One of their most noted works being the rebuilding of the tower of St. Peter's Bay Roman Catholic Church, a work which seemed to defy the efforts of the most skilled workman to make permanent, but since its construction by Rice Bros., some years ago, it is one of the finest built and handsomest church towers on Prince Edward Island; and greatly enhances the beauty of that magnificent church building.—Two Sisters from St. Vincent de Paul Roman Catholic Orphanage were here last week on a collecting tour.—Mr. Swan expert for the International Harvester Company was here last week.—Mr. George Sutherland of Cardigan Bridge who has been local representative for this company is leaving for Charlottetown where he has obtained a more lucrative position in the company's employ.
