PENSAR DYNAMIC TONIC

If you are breaking down under the strain and stress of work—take a word of timely advice. Look out for your nervous system.

It takes phosphate to nourish your nerves. Modern over-refined foods do not contain enough of these phosphates; therefore, your nerves practically "wear out."

Pensar Dynamic Tonic remedies this condition. It is rich in the vital phosphates necessary to nerve strength. It does build you up, promptly and surely. And you will be amazed at the way this scientific nerve-food—free from alcohol—increases your vigor, energy and endurance. Get a Five Weeks' Treatment bottle from us and see.

VINOL MAKES GOOD BLOOD

Positive—Convincing Proof

Many so-called remedies for anaemia are only so in name. Their makers are afraid to prove their claims by telling what their medicines contain. The only way to be honest with the people is to let them know what they are paying for. Here is the Vinol formula. When the doctor knows what a medicine contains, it ceases to be a "patent" medicine.

Code Liver and Beef Peptones, Iron and Manganese Peptones, Iron and Ammonium Citrate, Lime and Soda Glycero-phosphates, Cascarin.

Any doctor will tell you that the ingredients of Vinol, as named above, will enrich the blood and banish anaemia and create strength. When the blood is pure and rich and red, the body is strong and robust.

You can prove this at our expense because your money will be returned if Vinol does not improve your health.

RUNAWAY YESTERDAY.—Yesterday afternoon about five o'clock a large pony hitched to a jaunting sleigh ran driverless down Richmond Street, swerved at Great George and missing a small child by less than a foot, came to grief in the yard of Queen Square School. The shafts and dashboard of the sleigh were broken but the pony did not suffer any important injuries.

DIED IN VICTORIA, B. C.—Word was received yesterday by relatives in the City of the death in Vancouver, B. C. of Mr. Harry Bayfield, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bayfield, formerly of this city and now of Vancouver. His death resulted from an operation for appendicitis. He leaves to mourn his wife and one daughter, also a sister and brother, all in British Columbia.

ILL WITH APPENDICITIS.—Rev. W. D. Wilson, says a St. John exchange, finds it necessary to cancel all appointments which he has made for the next few days as his son Bruce, has just been operated upon for appendicitis. Mr. Wilson was notified of his son's illness on Saturday afternoon, when he was in the city, and he immediately left for his home in Fredericton. His son is doing as well as can be expected.

Reading, Mrs. Sanderson. Solo, Miss Saunders. Speech, William MacLeod (patient). Duet, Mrs. Newberry and Miss Lund. Phonographic Selections, Mr. Hughes. Dialogue, Miss Campbell and Miss Jenkins. Solo, Mr. Morgan. Trio, Messrs McCabe, Bernard and Russ. Chorus, The Maple Leaf Forever. Nurses and attendants. In his closing remarks Dr. MacMillan expressed the pleasure it afforded him to see so many visitors present and wished that more had an opportunity of seeing for themselves the excellent work that was being done by the staff at Falconwood. He thanked the patients for the perfect order that had prevailed throughout the evening and for their manifest appreciation of the entertainment provided solely for their benefit. He said, moreover, that the preparation of a program such as had been provided entailed a great deal of work, especially under circumstances where the discharge of regular duty rendered it doubly difficult to hold the necessary practices; and he therefore wished to especially thank the superior, superintendent of nurses, matron of the infirmary, Mrs. Jenkins, the nurses, attendants and others who had taken part for their kindness and thoughtfulness in providing diversion for those who were no longer in a position to seek entertainment for themselves. The proceedings were brought to a close by the singing of the National Anthem.

IN MEMORIAM

MRS. WILLIAM BRUCE

The death took place at Milltown Cross on January 30th, 1918, of Mrs. William Bruce, aged 38 years, leaving to mourn a husband and three young girls.

Death was caused by pneumonia after an illness of five days only.

Despite the cold weather her funeral was very largely attended. The services at the house and grave were conducted by Rev. M. D. McLeod, of Caledonia, assisted by Rev. F. A. Hubley, of Montague.

Besides her mother, she leaves the following sister and brothers: Mrs. Chas. J. McDonald, Archibald and Neil Mathieson, of Milltown Cross, P. E. I.; M. A. Mathieson, of Washington, D. C.; D. A. Mathieson, of Shetfield, Alabama.

In loving memory of our dear mother, Ellen Burns, who departed this life Feb. 10, 1917, at Freetown. Twelve lonely months have passed. Yes we remember well. We watched beside your dying bed. To take our last farewell. With tearful eyes we watched you. And saw you pass away. Although we loved you dearly. We could not make you stay. Some time we hope to meet you. Some day we know not when. We shall clasp her hand in a better land. And never part again.

Loving son,
RUSSELL.

A TRIUMPH OF PHOTO DRAMATIC AND "THE WOMAN GOD FORGOT" AT THE PRINCE EDWARD

Geraldine Farrar, the popular celebrity of both the opera and the screen, Cecil B. de Mille, that talented exponent of modern photoplay technique and master creator of cinema spectacles, and Jeanie Macpherson, one of the very foremost writers for the screen, have again combined their very best efforts in behalf of their patrons of high-class films in "The Woman God Forgot." Greater even than the previous accomplishment of this trio, "Joan the Woman," a motion picture spectacle which created a sensation everywhere, this newest film de luxe offers the biggest photo-production of the year.

Based on a page of American history when Montezuma and his Aztecs were conquered by the Spaniards headed by Cortez, this super-photoplay presents the famous diva in a stirring romance of unusual beauty. In staging this production Cecil B. de Mille built the highest set ever erected for a motion picture, a replica of an Aztec temple over two hundred feet high. This set alone covered an area of over two miles and the site of a gigantic battle in which over a thousand persons took part. More thrilling even than the battle scenes in "Joan" are these views of conflict showing the first use of gunpowder in this country and its triumph over the machines of war used by the Indians.

Never in her career has beautiful Geraldine Farrar been afforded a vehicle that discloses to a better advantage her wonderful histrionic talents. "The Woman God Forgot" marks a distinct advance in the annals of the motion picture. Just as the triumph of the season at the time of its release so does this new De Mille spectacle disclose the latest achievements in the cinema art. Alde Mille built the highest set ever erected for a motion picture, a replica of an Aztec temple over two hundred feet high. This set alone covered an area of over two miles and the site of a gigantic battle in which over a thousand persons took part. More thrilling even than the battle scenes in "Joan" are these views of conflict showing the first use of gunpowder in this country and its triumph over the machines of war used by the Indians.

cular displays. Its interest is not confined to this feature alone. A powerful theme keeps the chief characters in the foreground throughout the course of the story and discloses the best work of such film artists in the supporting cast as Raymond Hatton, Hobart Bosworth, Wallace Reid, Walter Long, Charles E. Rogers, Olga Grey and Theodore Kosloff, the famous Russian dancer.

Take advantage of this, the last opportunity to see this magnificent production, afternoon at three fifteen and nights, seven and eight forty-five.

Miss Sarah Murray, of Emsvale, is visiting her sister, Mrs. John E. Dalton, 234 Great George St.
