MURDEROUSLY ASSAULTED

Edgar McCarron Stabbed on Lower Queen Street

Dragged by the Legs to the Wharf Where he Remained About Four Hours Before Discovered.

What was first thought to have been murder and which proved to be a murderous assault occurred on the corner of Queen and Water Streets between twelve and one yesterday morning. The victim was Edgar McCarron, a sailor, and his assailants were Alfred and Ernest Chapman, living at the head of Peake's No. 2 Wharf. Frank McLeod known as Dutchy was with McCarron but left when the assault commenced.

Officers Taylor and Kiggins were on duty and heard of the assault. Sergeant Bradley in the station was sent for and arrived shortly. Mrs. Conners told him that the injured man had been dragged, one at each leg, to the wharf. Another witness stated that he followed the Chapman's who were hidden on a coal pile and after took refuge under a scow.

Sergeant Bradley went to the assailants' house demanded entrance, and found the Chapmans. They said they had left McCarron on the corner. In response to a threat of arrest they defied the officers.

After two hours further search for McCarron the officers returned to Chapmans' house and arrested both. Ernest shewed fight but was handcuffed and taken by Sergeant Bradley and Officer Kiggins, Alfred by Officer Taylor.

On Alfred was found a small knife which is believed to have been used on McCarron. They stated that he had asked for money they hit him and his friend McLeod took him away.

After further search McLeod was found in a barn at Davy's Lane, but he knew nothing of McCarron.

The hunt was continued and about five o'clock McCarron staggard up from the wharf where he had taken refuge under a building. He had two bad cuts on his face, one over the eye, one alongside his nose, his nose was broken and his face covered with blood. He was brought to the station, Dr. Kelly dressed the wounds and he was sent to the City Hospital.

At nine he was reported on Water Street. He was arrested and again sent to the Hospital.

The Chapmans for whom warrants were issued, come up for trial this morning.

REV. W. W. LODGE.
The new pastor of Grace Church.

REV. W. W. LODGE BEGINS HIS PASTORATE IN GRACE CHURCH

Rev. W. W. Lodge began his pastorate in Grace Church yesterday. The Reverend gentleman who is already known to many Charlottetown people preached two able sermons to large congregations.

In the morning his text was:—

"We preach not ourselves but Christ Jesus the Lord; and ourselves, your servants for Jesus sake." 2. Cor 4 & 5. As we meet to-day as pastor and people—we are desirous of striking the key note of our common and united ministry. Let it be clear; it is Christ. We sound the trumpet tone, let there be no uncertain sound. In the great and serious matter which we have in hand it is important that we and all concerned should have a clearly defined aim. It is to proclaim and advance the gospel and round this we may find such a centre that we shall not only be bound to Christ himself, but as I hope as the time goes on, be united more earnestly and closely one to another.

We preach: Preaching is a peculiar function and in some respects peculiar to Christianity. No other religion has preaching in it; it is not discussion, not conversation, not exposition, like that given by scientific teachers, not merely explanation—it is the utterance of an inward Christian conviction and the proclamation of Gospel truth in such a way that the lives of men may by the blessing of Almighty God be ennobled, sanctified and made Christ-like. It is a message of mercy and of life to the sinful and unregenerate, and health and food and vital energy to the saved in Jesus Christ.

We preach, "not ourselves;" People soon tire of a prophet, whose prophecy is only about himself or in his own name.

And yet the Gospel goes through a man as water goes through a channel. It is colored by the man's convictions, reasonings, thoughts, fears, hopes, loves. He cannot get away from himself. And yet if he gains in influence it will be through spiritual service and being one with the Master. He may of course be a friend warmly received into the homes and hearts of the people, winning confidence, helpful to the young in their early hope and struggles, drawing out radiant smiles from the dear children in their families and comforting to the aged. I am ambitious enough to hope that some of these things will belong to me through your affection and confidence growing up around me. But friendship, as much as I prize it, is not the distinguished sign of the Minister of the Gospel, but service. He is the servant.

Is he then to do everybody's bidding? Ah, no. Is he to be a kind of spiritual servant for all work? No. He is your servant for Jesus' sake. He takes his commands through Jesus. It is Jesus whom we serve, it is His message of light and love, that we bring; it is in our Master's name that we come to you, it is bearing the authority of His truth that we stand before you today. "We are ambassadors for Christ." What then is the substance, of the message of Christ's Minister. Not ourselves but Christ Jesus the Lord.

First we preach the Divine personality in Chirst, man's greatest need is to see God. Biblical history is a series of pathways, leading man back to God, and these pages of holy writ all interpret God in Christ Jesus. Every mountain pass of revelation leads to the Anointed One, and when Christ is preached men actually see God. God in Christ becomes incarnate and through Him becomes incarnate in humanity. Jesus Christ is Lord. Christ legislates as God. There is no appeal against His decree. His law is binding, his teaching final. He loves like God not only Peter, James and John but Judas Iscariot, Mary Magdalene, Nicodemus the coward and Pontius Pilate the time server.

We preach, secondly—The divine propitiation through Christ. The word "propitiation" refers to Christ's death, whereby Christ's death is brought to us as sinners. It will be the purpose of my ministry to press these claims home to the hearts and consciences of all, until you fully and completely acknowledge Christ as Lord, Lord of man, ruling the man's body with it's passions and inclinations, guiding the man's mind, preserving the intellect from sophistry, and the conscience from error and the heart from corruption. Lord of the woman, touching the tender heart with a deeper pathos for the sufferings of the world, making her man's help-mate in all that is pure and ennobling, and enabling her with man to deal with all that is evil in society and degrading in public sentiment. Lord of the child alluring the young life along paths of obedience and self-denial and thoughtfulness and yet filling the laps with buttercups and daisies, merriment and laughter.

Lord of the home, determining its expenditure, its giving, its habits, its prayers and its purposes, and binding all into one holy fellowship. Lord of the church, giving truth to feed the mind, grace to support the life, wisdom to guide the judgment, reverence to lift up the soul in worship, enthusiasm to inspire the work, and a peaceful spirit binding all together by one golden chain of loving brotherhood. Lord of the State, decreeing justice to all, bringing law into harmony with divine teaching, lifting up the poor, abasing the proud, rebuking the evil doer, overturning all iniquity. Lord of the world, driving back the darkness, destroying false religion, bringing in the true, making earth like heaven. Subjects of Christ everywhere, in business, in the home, in reading, in talking, in amusements, in social life, in crying, in laughing, in living, in dying, may God help you to think and hear and help me to preach and help us all to serve and to pray, so that this sanctuary during our pastorate may be filled with the presence and glory of our Lord.

At the evening service Rev. Mr. Lodge took for his subject: Fellow workers with God, and spoke from I. Corinthians 5-9, For we are laborers together with God; ye are God's husbandry, ye are God's building.

VALUABLE ADVICE TO RHEUMATICS.

Eat meat sparingly, and take very little sugar. Avoid damp feet, drink water abundantly, and always rely on Polson's Nerviline as an absolute reliever of rheumatic pains. Being five times stronger than other remedies, its power over pain is simply beyond belief. Buy a large 25 cent bottle to-day, test it, and see if this is not so Polson's Nerviline always cures rheumatism.

LORD MAYORS.

A correspondent asks what becomes of all the lord mayors of London, who are chosen every year and then vanish from the scene. A lord mayor of London until fifty years ago was a glittering nonentity, as far as the public was concerned. I see that when sovereigns deigned to proceed to Guildhall to be entertained by the lord mayor they ate at a high table, and when dinner was ready the mayor departed to anywhere it was convenient, perhaps the back stairs, and partook of his. This custom prevailed, says a writer, until 1855, when Napoleon III. was the first sovereign with whom the lord mayor dined at the same table. The lord mayor of Edward VII.'s coronation year received his sovereigns in great state, and dined with them, as became a gentleman who pays a large fortune every year for the honor of being a figurehead.
