GRAND SERIES OF RECRUITING MEETINGS

HEATHERDALE MEETING.

A party numbering a dozen or so drove to Heatherdale from the station, where they found the hall packed to the doors. Dr. Fullerton took the chair, Professor Watkis presiding at the organ. Splendid solos were rendered at intervals by Prof. Barlow, Lieut. Beers and Mr. L. McInnis.

Dr. Fullerton stated the purpose of the meeting in his usual instructive and interesting manner. They were there, he said, to recruit a Highland Regiment. If that appeal should be responded to anywhere it should be in Heatherdale. They were far from the old land, but was it not true that their blood was Highland? They had come to men who would not let the old flag fall, and who would make any sacrifice that it might never fall. Every letter they received from the front asked when will those Island boys come that they might keep what they had gained. He called on every worthy young man to come and don the kilts and fight for the King.

Lieut. Tannahill, as one of the officers going to the front to maintain the flag asked for more men to join him. He made a splendid appeal.

At the close of the meeting three young men came to the platform and signed the service roll.

PATRIOTIC MEETING AT MALPEQUE

A splendid patriotic meeting was held at Malpeque on Wednesday evening last, in the form of a joint recruiting rally and supper in aid of the Red Cross—the supper being held in the adjoining room. The recruiting meeting was presided over by Rev. G. C. Taylor, of Zion Church. Charlottetown, who delivered an earnest and forceful address. The other speakers were Lieut. Moore, Dr. McPhee, of Summerside, Lieut. A. W. Allan and Capt. R. H. Campbell, of the Infantry Reinforcements. The addresses were supplemented by hymns excellently rendered by the choir. At the close of the meeting seven young men came forward and were enrolled as recruits for the new 105th. Island Battalion. The supper in aid of the Red Cross was very successful and a large sum of money was realized. The people of Malpeque had already done a splendid work in the way of raising money for the various patriotic purposes, and some 18 or 20 young men from the vicinity enlisted; so that Wednesday's meeting was only a continuation of their splendid endeavours.

The names of the young men who enrolled at Wednesday's meeting are:

1 Frank Morrison.
2 Harvey Manderson.
3 Eddie Manderson.
4 Walter Mountain.
5 William Brown.
6 George Dunning.
7 Bertram McDonald.
8 Vernon Lynds.

ANOTHER AMERICAN NOTE TO TO BRITAIN.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—A memorandum which will form the basis of a note to Great Britain regarding contraband is now in course of preparation at the State Department. It was learned to-day that it had not been definitely decided yet what attitude the United States would take in regard to the action of Great Britain in placing on the contraband list cotton and other products never before treated as contraband. It was said to be probable that this decision would be reached within the next few days, and that soon thereafter the first draft of the note would be made. Several drafts may be required before the communication is ready for transmission.

STYLES IN BRIEF.

Bell sleeves are among the most charming of the new styles.

Marquisette is much favored in combination with taffeta.

India leather is used for handbags —white, black and colored.

The tendency toward simplicity in little folks' clothing is evident.

Charming wash dresses for little girls are made of cotton crepe.

One of the most useful suits for out-of-town is white corduroy.

The tendency as to a close in shows in coats as well as dress bodices.

Very wide girdles are seen on autumn dresses.

Dresses, topcoats and suits will be made of plush.

The return of ostrich feather trimming is predicted.

Buttons and crows feet are often the only trimming.

Ribbon bindings are seen on the edges of tailored suits.

St. Dunstan's Winners Of The Series

S.D.C., 3; CONNAUGHTS, 0.

The second game of the P.E.I. Football series was played on Wednesday afternoon at Victoria Park between the Connaughts and St Dunstan's teams, and resulted in a victory for the latter. In spite of the frigidity of the atmosphere a large crowd turned out to witness the game. It is a pity that such games could not be played on the A.A.A.A. grounds as it would be much more convenient and comfortable for the spectators, but the above clubs claim that, owing to rent charges, it is financially impossible to play games there. The game was late starting and before it was finished darkness had enveloped both ball and players in its velvety folds, thus rendering almost impossible the task of refereeing. The Saints won the toss and chose to play up the hill. The Connaughts kicked off and Saints securing the ball made a mad rush towards the Conns goal line and succeeding in reaching the ten yard line before they could be stopped. Here a seres of scrims ensued till McCarey got the ball and made one of the finest runs of the day, passing several of his opponents in his usual clever style, but was finally brought to earth by Cahill, St Dunstan's star half-back. The Saints soon worked their way down the field again and after a series of scrims on the five yard line succeeded in securing the first and only try of the game, the ball being carried over by Praught. An excellent attempt to convert was made by St Dunstan's old reliable Billy Curran, and although the kick was made almost on the touch line and the goal posts were so badly twisted that scarcely five feet of the cross bar was visible, still Billy made what was considered on the side lines an excellent convert, but the touch judges decided that it did not go between the poles. The play for the remainder of the half was in the Conns territory and when the whistle blew the Saints were within their five yard line. The second half consisted mainly of scrim work within the Conns twenty-five yard line, and though the Saints several times forced them to within inches of their goal line they showed remarkable ability in defending the last few inches, and the Saints were prevented from crossing their line. The game ended with the teams in the same relative positions as at the end of the first half.

Mr Chester McCarthy acted as referee in his characteristic firm and impartial manner. The line-up was as follows:—

S.D.C.	Connaughts

Lewis McDonald	Lance
Halves.
Cliff Cahill	Frank McCarey
James Rooney	Aug. McDonald

Britain Was Not Taken Unawares

LONDON, Nov. 18.—Viscount Haldane, the former War Secretary, speaking at Hampstead to-night, declared that the Germans would have reached Paris, and perhaps Calais, had not the Government taken prompt action upon the warnings which he himself and others had given of the German intentions.

The British Government, he said, did everything possible to get aggressive ideas out of the heads of the other nations on the Continent, but that did not prevent the Government from taking precautionary measures. Great Britain was not taken unawares, but was able to mobilize the army and navy at the first moment of the outbreak of the war.

Lord Haldane expressed the belief that there was not a single Government among the Powers that has not been wholly surprised and taken aback by the magnitude and duration of the struggle which has since developed, and that nobody has been so much surprised as the German general staff, which "had expected a walk-over in about three months."

JOFFRE GETS HIS FULL SLEEP

A hearty, hale, most wholesomely sane man, well around the corner of the sixties. Joffre imitates none of the traditional habits of great commanders He does not dictate three or four telegrams at once. He takes more than three hours a day sleep. He does not eat in a state of trance. Quite the contrary. He is a good feeder and a good sleeper. Regular meals and seven straight hours of sleep from 9 at night until 4 in the morning are his routine. But in all the remaining seventeen hours of the twenty-four the entire French army knows that "the old man" is awake.

As to the final result, not the remotest shadow of doubt crosses his mind. He is as certain of victory as he is of his existence. To every man in the French army he has imparted precisely this same confidence. And as it is in the army so it is in the entire nation. "General Joffre knows we are going to win, therefore we know we are going to win." This is the beginning and the end of the French war creed.

DESPERATE POSITION OF SERBIAN ARMY

LONDON, Nov. 18.—Serbia's position is growing steadily worse, according to information obtained by the Reuter correspondent at Athens. The population of Monastir is fleeing to Florina, sixteen miles south, across the Greek border and Saloniki.

Prilep (Perlep) is expected to fall as soon as Bulgarian forces arrive there from Tetovo. The danger of being surrounded by Bulgars coming from the west towards Prilep, upset the Serbian defence at Babuna Pass. Desperate fighting is expected around Prilep and to the south of that point.

A Bulgarian force is advancing from Krushevo to cut off the Serbian line of retreat towards Kresna and the Albanian frontier.

On the northern front the Serbs are fighting desperately, contesting every inch of territory.

The Reuter correspondent declares that while his information is unofficial, the Serbian legation admits that it probably is correct.

CONSTANTINE'S PLANS NOW UNDERSTOOD

PARIS, Nov. 17.—All French, British and Serbs who may be driven out of Serbia or Bulgaria into Greek territory will be disarmed and interned.

All diplomats have suspected this was King Constantine's plan before. To-day they are sure of it. It explains a queer detail of the Bulgar campaign.

The Bulgarians in Serbia apparently have made no attempt at a systematic general advance. Detached bodies have been operating far to the Southward of their main line. These bodies have been too large for mere scouting parties, but seemingly not large enough for independent operations. They have attacked the Allies fiercely at many points along the Greek frontier.

It is now the opinion of French and British commanders that these attacks are not part of a plan for a smashing general victory. Their purpose is to drive the Allies, a few at a time, so that they can be overpowered easily, into Greece.

HON. W. T. WHITE ADDRESSES HALIFAX BOARD OF TRADE

HALIFAX, Nov. 18.—"Economic conditions in Canada and the War Loan," was the subject of a straightforward, instructive and heart-to-heart talk by the Hon. W. T. White, Minister of Finance, at the Board of Trade rooms yesterday afternoon. The rooms were crowded with business men.

Mr White said that prior to the outbreak of war, Canada had been borrowing millions every month. When war was declared no more money could be borrowed. For the first six months after August 1914 Canada had an adverse balance of $60,000,000. Since then all had been changed. There was now a trade balance in our favour; economy had resulted in the husbanding of our resources; our manufacturing industries were working at capacity; and our crops were heavy.

It had been marvellous the way Great Britain had been able to raise, equip and maintain in the field over 3,000,000 men. This war would not be won by any decisive battle, but by attrition, by the nation that could longest stand the strain on her resources. Canada had sent thousands of men and he thought she should now send money also.

A Canadian war loan would be announced in all its details on Monday next. This loan would present an attractive field for investment and he hoped that the people of Halifax would give it their support.

WEAK AND TIRED WOMAN

TELLS HOW VINOL MAKES HER STRONG.

Charlottetown and Souris women who are weak, run-down and suffer from the consequent effects of such a condition, will be interesting in Mrs. Odell's letter. She says:

"I am a farmer's wife and was all run-down, weak, tired, and suffered from indigestion, and sometimes it seemed as though I could not keep around and do my housework. I had taken my medicine without benefit. One day I saw Vinol advertised, and made up my mind to try it. I ihave taken four bottles and have gained seven pounds in weight, am much stronger, and feel many years younger than before." Sarah Odell, Lockport, N. Y.

The reason Vinol builds up weak, run-down women so quickly is because it contains a delicious combination of the three most successful tonics, peptonate of iron to enrich and revitalize the blood, the strength-creating, body-building elements of fresh cods' livers without oil, and beef peptone.

We want to say to every weak rundown, overworked woman in Charlottetown and Souris that we will return your money if Vinol fails to help you as it did Mrs. Odell.
