Good Twine

There is a world of satisfaction for the farmer in the use of Twine that runs smoothly in his Binder from beginning to end of the harvest. We now have in stock the good, old reliable.

"Green Sheaf"

Which is even and strong throughout and is more economical to use than short-length Twine. The length is guaranteed by tag on every ball of Green Sheaf.

Treated With Insect Repellent

For real Twine satisfaction there is nothing like the genuine Green Sheaf manufactured by the Plymouth Cordage Company.

THE THINNING OF APPLES.

(Experimental Farms Note.)

Under average market conditions thinning apples when the set is very heavy is unquestionably profitable from the standpoint of the fruit alone, but when the set is rather light thinning may reduce the yield without measurably improving the size or quality of the fruit. Crimson Beauty, Duchess, Wealthy, Wagener, Baldwin, Ben Davis and Stark that tend to set very heavy crops in alternate years require thinning during the fruiting year. The thinning should be done immediately after the June drop has occurred. The fruit at this time is about the size of cherries. The fruits should be thinned from 4 to 10 inches apart on the branches, according to the variety, or thinned so that but one fruit remains on each fruit spur. The excess fruit is clipped off by small shears. Care should be exercised at the time of thinning to remove all scabby, worm-eaten, or misshapen fruits. Ladders are necessary in thinning large trees. If thinning were more generally practised in conjunction with thorough spraying or dusting, the unsatisfactory No. 3 apple would not be so much in evidence.

Experiments in thinning apples at The Dominion Experimental Station, Kentville, point to the following facts:

(1) Thinning will increase the percentage of No. 1 and No. 2 grades and decrease the percentage of No. 3's to a minimum; (2) It will enhance the color and uniformity and general appearance of the fruit, and result in better prices being obtained for the thinned fruit. (In a trial shipment of Blenheims, No. 1, thinned, netted $2.01; No. 1 unthinned, netted $1.67, per barrel); (3) thinning will pay for the labor charges, varying from $5 to $13 per acre, according to the size of the trees, and will in addition pay a profit over the unthinned fruit of from $20 to $30 per acre; (4) a heavy crop retards tree growth, hence thinning may be beneficial to the tree by preventing the breaking of branches and by diverting to the use of the tree for development of roots and other parts material that would otherwise have been used for the development of excessive fruits.

SUMMER VISITORS. —Dr. W. W. Taylor of New York, Mrs Taylor and little son are spending their holidays at their summer cottage at Brighton. Dr. Taylor is a native of Charlottetown and now a prominent physician in New York City. His many freinds are glad to welcome Dr and Mrs Taylor to the city and especially glad to know that they now own a summer residence here and will spend their future summers here. Mrs Taylor is especially welcomed as a splendid addition to Charlottetown music circle. She has been heard with much appreciation in several of the city churches.

ST. DUNSTAN'S CATHEDRAL. —At the eleven o'clock services in St. Dunstan's Cathedral yesterday, Rev. Urban R. Gillis, Grand River, celebrated High Mass, the sermon for the Sunday being preached in a masterly manner by the Rev. Patrick McMahon, D. D., of the Cathedral staff. Also at all the Masses in the Cathedral yesterday a special collection in aid of the Chinese Mission Fields was taken up.

TWO INJURED IN COLLISION. —By a collision between two carriages, which occurred in the city on Saturday evening, Duncan Stewart of Cross Roads, Lot 48 and Mrs. MacDonald of Alexandra were somewhat seriously hurt, the former sustaining a dislocated shoulder and the latter a broken collarbone. The injured man and woman were taken to the P. E. Island Hospital, where at latest reports, they are resting comfortably.

WELL RENDERED SOLOS.—The musical part of the services at Zion Church yesterday was of exceptional interest. In the morning Mrs. Ewen MacKinnon was the soloist. Her solo "How Long Wilt Thou Ferget Me, O Lord" was very pleasingly rendered. At the evening service Mrs. R. N. MacKay of Amherst sang two very beautiful solos, "An Evening Prayer" and "The Publican" by Van der Water. Mrs. MacKay's beautiful contralto voice and her splendid interpretations of both solos added materially to the service. Mrs. MacKay who is a sister of Mr. Elmer Farnell, and Mr. MacKay are stopping at the Victoria for a few days, having motored over from Amherst.

Groom of a Day Found With Throat Cut

CHESTER, N. S., Auguse 21. — Herbert Von Beaverste'n, 33, of Cambridge, Mass., collector of antiques was found this evening lying on the floor with his throat cut a few minutes after he had gone upstairs with the avowed intention of shaving. The tragedy occurred here in the home of his bride, Lourena Robinson, whom he married last night and who was to have left with him tomorrow for Cambridge. An inquest was opened but adjourned shortly. The newly married couple spent today shopping in Halifax and returned here late this afternoon.

MALPEQUE

The old fashioned Malpeque tea party which had been discussed and looked forward to with much interest was held on the appointed day Wednesday, Aug. 18th. Notwithstanding many counter attractions throughout the Province there was a very large crowd in attendance, and there is no doubt if the sun had shone more brightly very many more would have patronized it. The warmth and cheer of friend greeting friend was in a large measure compensation for the lack of sunshine. Under a bower fo spruce, two long tables capable of seating one hundred people were tastefully arranged and laden with fine cookery, while meats, salads, etc, were daintily served. Ice cream, fruits and drinks, etc, were served at the refreshment booths, while large ice cakes nicely trimmed proved to be very saleable. Sports were also well conducted by Mr. Harold Simpson of Summerside and created considerable merriment for the onlookers. Altogether the "tea party" was a success and reflects much credit on the ladies of the congregation, and the ready assistance given by the gentlemen was very commendable. The proceeds is estimated to be in the vicinity of $350.00.

Mr and Mrs Stanley Donald, Moncton returned to their home on Tuesday after a pleasant holiday at Mr. Donald's old home in the Baltic.

Rev. A. N. Gillis left on Thursday morning for Sackville where he will spend several days at the interdenominational conference which is convening in that town.

Mr and Mrs S. H. Lingley left Saturday morning on return to Campbellton, N. B., after a two weeks visit with friends here. They were accompanied by Mrs Robert Stewart, Malpeque, who purposes spending some time the guest of Mr and Mrs Lingley.

Dr. D. J. Fraser, Montreal and Rev. R. H. Stavert of Hunter River were visitors to Malpeque on Monday.

Mrs George Beairsto, Malpeque is the guest of her daughter, Mrs George Thompson, Montague.

Our teachers who have been with us during the holidays and have brightened the summer by their presence have returned to commence their years work in different parts of the province. Miss Florence Craswell, Malpeque and Mr. Robert Donald, Baltic have resumed their duties in St. Eleanors and Lower Bedeque respectively. It is well when we find our teachers who have taught in our schools during the previous term willing to return to us. Miss Rogers has already entered on her second year in Hamilton school, the Misses Howatt and Smith have resumed their work in Darnley while Miss Marion MacLean lately of the Baltic school has taken a position in the primary department of Sea View. Miss Constance Hunter of Alberton has been accepted as principal of Sea View and Miss Margaret McLellan of Indian River is engaged as Baltic teacher. In a weeks time "Fanning School" will reopen with Mr. James Murphy, Sea View as principal and Miss Marion Peake as assistant. To all of these our community extends a real welcome, for they are recognized as the instructors of our boys and girls who will be the young men and women of the future. In this important work they need our co-operation and a kindly reception to our hearts and homes. The teachers in our different districts of our communities have filled a large place in the social and religious life during previous years, and it is hoped that the ensuing year may be profitable to all connected with our schools and school life.

The following are the guests during the week at the "North Shore" House, Montague:—Mrs Begg, Mrs Deacon, Summerside; Mrs H. Muttart, Miss M. Muttart, Summerside; Mrs Brennan, Miss G. Holman, Summerside; Miss N. Holman, Boston; Mr and Mrs R. E. Colville, Misses Colville, Charlottetown; Mrs Colville, Miss Colville, Charlottetown; Mr and Mrs S. Beer, Mr H. Beer, Toronto; Mrs Tweed, Mrs Lowett, St. John; Mrs Wyatt, Miss D. Wyatt, Miss W. Wyatt, Summerside; Mrs Price, Toronto; Miss G. Price, Toronto; Mrs Neil McQuarrie, Summerside; Mr and Mrs Yeo, Mr H. Hall, Charlottetown; Mr and Mrs W. Rankin, New York; Mr A. Simmons, Crapaud; Mr and Mrs Large, Albany; Miss A. Large, Albany.

Through The Political Loud Speaker

At the Robb-Dunning meeting it was quite noticeable that the applause, which was somewhat frequent during the delivery of Mr. Robb's speech and also during the first part of Mr. Dunning's speech, almost entirely subsided while the latter gentleman was discussing the Customs scandal. In fact, that portion of his speech was received with such scant evidence of approval on the part of the audience that he dropped the subject rather abruptly and went on to discuss other matters which he felt would be more pleasing to his hearers. No doubt the question that was foremost in the minds of the audience while Mr. Dunning was doing his side-stepping on the Customs matter was, that if the smuggling scandal was such a small thing, and the belated decision of the King Government to look into it as highly commendable as he would have it appear to be, why was it that friendly Progressives, who had supported the government in every previous division in the House of Commons, after being placed in possession of all the facts concerning the Customs irregularities, voted censure on Mr. King and his Ministers and thus sent them back to the electors branded by Parliament as a corrupt aggregation, incapable of giving the country clean administration.

Those who heard Mr. Dunning discuss the Customs scandal during his Strand Theatre speech would almost imagine that the Customs Department was without a Cabinet head until the late Hon. Mr. Boivin became Minister, and that after that late lamented gentleman took office he, somehow or other, discovered a smuggling scandal and at once commissioned Inspector Duncan to go to Montreal and investigate it, so that he could "clean up the mess." Mr. Dunning never mentioned the fact that for four years previous to the late Mr. Boivin's appointment, in fact right up until August of last year, there was another Minister in charge of the Department, one Jacques Bureau, and that it was under that latter gentleman's administration that the smuggling business assumed the astounding proportions which were revealed before the Customs investigating committee last spring. Mr. Dunning forgot also to tell his audience that in the early months of 1925 Inspector Duncan was investigating the Customs smuggling as an employee of the Commercial Protective Association, and that the evidence he finally gave to Mr. Boivin in his official report was practically the same as that given to Mr. King and his Ministers by the Commercial Protective Association in May and June of last year. The Ex-Minister of Railways did not tell us either that the evidence against the scoundrel, Bisaillon, which finally brought about his dismissal, was given to Mr. King by the Commercial Protective Association in the early months of last year, yet no effort was made to remove that official. Neither did he tell us that in order to give the smugglers, chief among whom was the notorious Bisaillon, free scope for their operations, Mr. Bureau removed the Mounted Police from the Quebec border, and also commanded his deputy, Mr. Farrow, not to allow the Chief Customs Inspector, Mr. Busby, to put his foot on the port of Montreal.

In his speech here last Wednesday evening Mr. Dunning stated that when a Liberal member of the Customs Committee made a motion that the smuggling investigation be moved from Montreal to Vancouver, Hon. H. H. Stevens voted against it, and he asked The Guardian to note that fact next morning. Now, the facts are, that during the progress of the investigation a Liberal member of the committee, Mr. Donaghy, made a motion that the probe be moved from the port of Montreal to the port of Vancouver. When the motion was put to a vote, however, it was defeated by 8 to 1, Mr. Donaghy alone voting for it. Among those who voted against it were the three Liberal members of the committee, including the chairman, Paul Mercier, who himself represented a Montreal constituency. Evidently the "essential element" is not figuring prominently in Mr. Dunning's propaganda.

The Patriot is apparently in great cheer over the audience of one thousand people, fully forty per cent of whom were Conservatives, who went to hear Messrs. Robb and Dunning on Wednesday evening last. It says that such a wonderful audience was conclusive proof that "the fires of Liberalism are burning brighter than ever," and that a great victory is in store for the Liberal party. Guardian readers will recall the fact that previous to the election last fall The Patriot went almost mad with joy over the vast crowds that greeted Mr. King at his meetings here. It stated that Mr. Meighan's meetings were small affairs when compared with those addressed by the Liberal leader, and it ventured the opinion that "the tories were doomed," still when election day came around Messrs. Sinclair and Jenkins were decisively beaten in Charlottetown, and if present indications are to be relied upon history will repeat itself on September 14th notwithstanding the WONDERFUL crowd that went to hear Robb and Dunning.

Hon. E. M. MacDonald predicts that the Liberal party will be victorious in the forth-coming elections and that it will make considerable gains in the Maritime Provinces. It is wonderful how promising a fight looks when one views it from the outside.
