While in Charlottetown Father McWade was entertained by his hosts, Mrs. Thomas Koughan of Weymouth St., and Mrs. Frank Flynn of Sydney St. Father McWade also visited the birth place of his father, Mr. Michael J. McWade of St. Teresa's, where he was given a splendid reception by Rev. Basil Croken and his many friends and relatives.

VEHICLE TRAFFIC—Some days ago in order to find out how many carriages and automobiles travelled over the four main arteries leading to the city, men were put on at Hillsboro Bridge, St. Peter's Road, the Lower and Upper Malpeque Roads. As a result it was found by correct tabulations on certain days of the week that an average of over five thousand vehicles came to and left the city. The checkings were made by the Public Works department.

—LEGION CONVENTION—The annual convention of the Canadian Legion Provincial command will open at 2 o'clock sharp on Wednesday next. During the afternoon a wreath will be placed on the monument in Queen Square in memory of those who fell. In the evening a Banquet will be held in the Canadian National Hotel at which the chief speaker will be Major (Rev.) A. E. Andrew, M. C. of Pictou, Nova Scotia.

Campbell and daughter Laura, accompanied by Mrs. Isabella MacKinnon, and Mr. and Mrs. John Coy, of Medford, Mass., arrived on the Island Saturday to spend a few weeks with Mr. Campbell's daughter, Mrs. John MacPhail of Argyle. It is Mr. and Mrs. Coy's first visit to the Island, and they express themselves as being most favorably impressed with its scenic beauty. Although well into the quarter of a century has elapsed since the Misses MacKinnon and Campbell, first left their native land, they still sing loud praises, and look forward with eager anticipation the greeting of old timers of their childhood days.

Lecture On Hell At The Forum

Another much misunderstood theme was dealt with at the Forum last night by Evangelist F.W. Johnston, the speaker at the Prophetic Conference, when he presented the subject of Hell. Before dealing with the more difficult passages of scripture on the subject he handled the plainer texts such as the one found in Malachi 5: 1 where it states that "All the proud and all that do wickedly shall be stubble; and the day that cometh shall burn them up, and that it shall leave them neither root nor branch." He also read a similar passage in Ps. 37: 20 where it says "The wicked shall perish, and the enemies of the Lord shall be as the fat of lambs for into smoke shall they consume away." These and many other such texts the evangelist said taught conclusively that the wicked would be completely destroyed, annihilated, burned up to ashes and as he read that "Yet a little while and the wicked shall not be; yea thou shalt diligently search his place, and it shall not be." Ps. 37: 10. Thus at the evangelist said if we take these scriptures alone we must believe in the total annihilation of all the wicked.

He then located the place and the time when all this would happen; for he said there is no hell at the present time. Hell fire he said is to become a realization at the close of the millennium and read Revelation 20: 7-10 in support of it. Even this text the evangelist said reveals the fact that even the devil will not be cast into hell till then. Nor can the wicked who are dead ever be resurrected. He said that till they first receive a resurrection. In this connection he read John 5: 28, 19 which speaks of the resurrection to damnation. Thus the resurrection precedes their destruction showing conclusively that they are not dead at all, but rather after the coming of Christ, and even 1000 years after that.

But now the evangelist enquired that if the wicked are to be totally destroyed what about those passages that speak of the fire as being everlasting, eternal and unquenchable? His answer is plain said Mr. Johnston. The fire itself is indeed everlasting, but the wicked are not everlasting. Where do we read of everlasting people he enquired? Nowhere. Therefore since the wicked are not made of asbestos, when they come into contact with everlasting fire they themselves are burned up. All will agree that if a stick of wood should be cast into everlasting fire it would immediately be consumed. So with the wicked.

But what is this everlasting fire he enquired? For when he said the prophet says in Isaiah 34: 8 "The streams are turned into pitch and the dust into brimstone and the land itself becomes burning pitch" you will have your lake of fire at the close of the millennium.

This everlasting fire he said that turns even the clay and rock into a molten mass is none other than the fiery glory of the presence of God. He read Hebrews 12: 29 "For our God is a consuming fire" and since he is called the everlasting God therefore his presence is the everlasting fire that consumes the wicked. He also read in Isaiah 66: 24 "They that dwell therein" therefore he said since God is everlasting and since his presence is a consuming fire, it is evident that God's presence is the everlasting fire that consumes the wicked. And strange to say that nevertheless his presence is the righteous will be able to dwell in the presence of the consuming fire of God's presence, and read Isaiah 33: 1-15 to prove it. He stated that the reason the righteous could dwell in God's presence was because they are changed from mortality to immortality at the second coming of Christ.

He closed his lecture by pointing his hearers to the glorious reward awaiting the righteous after all sin and sinners were destroyed.

quently visit our shores during the years which lie ahead.

W. J. P. MACMILLAN, Premier.

Reply to Provincial Address

In replying His Excellency spoke as follows:

I am very glad indeed to find myself once more in Prince Edward Island, of which I have the most happy recollections from my previous visit. Lady Bessborough, who was unable to accompany me on that occasion, has been looking forward keenly to seeing your beautiful Province and it is a great pleasure to her to have this opportunity of doing so.

Both of us are profoundly grateful for the terms of your Address, and for the sincere and kindly welcome which it expresses. We appreciate also your generous allusions to such contributions as we have been able to make to the welfare of Canada and her citizens during the past few years. To us, they have been years full of interest and happiness, which have been made all the more memorable by the friendly welcome invariably extended to us in all parts of the Dominion. There is no need, therefore, for me to assure you that our leave-taking is tinged with very real regret at the ending of so happy a period in our lives.

The task of representing the King in Canada, full of responsibility and even anxiety though it must be, is made easier by the widespread evidence of Canada's unwavering devotion to His Majesty's Throne and Person. It will give me great pleasure to assure His Majesty once more that nowhere is that devotion deeper than in Prince Edward Island, and to convey to him the loyal message which was embodied in your Address. In this historic year, the Silver Jubilee of His Majesty's eventful reign, I know that he receives such messages with special pleasure.

Once more, Mr. Premier, let me thank you very sincerely for your kind references to ourselves and to our children. May I in turn express the hope that the years to come will bring all happiness and prosperity to all who have their homes in this beautiful Island, to which you are rightly so much attached.

Civic Address

His Worship Mayor Kennedy, M. B. E., read the following address: In the name and on behalf of the citizens of Charlottetown, we, the Mayor and Councilmen, extend to you a cordial welcome to our City, and we desire to give expression to our appreciation of the great honor you have conferred upon us by your visit.

No only is it a very great pleasure to welcome Your Excellency as the guiding hand of the destinies of our great Dominion of Canada, and the direct representative of His Most Gracious Majesty King George V, but, if possible, that pleasure is enhanced on this occasion by your illustrious career as a statesman and by your nobility of character as a man.

It is a source of satisfaction to us that your visit is taking place at a time of the year when our city and countryside are invested in the fullness of their summer verdure. We trust that it may be possible for you to visit some of the picturesque spots in our Province, so that you may thereby be enabled to form an adequate idea of the rare scenic beauty with which nature has endowed it.

We feel very confident you will pardon us in believing that Her Excellency the Countess of Bessborough has been a most valued contributory interest in your public as well as in your private life, for we learn that her graciousness of manner and nobleness of heart have endeared her wherever known and have created a bond of friendship which will bind while memory lasts.

With every assurance of our devotion to His Most Gracious Majesty, our loyalty to our great inheritance—the Dominion of Canada—and our fervent prayer that Providence may be your guide and strewn your path with happiness and prosperity.

Reply to Civic Address

In replying to the Civic address, His Excellency said:

I am most grateful to you and to all your fellow-citizens in Charlottetown for the Address which you have presented to me.

reference to its treatment of reports in the Italian press saying some British troops were killed in a clash with Ethiopians.

The British Foreign Office said the incident occurred three years ago.

The native press, describing the information as "false" and an invented communique, accused the Italian press of continuous harmful propaganda.

For the second time within a week the women of Ethiopia staged a huge patriotic demonstration in the main square of the city.

Relays of speakers harangued crowds, urging the support of Emperor Haile Selassie in appealing for assistance of the Red Cross.

Meantime Emperor Haile Selassie authorized a written statement to the effect that the problem of war or peace in Africa is now squarely up to the League of Nations.

Convention Speaker

CYRUS M. YOCUM

Cyrus M. Yocum, who is to be special speaker at the annual provincial convention of the Churches of Christ at Murray Harbour on August 3, 3, and 4, is executive secretary in the division of foreign missions of the United Christian Missionary Society of the Churches of Christ, and an authority on world missions among church leaders today.

As a member of the survey committee of the Churches of Christ, Mr. Yocum visited Mexico in 1924, and Belgium Congo in Africa in 1925 where he not only directed a survey of the mission field of the Churches of Christ, but also made a thorough study of the work for administrative purposes. He later visited Jamaica in connection with a survey of that field, and in 1931 made a trip to India, the Philippines, China and Japan for the purpose of making readjustments in the work.

Mr. Yocum is a graduate of Bethany College. Before entering the missionary work in 1917, he was a successful pastor for twelve years in Pennsylvania and Indiana, and understands the minister's problems as well as the work of the local church. He then served with the Foreign Christian Missionary Society until it merged with the United Christian Missionary Society.

TRINITY UNITED CHURCH

"And he looked up and said I see men as trees walking. After that he put his hands again upon his eyes and made him look up and he was restored and saw every man clearly." St. Mark, 8: 24-25.

The blind restored to sight, Rev. Mr. Miller in his morning sermon referred specially to the "second touch." There is always more or less commotion when a leader of men visits a small town. The fame of Jesus as a great teacher and healer was known throughout the land and on this occasion of His visit to Bethesda, friends bring a blind man and pray for Jesus to touch him. The arresting point is that Jesus touched the blind man's eyes twice before he was completely healed. The miracle of the second touch. We are Christians but not the Christians we ought to be. We need a second conversion to complete the first. Our vision is blurred, we see men as material objects, we need to see them as fellow children of God. Mr. Miller dwelt upon the faith which the blind man's friends had in Christ's power, Faith and sight. At first touch the blind man saw men in mass. His vision was blurred. At the second touch he saw each clearly. He often become eloquent over the needs of humanity and we are blind to the needs of our neighbor. We are apt to lose the place and value of the individual in the mass.

There was a good congregation. The flowers on either side of the pulpit reflected the beauty of nature as revealed in the garden at this season of the year and were a credit to the flower committee for the month.

The service of praise was greatly enriched by the glorious mezzo soprano voice of Miss Norma Gregg of Chicago who sang "Ave Maria" (German text) by Max Baruch, and "How Beautiful Upon the Mountains" by Harker.

The text of Rev. Mr. Miller's sermon in the evening was Luke 17: 19 "And John calling unto him two of his disciples sent them to Jesus saying, 'Art thou he that should come or look we for another?'

Rev. Mr. Miller leaves this morning for a vacation during the month of August. He will be accompanied by Mrs. Miller. Miss Lillian McKenzie is presiding at the organ during the absence of Prof. Kendall. Her playing yesterday was a delightful feature of the service of praise.

ACTIVE TRADING ON N. Y. MART

(By Frank MacMillan, Associated Press Financial Writer)
(A. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)
NEW YORK, July 28—Equities strode vigorously along into new high ground in active trading on the New York Stock Exchange Saturday.

In terms of the Associated Press average of 60 stocks, the market closed at a new high for the year at 46.6, up 4 of a point. Trading was faster than Friday and more active than any Saturday since June 22. Transactions totalled 734,240 shares.

Brokers said they could point to no general news development, but that the market and believed most of the buying came into the steel and motros on favorable reports from those sectors.

Buying which put both Chrysler and General Motors up to new highs was interpreted in commission houses in terms of the automobile output for the week. Cranes estimate put the total for the week at 82,594 units compared with 83,266 in the preceding week and 69,412 in the corresponding week a year ago.

New high levels reached by steel shares were attributed to a rise of 50 cents a ton in Chicago scrap steel, making an increase of $1 a ton on the week, as well as to estimates that operations at Youngstown next week will be four points higher at 53 per cent of capacity.

Amongst Canadian issues Canadian Pacific, Dominion Stores, International Nickel, McIntyre-Purcupine, Ford of Canada and Hiram Walker were fractionally higher. Dome and Distillers-Seagrams lost slightly.

Three-Fingered Abe?

Repeats Demand

GENEVA, July 28—(C.P.—Havas)—Ethiopia today repeated its demand that the League of Nations re-define the task of the mixed Italo-Ethiopian arbitration commission on the dispute between Italy and Ethiopia.

The demand was in the form of a telegram from the Ethiopian government to the League of Nations. Secretary General Avelino immediately forwarded the communication to all members of the League Council. It denied that Ethiopia had ever consented to have the work of the commission limited to recent border incidents.

The note was in reply to Italy's communication of yesterday which said, "in case the Ethiopian government made known officially its intentions, the Italian government would see no difficulty in participating in the meeting of the council of the League of Nations at the date fixed by the president."

Seeks Co-operation

LONDON, July 28—Great Britain sought today the cooperation of France to persuade Italy to reconsider the rigid conditions it has made governing its attendance at the League of Nations council called to attempt settlement of the Italo-Ethiopian controversy.

Premier Mussolini's insistence that the discussions must be limited to the conciliation procedure which now stands deadlocked on the Uthali incident has thrown the British plans into disorder.

Efforts to gain the full co-operation of France in persuading Italy to discuss broader issues are understood to be hampered by France's desire to have the League council hand the problem over to the three powers—Italy, Great Britain and France—signatory to the 1906 Ethiopian treaty.

The Sunday Times writer "Sor-utator" in an editorial today described the attempt to restrict the council negotiations to the Uthali incident as "a wretched scuffle about a water hole in the desert."

If this occasion of the quarrel were its real substance, he wrote, "it could be settled in a forenoon." The editorial urged that the League be left out of the dispute, and asserted that if France and England would work together they could prevent the threatened war.

AMHERST, Mass., July 27 — A Massachusetts State College professor is trying to put the people of Labrador on a new diet.

Professor Fred C. Sears, head of the pomology department, is spending his seventh summer with the Grenfell Mission. Stat's College officials said yesterday, experimenting in cultivating fruits and vegetables suited to the Labrador climate.

In the past, the inhabitants have subsisted mainly on meat and fish. Professor Sears wants them to eat more fruits and vegetables to correct a serious nutrition problem.

Tourist Increase Is Noted

(A. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)
WASHINGTON, July 28. Commerce Department figures disclosed today that in the first year of repeal, United States tourists increased their expenditures in Canada and Mexico, former nearby bases. Total expenditures by United States tourists in 1934 were estimated at $314,000,000, compared with $292,000,000 in 1933.

But while there was a $10,000,000 drop in the outlay overseas, tourists spent $10,000,000 more in Canada, and $13,000,000 more in Mexico than during the last year of prohibition.

Amos E. Taylor, official who prepared the report, attributed an $11,000,000 foreign tourist increase to a 22 per cent jump in the number of Canadian motor cars entering the United States, and a 23-per-cent increase in the number of aliens admitted "for business, pleasure and transit."

Noted Artist Drowned In Minas Basin

KENTVILLE, N. S., July 28—Mrs. Louis Saunders, 65-year-old native of Sackville, E., and an artist of note, was drowned Saturday within sight of the spot where her husband, Dr. Saunders of Kentville, died from a heart attack four years ago.

Early Saturday morning she was seen going from her summer cottage to the shore of Minas Basin, clad only in her bathing suit. Later in the day the crew of a motorboat rounding Cape Blomidon found her body floating on the water.

IN MEMORIAM

In sad but loving memory of our dear mother who departed this life nine years ago today July 29, 1926.

Today we are thinking of some one who was a very kind and true friend. Whose smile was a ray of sunshine. Dear Mother that someone is you. You were called up home to heaven. Where pain and sickness are no more. God did call you darling mother. To the land of peace and rest. But you'll never be forgotten. By the ones who loved you best. The days are sad without you. And nothing seems just right. A face we dearly love has gone. A heart so kind and bright. In our home a chair is vacant. And a voice forever still. Still for you our hearts are breaking.

Oh we know it is God's will. Who is missing from the circle. One whose face so full of cheer. One who with your smiles of sunshine brightened our home for many a year. When the shadows of night are falling. And we are sitting all alone. In our heart there comes a longing. If you dear mother could only come home. Inherited by her sons Leonard B. Trowsdale, Quincey Mass., Bert Trowsdale Westmoreland, P. E. I.
