S' Side Craft Returns From Long Voyage

The M.V. Lazy Mariner, piloted by Captain Eock of Summerside, has returned from an extended cruise which began on June 23rd at which date she left Summerside port with a full cargo of potatoes, butter and canned beef. Her first port of call was Port aux Basques, Nfld. She then followed up the west coast with calls at Corner Brook, Bonnie Bay, Port Saunders and thence to Quebec Labrador.

Here they sighted many icebergs, as many as thirty-nine in one day, and motion pictures were taken by Mr. J. B. Jenkins, member of the firm of Jenkins Bros., who was on the voyage in the interests of his firm.

They sailed through the Strait of Belle Isle and around Newfoundland and after a few days in St.
John's left for their home port. The whole cruise covered about three thousand miles, and was completed in 39 days.

Mr. Franklin Cameron of the firm of Jenkins and Cameron Registered, who operates the Lazy Mariner, stated that the 35,000 cases of beef which she carried were eagerly accepted by the firms with whom they do business and that the Lazy Mariner expects to leave again on Saturday with a further cargo to fill orders already booked by his firm.

On their return they will bring back a cargo of live lobsters, which the firm will market.—S.

Increases in 1949 mink production were estimated in the U.S.A., Norway, Great Britain and Denmark with a decrease estimated for Canada and Finland.

The last day's discussion was devoted to relationship and effects of governmental actions on the fur breeding industry. This discussion disclosed that Norway and some other European countries had been conducting quite an extensive business in ranch raised furs on a barter basis. Until recently this proved very successful but later-ly it had become very much less profitable. Such fur producing countries in exchange for their furs were required to take from other countries goods produced in such other countries. Such goods were often luxury articles exchanged at a price which made it necessary to sell the luxury articles at a very high price. These high prices are being sold in heavy consumer resistance in the fur producing countries into which they have been imported.

Mr. Stewart was appointed secretary for the convention and Mr.
John Linstrom of Norway was chairman with Mr. Harvey Schrod-er of the U. S. A. as vice chairman.

At the conclusion of the conference a resolution was adopted similar to the one adopted in 1946 at the Charlottetown conference stressing reduction in herds and improvement in quality of animals retained for breeding purposes. The resolution was unanimously adopted.

surrounding districts motored to tended the wedding of Maria Jones and Lawrence Gallant, on Wednesday evening, July 20th, at the home of his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Gallant. A shower was given in their honor on Tuesday evening at the home of the groom.
