PURIFIED HIS BLOOD

Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills Healed Mr. Wilson's Sores

When the sewers of the body—bowels, kidneys and skin ducts—get clogged up, the blood quickly becomes impure and frequently sores break out over the body. The way to heal them, as Mr. Richard Wilson, who lives near London, Ont., found, is to purify the blood. He writes: "For some time I had been in a low, depressed condition. My appetite left me and I soon began to suffer from indigestion. Quite a number of small sores and blotches formed all over my skin. I tried medicine for the blood and used many kinds of ointments, but without satisfactory results. What was wanted was a thorough cleansing of the blood, and I looked about in vain for some medicine that would accomplish this. At last Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills were brought to my notice, and they are one of the most wonderful medicines I have ever known. My blood was purified in a very short time, sores healed up, my indigestion vanished. They always have a place in my home and are looked upon as the family remedy."

Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills cleanse the system thoroughly. Sold by all dealers at 25c a box.

Among the returning passengers on the Murray Har-our Train Saturday, were Miss Lulu Ballum, Waterside; Estelle Jenkins, Uigg, and Ethel Taylor, Cherry Valley.

Rev. M. P. Murray, Pastor of the Christian Church at Verulam, Ohio, who is spending his vacation with his parents at Braadbane, P. E. I., preached at both services in the Central Christian Church of this City yesterday. The subject of the morning sermon was "Good Soldiers of Jesus Christ", and that of the evening, from 5 chap. Eph. 14th was "Sleepers Arouse!". Both discourses were well received by good congregations.

The boasting of three young men who claimed to have swam across the Hillsboro River and back again on Saturday afternoon formed an interesting topic for many parties who congregated in the principal streets of the city. The young gentlemen had related their individual experiences and whether or not the story became exaggerated in transmission can be just as properly judged by the reader as a writer. One story relates that the three left their clothes on this side of the river and started on their long swim. They reached the other side all right, it was said, but on the return journey one of the chaps, feeling a coming collapse through exhaustion, called lustily for aid. He was taken back to the South port side and his clothes were despatched from this city to where their owner was "waiting on the other shore". There being no means of verifying the above statements, they must be accepted at their apparent veracity.

"Rose.—And let me tell you uncle, I will not sell myself for gold. If you refuse to listen to me, I will appeal to Mr. Brown's manhood, and ask if he wishes to force a woman to marry him who can never give him her love." Opera House, Sept. 5th.
