Dear Mother and Dad: It read, 'I know that Don got hold of some rat poison. I am taking the baby with me. Gossip in this town has killed me and there is nothing for Carol Emily to live for. Please bury me in Daddy's plot. With love, Blise'."

Mrs. Wilson's watch had stopped at 7.05 and police believe that was the time she had gone to her death on Friday night.

Hammond Brown identified the automobile following a radio broadcast describing the car and giving its license number.

Blake Symons, foster-mother of Mrs. Wilson, at the point of collapse said, "rat poison killed my daughter's husband, but gossip killed my daughter. She is the innocent victim of gossip. She made her son-in-law's death started the investigation which prompted Mrs. Wilson to take her life. She said her daughter had become worried and nervous following an examination by police."

"My daughter did not poison Donald Wilson," she declared. "She loved him too well to do that."

Premier Bennett Expected Back On Thursday

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)
OTTAWA, Nov. 25.—To all outward appearances political and administrative developments remained at a standstill in Ottawa since the departure last Tuesday of Prime Minister R. B. Bennett on a visit to Calgary. No cabinet meetings were held but it was expected that Hon. Sir George Pailey would call a session of his colleagues tomorrow or Tuesday. Mr. Bennett is expected home Thursday morning.

A meeting between the Prime Minister and Premier Mitchell Hepburn of Ontario is tentatively scheduled for this week and will be held in question of relief costs and administration will be thrashed out. The Ontario government's scheme for expenditure of $18,000,000 of federal and provincial money on roads in that province this winter met with little favor here, and will be the subject of a conference.

Ontario has not yet accepted the government's proposal for a relief agreement to cover the remainder of the fiscal year, and it has been stated by Minister of Labor W. A. Gordon that no fresh relief proposals should be considered until that agreement has been completed.

Troubles between the Dominion and Ontario governments over relief matters have somewhat overshadowed the Prairie Province problem, particularly that of Saskatchewan where the absolute dependence of some 40,000 families remains to be dealt with because of successive crop failures, drought and pests.

Fifty Carloads From Maritimes

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)
AMHERST, N. S., Nov. 25.—Fifty carloads of clothing and foodstuffs have gone forward from the Maritime Provinces already this year to aid the needy in the dry belt of Western Canada, according to a statement issued by Rev. C. E. Crowell, moderator of the Maritime Conference of the United Church which organized the relief project.

Half of the amount, 25 carloads, came from the Presbyteries of Prince Edward Island; seven from Woodstock, N. B., four from Fredericton, three from Moncton, N. B., three from Annapolis Royal, two from Miramichi, one each from Cumberland, Halifax, St. Stephen, N. B., Sydney, N. S., Windsor, N. S., and Antigonish, N. S.

A total of 176 have been sent from all sections of Canada.

District Governor To Visit Here

(A. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)
TOULOUSE, France, Nov. 25.—Twenty German nudists who were found dancing near a military airport were expelled from France today on suspicion of espionage.

Police said the group, including men and women, came to France in March as Jewish victims of Nazi persecution and set up a camp near Francasol airfield. All protested they were law students on their way to Palestine. They were clothed and escorted to the border.

Young tender leaves

(A. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)
TRURO, N. S., Nov. 25.—Hon. H. H. Stevens, former chairman of the Royal Commission on price spreads and mass buying, was commended for his "activities on behalf of the consumers and wage earners of Canada," in a resolution passed by district 26 United Mine Workers of America at the closing session of their annual convention.

The assembly, representative of 7,000 Nova Scotia miners, reached several important decisions Saturday. They will seek restoration of the 1931 scale of wages with a flat increase of 50 cents per day for fatal men. They want an umpire to settle disputes between coal companies and miners' executives and will press for a 30 hour five day week for all international union workers in Nova Scotia.

Further resolutions called for a "closed shop" policy and complete re-organization of the district. The convention was characterized as one of the most successful in U. M. W. history. They will meet again in October, 1936, having decided against a proposal for semi-annual conventions.

MOTHER AND CHILD BURNED TO DEATH

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)
MONTREAL, Nov. 25.—Flames enveloped the two-story wooden dwelling of Guy Denis, 26, here today, and when they had burned themselves out, Denis, unconscious in hospital, was childless and a widower.

The fire broke out early and Mrs. Denis, 29, rushed to the room where her two year old baby boy, Roland, slept. Flames were already licking their way up the posts of the baby's crib and a dense smoke blinded the woman as she reached for her child.

She managed to lift the baby out before being able to find an exit. The charred bodies of the moth and child were found by firemen. The mother's arms were clasped about the infant.

Denis, who tried to save his wife and child, was severely burned and was removed to hospital where he is in critical condition.

The outbreak which started in an overheated stove in the Denis home spread to an adjoining tenement and two persons trapped by the flames were rescued by firemen.

Coal Production In October

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)
OTTAWA, Nov. 25.—Production of coal in October amounted to 1,551,319 tons, or 1.8 percent below the output of 1,579,551 tons in October, 1933, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reports. This was however, 5.8 percent above the five year average for October of 1,482,277 tons.

Production by provinces was as follows: Nova Scotia 658,196 tons; Alberta 586,196 tons; British Columbia 155,832 tons; Saskatchewan 122,953 tons, and New Brunswick 27,944 tons.

Coal production in October amounted to 294,142 tons as against an output of 173,508 in the corresponding month last year. Production for the 10 months ending October amounted to 1,811,041 tons and compared with 1,432,124 tons in the same period in 1933.

Insull Acquitted Of Fraud Charge

Banker, Son And Fifteen Defend- ants Freed By Jury. Congrat- ulations Pour In.

(A. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)
CHICAGO, Nov. 25.—Samuel Insull today enjoyed his happiest hours since the 1929 stock market undermined his $2,000,000,000 power empire.

A Federal court jury had believed his assertion: "Gentlemen, the worst that may be said was that I erred in judgment, not in honesty," and had acquitted him, his son and fifteen other former lords of La Salle Street of a charge of mail fraud, $100,000,000 in magnitude.

Congratulations by telephone and telegram poured all day into his small hotel apartment where he rested with his wife and Samuel Jr. Visitors by the score trooped to his quarters and the 75-year-old host greeted them all personally, still exultantly happy over his complete victory in the first prosecution of charges growing out of the collapse of his utilities combine.

"This is the happiest day of my life," he exclaimed.

He himself answered most of the telephone calls, told newspapermen to come in and posed willingly with his family for photographs.

He alone, apparently—in a flash of the acumen which brought him to a pinnacle as a traction, light and power potentate almost without peer—had gauged correctly the jury's course Saturday.

Its surprisingly short two-hour and two-minute deliberations on a complicated financial case embracing almost 2,000,000 words of testimony had caught court attaches counsel, and most of the defendants themselves by surprise. But not Insull.

"I'll give them two hours," he had said shortly before the jury left the courtroom at 2:21 p. m., Saturday.

But even he blanched as he sat down in the courtroom. James E. Wilkinson shortly after 4:23 p. m. when the jury signalled it had agreed. There was a moment of dramatic suspense. Then foreman John D. Lent submitted the verdict which was read by the clerk, granting judicial absolution to all the defendants.

Came next an emotional outburst seldom witnessed in the sedate federal court. Some defendants cheered. Spectators rushed through to congratulate all. Papers were tossed wildly about. A few of the defeated strove to charge before him and is scheduled for arraignment Jan. 7 for the alleged (Continued on Page 8)

WAS MOTHER OF KING ZOGU

Queen Sadie of Al- bania Dies at Age of 58.

(A. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)
TIRANA, Albania, Nov. 25.—Queen Sadie of Albania, mother of King Zogu, died here today. She was 58.

Born in 1876 with the maiden name of Toptani, she married Dje-mal Pasha Zogu, Moslem tribal chief, at the age of 15. Their union was productive of six daughters and one son, who was proclaimed King of Albania in 1928.

Ahmed Zogu was Premier, army commander-in-chief and president of the mountainous Balkan State ascending to a throne. Shortly afterwards the constituent assembly bestowed on Sadie the title of Queen Mother.

Probably the youngest Royal House in the world is that of Albania, for it was on Sept. 8, 1928, that Ahmed Zogu, after serving several years as premier, army commander and president of the tiny Balkan State, became Skanderbeg III, King of the Albanians.

He was born at Burgavet Castle in the mountainous district of Mat-sira, descendant of chiefs of local Moslem tribes who fought for independence from the Turks.

Four Found Dead In Mansion

(A. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)
DEMOPOLIS, Ala., Nov. 25.—The bodies of F. C. Clement Smith, Demopolis banker, his wife and their two small children were found today in their mansion, Ouff Hall, one of the show places of the city.

All had been shot. Sheriff Stinson Drinkard, in charge of the investigation, said he could not make any statement as to how the tragedy occurred.

Smith was cashier of the Commercial Bank, and was the son of the late A. R. Smith.

Sheriff Drinkard said fingerprint experts were making a thorough examination.

Brother Faces Charge

And as he took his case today the spotlight of prosecution in the Insull debacle veered toward his young brother, Martin, who was extradited from Ontario to face state charges of embezzlement of $344,000.

Martin was one of the early congratulators of his elder brother phoning from his home in Morocco, Ind., last night.

Martin's case is on call in criminal court Monday but attorneys said it would not be called until Dec. 3.

The prosecution was silent today, but it previously announced no matter what the outcome of the mail fraud trial might be, the state charges would be pressed. Samuels also has a similar charge before him and is scheduled for arraignment Jan. 7 for the alleged (Continued on Page 8)

Directs Sale Of Motor Ship

(A. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)
PORTLAND, Me., Nov. 25.—Judge John Peters Saturday signed an order directing the sale of the British motor ship Narmada and its cargo of liquor seized off Seal Harbor the night of March 11.

The court order was another episode in one of the most sensational liquor seizures ever made on the Maine coast. Federal agents trapped the vessel, laden with 2,973 bottles of liquor and 6,000 gallons of alcohol, after raiding a short wave wireless station, from which activities of the rum runner were directed.

The wireless station was taken while its operator was transmitting orders to the Narmada. As the telegrapher was pulled away from his key, a federal agent took his place, completed sending the message and in later communications with the vessel arranged the rendezvous which ultimately led to the capture.

Three men pleaded guilty in federal court to charges of smuggling and violation of the wireless laws in connection with the case. The cases of eight Canadian members of the crew are pending. The Narmada was registered from Georgetown, Barbados.
