Strike Seen In Teacher's Settlement

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) INVERNESS, N. S., Nov. 28. - A strike of Inverness teachers was believed at an end tonight when a special meeting of the School Board accepted their demand for 40 per cent of current salaries monthly, and two per cent of arrearsages. The teachers, who went on strike today, had not received a signed agreement from the Board and made no definite announcement that they would go back to work. A meeting was called for 8.30 tomorrow morning, half an hour before classes open, however, and a spokesman said he thought all would agree to return to their desks. Working without pay for more than a year, the teachers are owed more than $16,000 by the town. A grant of $3,000 from the provincial government to help the town meet its school crisis was distributed today, the 20 teachers receiving amounts ranging from $50 to $150 each.

Dr. Bernard Miller pronounced him dead from strangulation.

Undaunted By Threat Of Il Duce

(Continued from Page 1) sanctions committee next meets, probably Wednesday. Information has been received here that Il Duce has decided once more to reinforce the Libyan-Egyptian frontier. Rome views the threatened oil embargo as a serious threat to Italy.

Havas dispatch from Alexandria said it had been learned from reliable sources that Mussolini would order the army division already withdrawn from Libya as a peace gesture sent back to the Egyptian frontier again. Meanwhile, Anglo-French talks for an Ethiopian peace have been greeted with satisfaction here. Private information from Rome indicates that since economic sanctions went into effect Il Duce has become much less exciting in his attitude.

It was viewed as encouraging in informed quarters here that the British Ethiopian expert, Maurice Drummond Peterson, was remaining in Paris, where he has been conferring with the French colonial expert, Count Rene Doynel De St. Quentin.

(G.P. By Guardian's Special Wire) OTTAWA, Nov. 28. - Problems arising from the pending transfer of relief camps from the Department of National Defence to the Labor Department, will be studied by a committee of three, Norman Rogers, Minister of Labor, announced today.

R. A. Riggs, chief of the Dominion Employment Service, Humphrey Mitchell, former Federal member for East Hamilton, and Dr. E. W. Bradwin, President of Frontier College, will start immediately on a visit to the camps. Their tour will cover as many of the 100,000 camps in Canada as it is possible to visit in the next few months. They will report to the Minister of Labor.

Simultaneous with his announcement of the committee's appointment, Mr. Rogers stated it was hoped to close out the camps entirely during 1936. His view was that camp workers should be absorbed in regular employment as soon as possible. Relief camps could not be permitted to become a permanency. They had been organized as an emergency measure. While it was necessary to continue them, the Labor Department proposed to see the workers were given useful employment.

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) TORONTO, Nov. 28. - The Lindbergh ransom notes were written by Bruno Hauptmann, and even though now he faces death in the electric chair he will never name the second person in the plot because he fears for the life of his own son if he does," said Frederick W. J. home to visit an aunt.

(A. P. By Guardian's Special Wire) HARTLAND, N. B., Nov. 28. - Arrested this afternoon on a charge of attempted murder, James Mintz, of the parish of Wilmot was arraigned in the police court here and committed for trial.

Fishes charged that Mintz held a revolver shot through the former's bedroom window last night after the elderly complainant had retired. He was showered with fragments of glass and the bullet passed close to his head but he escaped injury.

Police said they were told that Mintz had objected to Fisher's presence in the house where the informant has been boarding. Mintz, it was said, visited the house last evening and the shooting occurred soon after he left.

Threat Of New Anglo-Italian Tension

(Continued from Page 1) of his cabinet, found time to see Italian Ambassador Vittorio Cerullo, who, officials said, repeated Mussolini's recent warning that an embargo on oil to Italy by the League of Nations meant war. M. Laval was reported to have informed Cerullo that the main bases for peace in Ethiopia had been drafted by French and British experts but that they must be held in abeyance until military operations cease.

Ethiopians Claim Makale Retaken

(Continued from Page 1) following communique: "A section of the first army corps, comprising General Orreste Martini's column, is continuing mopping-up operations, turning toward the eastern portion of the high plateau-land, while other units are completing reinforcement of the line between Makale and Do'o. Aviation forces are making scout flights in the Quorom region (near Lake Achangid)."

Changes In Command earlier, he held a long conference with his predecessor, Marshal Emilio de Bono, who is on his way back to Italy. The organization of Italian forces and tactics is likely to be changed radically as a result of the change in command, it was believed here.

Observers predicted that the army would take over the administration of Ethiopia. They said the designation of Gen. Guzzoni as vice-governor was an indication of this. It is understood that the Italian government now feels that the Ethiopian campaign was not merely a colonizing expedition, but an actual war which must be conducted in a military fashion.

'Ginger' With Jane Withers - Jackie Searl At Prince Edward

A bundle of sure-fire, top-notch comedy entertainment began an engagement, yesterday, at the Prince Edward Theatre. The picture "Ginger," which boasts the talent of little, nine-year-old Jane Withers, an expert comedienne who is the heroine in "Bright Eyes," kept last night's audience agog every minute of its playing time and the applause, that followed it, gave proof of this reviewer's sentiments. "Ginger" boasts the world's champion small girl and boy heavies of the Capitol Theatre, Jackie Searl and Walter King provide an unusual romance and it is a sure bet that both will shortly achieve important screen positions.

LAVAL WINS 'Hellodoro' At Capitol

(Continued from Page 1) day but the danger of an eventual defeat still lay ahead. A real test is expected when Laval's economy decrees themselves are devaluated. Edouard Herriot's Radical Socialists, who hold the balance of power, have indicated they will oppose the government on some decrees. They said today's vote giving financial debate priority over discussion of the Fascist leagues "does not mean we accept all decrees."

The danger to the franc, it was said in government quarters, lies in the Chamber upsetting the budget's balance by failing to ratify deflationary decrees, thus shaking investors' confidence. If the government is unable to borrow sufficient money to pay deficits, it might be forced to seek funds through devaluation.

Laval, in presenting his motion to give precedence to the budget over all other matters, said: "The government will avoid no debate nor seek to evade any of its responsibilities. The Chamber must decide upon the order of the debate."

Gain Noted In Tourist Industry

OTTAWA, Nov. 28. - The Canadian Association of Tourist and Publicity Bureaus today expressed approval of the government's proposal to permit Canadian travellers to the United States to return with $100 of goods duty free.

The Association, holding its sixth annual convention, was welcomed by Hon. C. D. Howe, Minister of Railways, Canals and Marine, who prophesied the recently-signed trade agreement between Canada and the United States would promote greater friendship as well as more trade between the two countries.

The meeting decided to restrict Association membership to government, municipal or other properly organized tourist bureaus spending money to bring visitors to their areas. Delegates said they did not wish to admit organizations merely exploiting tourists.

President J. F. C. Fousette, who is also executive secretary of the Tourist and Convention Bureau of Winnipeg and Manitoba, said Canada's tourist business in the past year has shown a "healthy gain over that of the previous year."

Richard Arlen and Madge Evans play the young adventurer and the heiress with outstanding skill and prominent in their support are such important players as Ralph Bellamy, James Gleason, Henry B. Walthall, Helen Jerome Eddy, Berton Churchill and Stephen Fetsch.
