CONSERVATIVE

day. His speech, brief but forcible, was suggestive of an election utterance. He defended the record of his administration with particular reference to its trade policy, and attacked the Liberals on a number of counts.

One issue he laid before the audience. If the Liberals were returned to power, he said, it meant the end of the 1932 trade agreements which he declared, had given Canada "a sheltered market in the greatest market of the world," that of the United Kingdom.

Reciprocal Trade

On a reciprocal trade agreement with the United States he said that he was "perfectly willing to make a bargain on terms fair and just." There was a round of applause. "But," he continued, "I don't want a bargain with any country if I have to give away my country for the bargain."

He criticized Mr. King for his attitude toward the United States on trade matters. "Mr. King says: 'Don't annoy them,'" he said. The opposition leader had been afraid that the United States would be "annoyed" if preferential agreements were negotiated with the United Kingdom. "Well," remarked Mr. Bennett, "I haven't reached the stage of calculating how I am annoying other people when I am considering the good of my own country.

Had "Revenge"

Mr. Bennett said that he had his "revenge" recently on those who had condemned the "peace, order and good government legislation," when he received communications from the Liberal premiers of Ontario and Quebec asking him to receive a delegation of pulp and paper men. The purpose of the request was to get him to utilize the terms of the legislation in question to save the pulp and paper industry of Canada, and he had promised to do so if requested. "Thus," he said, "this despised legislation has become the cornerstone. We have at last been vindicated out of the mouths of our enemies."

The increase of Canada's exports under the 1932 Empire agreements figured out at 21.4 percent, Mr. Bennett informed his audience. Imports had increased by approximately 23.3 percent. He charged the Liberal leader with failure in the matter of negotiating Empire trade agreements. But not only had Mr. King failed, he said, but he had also attempted to destroy the 1932 agreements. Mr. King had called upon his followers in the House of Commons to rise and vote against those agreements and they had done so, said Mr. Bennett.

In normal times, he added, the negotiation of the 1932 agreements was of such benefits as to have assured any government putting it through a long lease of office.

In brief reference to Liberal campaign funds Mr. Bennett remarked that it was difficult to say where they were coming from now. It was known where they had come from at the last election, however. They had come from Beauharnois. He defended the government's $60,000,000 guarantee to the Canadian Pacific Railway at the afternoon meeting, saying that if similar conditions arose again he would take the same action. The railway had been in serious danger, and the action had been necessary.

since the R. C. M. P. started search for him was not fully known today. He came here last July after purchasing three acres at Candia, small farming community, but little was known of his previous life. He never exhibited fear of arrest and was listed in the telephone directory under his own name.

Captain Edgar Bigelow, a friend of long standing and himself a sailing master, recalled today that he met Captain Hatfield on the New York waterfront about a year ago and Hatfield told him he intended to retire from the sea because good berths under sail were hard to find and he had no desire to go into steam. Bigelow, like Hatfield a Nova Scotian, said he referred his friend to his brother, D. O. Bigelow, a Candia real estate dealer, and through him he bought his farm.

After coming to Candia Captain Hatfield purchased a used automobile and began repairs and improvements to the farm.

MONTREAL, Dec. 5 — (C.P.) — Corporal Walter Harvison, of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, who "got" the long-sought Freeman Hatfield, 73, master of the Gypsum Queen, at Manchester, N. H., told here tonight the story of trail he followed up and down the United States Atlantic seaboard and New York City before finding his quarry on a lonely farm.

The "Mountie" set out in his lone manhunt about two years ago for the elusive sea captain. He followed all sorts of clues which sent him hotfoot to many parts of the United States, including New York City. The Corporal nearly had Hatfield in New York about one month ago.

It was in New York, Harvison said, he got the tip which sent him to Manchester. There, in company with United States federal officers, he was shown the farm on the outskirts of the town where Hatfield was reported to be living. The farm was watched and the wanted man was finally seen to get out of an automobile and enter it.

Harvison went in the front door, a United States officer through the back door. Harvison said Hatfield blanched and appeared nervous while the extradition warrant was being read to him.

The Nova Scotia skipper was escorted to Manchester and lodged in the cells without bail on a charge of fraudulently securing a reparations award of $71,276 for the loss of the Gypsum Queen in July 1915.

OTTAWA, Dec. 5. — (C.P.) — The Department of Justice here is awaiting reports from Manchester, N.H., where extradition proceedings have been instituted for the removal of Captain Freeman Hatfield to Ottawa for trial on charges of fraudulently securing a reparations award of $71,276 for the loss of the Nova Scotia three masted schooner Gypsum Queen in July, 1915. Captain Hatfield was arrested near Manchester yesterday through the operations of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

The former Nova Scotia skipper chose to fight extradition to Canada and the Department of Justice has secured the services of a Manchester Counsel to advance the claim for the removal of the accused man. Owner and skipper of the three masted schooner Gypsum Queen of Parrsboro, N.S., Captain Hatfield is accused of having secured compensation for its destruction by a German submarine by giving false testimony. The facts divulged by Royal Commission investigation two years ago convinced the Canadian authorities that the vessel had been lost through through stress of weather.

Senator Hance J. Logan of Amherst, N.S., who acted as Counsel for Hatfield in his claim which the reparations commission heard in 1930, will be the defendant in an Exchequer Court action on Jan. 7 when the Canadian Government will seek to recover the amount of the award. Hatfield successfully eluded investigators throughout the investigation conducted by Royal Commission in 1932.

It is understood the action against Hatfield will be conducted in the Criminal Courts, if he is extradited, and it is possible that his apprehension will alter the plans of the Justice Department in their action against Senator Logan.

PLAN TO BUY your Christmas gifts at the Baptist Bazaar on Friday, Dec. 7. L-3113-12-6-2i

RETURN FROM SAINT JOHN —Messrs. J. J. Trainor, M. G. McNeely and W. R. Shaw returned yesterday from attending a meeting of the Provisional Eastern Canada Potato Marketing Board in St. John. The Maritime representatives were unanimously in favor of the scheme which is expected to go into effect early in January.

GIFTS OF APPRECIATION—On Thursday evening Nov. 22nd. the adherents of Donaldston United Church gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Ellis for the purpose of presenting Mrs. Ellis with a fibre chair as a token of their esteem to her for having in the past six years so faithfully performed the duties of organist and Sabbath School Superintendent in their church. Just before the serving of lunch Miss Edith Court read an address while Mr. Albert Court presented Mrs. Ellis with the chair. Mrs. Ellis in a few well chosen words thanked the donors for their kindness. A dainty lunch was then served by the hostess. The remainder of the evening was very pleasantly spent in music, singing, and playing games. After singing for "She's a Jolly Good Fellow" the party broke up wishing Mrs. Ellis many years to enjoy the comfort of her gift.

who by agreement kept down prices for Nova Scotia fruit and reaped huge profits.

"The English consumer does not know the difference between an Ontario and a Nova Scotia apple," said the Captain, "neither, except in a few cases, does the wholesaler; but despite the fact that at least some Nova Scotia growers grade apples as in Ontario the Nova Scotia price with at least equal quality of product ranges considerably below Ontario.

"The fact that Ontario has an overseas representative might to some extent account for the difference in price, but by no means the total spread.

"Unless the actual grower succeeds in securing a few cents more a barrel the small producer will soon go out of business and a few big firms will have a monopoly on the apple industry of this province."

The Association members, who will be here for three days, heard C. Perry Foote outline a scheme for increasing the sale of Annapolis Valley apples in Nova Scotia. The scheme included the placing of a representative in large distributing centres to keep check on the supply of seasonable apples and to make sure the Valley fruit was being given full publicity.

Special advertising would be done through the newspapers in the larger consuming centres and attractive window display cards would be distributed. A 12-month calendar to be placed in consumers' homes would show two apples for each month, a cooking apple and one of the desert variety.

One of the biggest jobs, Mr. Foote said, would be to line up wholesalers and retailers in the larger centres, have them promote the sale of Nova Scotia apples and assure them of reliable supply.

Dr. E. S. Archibald, Director of Dominion Experimental Farms, outlined the policy of the experimental branch with particular reference to apple products.

W. G. Oulton of Windsor, N. S., representative of the Association on the Fruit Finance Company, said $150,000 had been lent to Finance Fruit Companies and a majority of these co-operative organizations were making "a real comeback." About $100,000 was still available for future loans.

President Kelsall said the seasons of 1933 and 1934 had given rise to a decidedly more optimistic spirit. Progress had been made in solving problems of the industry and the growers had just reason to look to the future with more confidence.

Work of the Apple Magot Control Board was commended and the growers passed a resolution urging the Board to continue in 1935.

Missing Boy Located

WAS CONSTIPATED FOR 30 YEARS

Woman's Long Search For a Remedy

The trouble was most remedies for constipation, as this woman found, is that they give only temporary relief. Having at last found a permanent corrective, she writes to tell us about it:—

"For upwards of 30 years I was a victim of acute constipation. I tried practically everything that it was possible to try. I admit I was a chronic case, and every new remedy I tried helped for a day or two—after that I was just as bad as ever. Three months ago I took my first taste of Kruschen Salts, and every morning so long as I live, my first duty upon rising is my Kruschen. I honestly feel a different woman. My bowels act to the clock, and my friends remark how well I am looking. My only regret is that I didn't try Kruschen years ago."—(Mrs.) A. M.

Kruschen Salts is Nature's recipe for maintaining a condition of internal cleanliness. The six salts in Kruschen stimulate your internal organs to smooth, regular action. Your system is thus kept clear of those impurities which, allowed to accumulate, lower the whole tone of the system.

Montreal Good Market For Nova Scotia Apples

(C. P. by Guardian's Special Wire)

MONCTON, N. B., Dec. 5—Montreal has provided the biggest market for Nova Scotia and British Columbia apples this season in years, said acting fruit commissioner R. L. Wheeler, of the Dominion Department of Agriculture at Ottawa, who passed through here today en route to Kentville, N. S., where he will attend the annual meeting of the Nova Scotia Fruit Growers' Association.

The overseas market for apples was not particularly encouraging, the acting fruit commissioner said, imports on the British market being largely curtailed by bigger crops of English apples.

Severe drought in Ontario and Quebec destroyed their yields and made it necessary for Montreal, Toronto, Ottawa and other large Upper Canadian cities to buy Nova Scotia and British Columbia products, Mr. Wheeler explained.

Captain And Crew Safe

(C. P. by Guardian's Special Wire)

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., Dec. 5—Forced to abandon the Newfoundland steamer Walter Kennedy on the rocky shore of the French Island of Miquelon, Captain E. Collett and the crew of the 107-ton craft were safe in St. Pierre tonight.

A message received here said the vessel was being pounded by heavy seas and probably would be a total loss.

Built in Montreal 17 years ago, the Walter Kennedy is owned by the Horwood Lumber Company and registered in St. John's.

Faces Trial For Desert Slaying

(A. P. by Guardian's Special Wire)

EL PASO, Tex., Dec. 5—The reluctance of one of the state's chief witnesses to appear and a defense effort to move the trial site developed today as Arthur C. Wilson was called to face a murder charge for the desert slaying of Mrs. Irene Debolt, 30-year-old Ohio widow.

District Attorney Roy Jackson indicated he might start proceedings against Miss Lesa Jergens of Cleveland, who had been counted as a principal prosecution witness.

In an affidavit in Cleveland, Miss Juergens related she had received a package from Wilson containing bloody clothing and had burned it and that Wilson had visited Cleveland under an alias.

Despite a promise of immunity, authorities said, Miss Juergens declined to appear in the trial.

L. V. Dodson, attorney appointed by Judge W. D. Howe to defend the 31-year-old former steel chemist, said he would fyle a written motion demanding the names of contributors to a fund which defrayed the expenses of returning Wilson from Port of Spain, Trinidad, where he was arrested last summer.

Dodson indicated he would use the list in an attempt to show undue prejudice existed in El Paso against Wilson.

Robbery has been indicated as a motive the state would advance for the killing of Mrs. Debolt.

Meeting Of Holy Name Society

The regular monthly meeting of the Holy Name Society, St. Dunstan's Basilica Parish was held on Tuesday evening, Dec. 4th in the Holy Name Club Rooms. The President, P. B. McTague presided and meeting opened with Prayer by the Spiritual Director Father Murray. Minutes of previous meeting were read and adopted on motion J. P. Bradley, seconded by Wm. Hughes. The Constitution and By-Laws were approved and adopted on motion of Mr. Wm. Hughes seconded by Mr. Harold Drew.

The Secretary brought to the attention of the meeting the following subjects,—the distribution of monthly cards, (which are to be delivered not later than Saturday noon preceding Holy Name Sunday) "Prayers at the homes of deceased members", "The annual Requiem Mass to be said for deceased members of the Society". The meeting decided that the Captain of the respective Section arrange with the Spiritual Director for prayers at the homes of deceased members. On motion of Mr. Drew, seconded by Mr. McMillan and adopted, the Society to have annual Requiem Mass said for deceased members. The Secretary introduced a new movement, viz, the formation of a "Junior Holy Name Society." He pointed out the unlimited possibilities and incalculable benefits of such an organization. Many other subjects were brought up by those present and discussed at length.

After the business of the meeting had been concluded, those present had the opportunity for the first time, to listen to a most interesting lecture by the Rev. Father Earl Dalton, on "Social Service Work." He gave a most vivid description of the wonderful work carried on by the Social service under present depressed conditions.

Preceding the lecture, two fine piano solos were given by John Doucette, also step dancing specialty by Connie LeClair, with the above pianist on the violin.

First Vice President, Leo McDonald on rising to move a vote of thanks to the Rev. Father, stated that those present were more than paid for coming out in such inclement weather to listen to the excellent lecture given by Father Dalton. In the motion he wished to include Mr. Doucette and Mr. LeClair for the entertainment. Mr. Harold Drew heartily seconded the motion of 1st Vice President, which was supported by W. J. Brawders, Rev. Eugene Murray, P. A. Murnaghan and P. B. McTague, all adding words of congratulation to Father Dalton for his splendid work in charge of Social Service. The meeting closed with prayer.

R.C.M.P. Will Close "Bootleg" Coal Mines

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)

SYDNEY MINES, N.S., Dec. 4—Spurred to action by the death of 19-year-old Sidney Boutilier, Royal Canadian Mounted Police today started a drive to close all "bootleg" coal mines in this district.

Two operators were arrested this afternoon and fined $18 each by Magistrate Matthew McLean on charges of illegally mining coal. Orders were issued to have their pits filled in.

Boutilier was killed yesterday when a spark ignited a can of powder and caused an explosion in a pit operated by him and his father. The father, Bert Boutilier, was seriously injured but his condition improved today.

Police have issued orders to other operators to seal their pits at once.

"Bootleg" mining had become so common in Cape Breton last winter that the Legislature passed an Act designed to prevent the sale of illegally mined coal. Besides endangering their own lives and the lives of men in the big collieries, the bootleggers were cutting into the sales of the companies.

HALIFAX DROPS INTO SECOND POSITION

stages of the second period was there as the third commenced. The game went on at a terrific gait and it was Saint John that did the forcing.

Miss Chances

Beavers missed a glorious opportunity with two Halifax infractions sending first Shields and then Mosher to the timers. No sooner had Shields returned, sewing for holding O'Leary, than the latter was tripped by Mosher. Nine power plays, rushed by Beavers failed Wolves continually drove the puck to the Saint John end to ease the pressure. Coach Benedict tried both lines but there was no beating Bubar and his snarling pack.

Raid after raid followed. Houston missed by inches when he took a shot at the yawning draperies Bubar made several hard stops and all was confusion as the players milled about in Halifax ice.

Wolves were sorely pressed with Graham absent, the stocky little right guard having retired from the match late in the second canto with an injured shoulder.

The outstanding features of the first five minute heat of the overtime was Beaton's lone rally the full distance to hit the side of the Bubar fortress and the scintillating play of Bill Walker, who relieved Farrell.

Towards the close Marsh made two grand saves, going prone to block the rubber as Hudson lashed a wild golf swing at the loose rubber.

Italian Team Ahead In Bike Grind

(A. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)

NEW YORK, Dec. 5—The Italian team of Avanti Martinetti and Tino Reboli forged to the front in New York's 37th international six-day bicycle race in Madison Square Garden during the early evening sprints tonight.

Trailing by two laps late in the afternoon, the pair took a one-lap lead over the Chicago combination of Mickey Rodak and Tony Schaller with a total mileage of 1,116 miles and nine laps. George Dempsey of Australia, figured in the only spill during the sprints but returned to competition within a few minutes.

3 INJURED IN ST. JOHN TILT

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)

SAINT JOHN, N. B., Dec. 5—Three players emerged from tonight's Beaver-Wolverines hockey game here nursing hurts. Frankie Graham, Halifax rear guard, went to the side-lines to stay in the second period. He had suffered a bruised left shoulder at Halifax and the bumping aggravated the injury tonight. Art Whittaker received a bad eye bruise in the third period when Bill Walker's stick flew up and struck him in the right eye, halting play a minute. The big utility defence-forward from Toronto will probably be ready for the next Wolverine game Friday.

During the overtime session "Red" Farrell, Beavers' captain and defenceman, quit the ice after hobbling through two periods with knee and foot injuries. "Red" had hurt his knee in a recent game and took a hard wallop on the foot early in the fixture here.
