Discovery of Great Value in Cancer Cases

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Feb. 18.—Discoveries made by Wm. Duane, professor of bio-physics at Harvard working in collaboration with research students of physics, have made it possible, according to Harvard physicists, to secure ex-rays of more penetrating quality than have ever before been obtained in the United States and that these new rays are now to be used for the first time on this continent for the alleviation of cancer.

While it is emphatically stated by Prof. Duane that neither x-rays nor radium should be considered a permanent cure for all kinds of cancer, it has long been known that radium has had an alleviative effect upon this disease, and the Harvard physicists have reason to believe that the effect of the new highly-penetrating ex-rays will be equally beneficial.

The Harvard cancer commission is erecting a new building adjoining the Collins P. Huntington hospital in Boston, where an x-ray plant will be installed, as well as the commission's redium plant. Confident, that the life of cancer patients may be thus prolonged, life insurance companies of Boston have given over $30,000 toward the new building. Here the experiments will be performed, which will test the value of the newly discovered, penetrating type of x-rays. How effective they will prove cannot be determined until they have been used for some time.

The Canadiens Defeated The Hamilton's

ARENA, MONTREAL, Feb. 17.—The Canadiens defeated Hamiltons in their scheduled National Hockey League fixture tonight by a score of 10 to 5. By defeating Hamilton, the Canadiens bettered their position in the standing of the club. The game was a poor exhibition, the one-sided score detracting from the interest in the play. The Canadiens always had the game well in hand, although the score was tied at the end of the first period. The Canadiens were much the heavier and used their weight to advantage.

CREDIT TO WHOM CREDIT, ETC—The Trustees of the Prince Edward Island Hospital regret that in publishing the recent list of school districts not having made their annual collection on behalf of the Hospital the name of Milton District No. 100 was included, as this was one of the first districts to send in their collection which was a very handsome one. The mistake was caused by getting Milton No. 100 mixed up with Milton North No. 165 in which latter districts the collection has not been made.

THE STANLEY ICE-FIGHTING—The Sydney Post says: Ice conditions in the gulf are still very bad and the entrance to the port of North Sydney is still blocked. The Stanley made an attempt to get outside Thursday afternoon but she could make no headway through the clampers. She is one of the most powerful icebreakers on the coast, being even better fitted for this sort of travel than the Reid boats, so when she is unable to force her way through it is useless for other steamers to attempt to do so. The Reid steamers will have to continue running to Louisburg until ice conditions become better.

GAUTHIER HURLS BOMB INTO LIBERALS CAMP

First Break in Quebec Expected to be Followed by Several Others. Double Policy of His Former Party Scores Hon. Mr. Fielding and Hon. Mr. Lemieux in Sarcastic Speech.

OTTAWA, Feb. 17—L. J. Gauthier, Liberal member for St. Hyacinthe for many years has broken with the Liberal party and will affiliate with the government. It is the first break in the Quebec Liberal phalanx and as Mr. Gauthier described himself as a political "John the Baptist" is expected that others will follow and a solid, isolated Quebec be a thing of the past.

There is no doubt that there is great unrest in the Liberal ranks. Under the unpopular and vacilliating leadership of Hon. W. L. MacKenzie King, Quebec Liberals fear an Agrarian alliance with its fiscal subordination to the United States and its class bigotry and racial animosity. Mr. Gauthier has led the revolt and has shown in todays speech justification for his departure and capacity to defend his actions past and present.

The Divided Policy

A. R. MacMaster of Brome resumed the debate today. He was financial critic for the opposition, but the return of Hon. W. S. Fielding has made the position of the Brome free trader rather indefinite.

Hon. W. S. Fielding was sent to Protectionist Peterboro: A. R. MacMaster was sent to Free Trade Assiniboia, so that it is possible that the opposition has two fiscal leaders, one for each of its policies. In any case Mr. MacMaster declared today that his party's fiscal policy was that of the Liberal platform of 1919, while Hon. W S. Fielding has anounced in the press and in Peterboro that this fiscal policy is not to be taken seriously. It would greatly simplify maters if Mr. MacMaster was designated agrarian fiscal leader and Hon W. S Fielding the industrial fiscal leader. Mr. MacMaster has spoken first in Parliament and waived the free trade banner, but Hon. W. S Fielding has got to come and placate industrial Canada.

After Mr. MacMaster's rancous remarks "silence like a poultice came to heal the wounds of sound" and then L. J Gauthier arose. The House was alert and curious. Rumor has been busy with the political future of the member for St. Hyacinthe. His removal to the cross benches had indicated a break with his former associates. The House wondered if he would make the rupture completely and if he could hold his own in debate with the Quebec leaders. When he concluded there was no Quebec leader ready to reply and A. B McCoig, Kent, Ontario was hastily thrust into the breach uneil the Liberal front benchers had regained their composure and evolved a reply.

Bitter and Sarcastic

Mr. Gauthier was extremely sarcastic and his references to A. R. McMaster and Hon. Rodolph Lemieux were caustic and pointed and enjoyable to members and spectators. The members for St. Hyacinthe declared that he was a supporter of the Liberal fiscal policy of 1907. If the Liberal party was true to the policy of Sir Wilfred Laurier it would have endorsed the tariff policy ennunciated in the Speech from the Throne. The Liberals had declared last session that the government had no mandate, yet had accepted an increased indemnity from the government they denounced as having exceeded its constitutional rights. He was opposed to a dissolution now as the redistribution would increase the influence of Quebec in Parliament. Leaving his party he did so he claimed because they were seeking alliances unfair to Quebec and had a double barreled fiscal policy changeable from parish to parish, from province to province. He was opposed to an alliance with labor because of its internationalism and with the agrarians who were communistic and encouraged class distinction..

...Attacks Mr. Lemieux ...

Turning to Hon Rodolph Lemieux he made a caustic criticism of the leading French Canadian Liberals whom he described as a free trader in Gaspe and a protectionist in Maisonneuve. Drawing his metaphors from natural history and applied science he ridiculed the Liberal orator, Mr. Lemieux in fiscal vagaries he said was like a bat in the air, a bird, and on the ground a rodent. That at one time he was a lighter than air machine with a silk cover filled with gas then an aeroplane that crashed when the greater motive power Sir Wilfred Laurier, was removed.

The member for St. Hyacinthe has made a complete rupture. He gave no quarter, nor can he expect any, but has won the first engagement by default as his former associates failed to repel his attack or even attempt to repel it although they deeply resented it. There is no doubt but his declaration is of greatest importance. Other Quebec members will follow nad those who dont will coalesce completely with the agrarians. He has definitely and decisively made the fiscal policy the one great issue before the electors.

This catalogue contains seventy-six patterns of wall papers of the very latest and handsomest design. A Sharp Clash In the Senate

(Special to The Guardian)

OTTAWA, Feb. 18—A sharp clash between Senator Dandurand and Hon. P. E. Blondin, featured the debate on the Address in the Senate today. Senator Dandurand, on resuming the debate, attacked the Conservative party on its attitude to Reciprocity in 1911 and stated that while the Liberal party was fighting for a square deal for the farmers, the Postmaster-General, Senator Blondin, was "down in Quebec shooting holes in the British flag."

"That is an absolute lie, I have denied in the House before, and I want the Hon. Member to take it back."

"I understand the hon. gentleman quoted words about 'shooting holes through the British flag,' from a speech of another gentleman," replied Senator Dandurand

"Then you do not know what I said," retorted the Postmaster-General.

Senator Lavergne said he was present at the meeting and heard Senator Blondin use the words referred to.

Senator Blondin denied ever having used the words and defied Senator Dandurand to quote the words he had used.

Senator Dandurand said the Postmaster-General did not deny what he said. "That is wilful calumy," declared Senator Blondin.

Mr. Lavergne said he was present when Senator Blondin made reference to the British flag but could not recall the exact words used.

The Speaker requested Senator Dandurand to accept the denial of Senator Blondin. The former said he was quite willing to take back what he said, which was simply that in 1911 Senator Blondin was down in Quebec shooting holes in the British flag.

Senator Fowler followed and characterized the new Senate Chamber as "a crime perpetrated on the country."

In continuing the debate in the House, Louis Jos Gauthier (St. Hyacinthe Rouville) speaking from what he termed the "wilderness of no man's land" attacked the Liberal party of which he has been a life long member and declared they were not followers of true Liberalism. Mr. Gauthier's name had been mentioned for some time as a Cabinet possibility and his speech today was taken here as establishing a definite cleavage between himelf and his former allegiance

The speech of the member from St. Hyacinthe was easily the strongest of the day and his points were greeted with vigorous applause from the Government side.

Mr. Gauthier initiated a savage attack on Hon. Rudolphe Lemieux and on Mr. McMaster (Brome) on the policy of the Liberal party, which always had been one of protection and Mr. Gauthier scored his former colleagues for what he termed "beclouding the issue" and for demanding an election prior to redistribution. Mr. Gauthier predicted a new leader for Canada from Quebec who would lead this country to greater peaks of prosperity.

ADDRESS AND PRESENTATION

On their return from their honeymoon to Montreal and Ottawa Mr and Mrs. J. A. Burge, Bedford were waited on and presented with a handsome gift accompanied by the following address:—

Mr. and Mrs. James A. Burge, Bedford, P.E.I.

Dear Friends:—

The joys that always attend the Xmas season was furthered within us this year by the announcement of your marriage and prompted by those same feelings, we your friends and neighbors wended our way happily here this evening to tender to you both our sincerest congratulations and to extend to Mrs. Burge a hearty welcome to Bedford.

You, sir, since your coming amongst us have won our deepest respect. We have ever found you in the discharge of your duties as Station Agent, honest, courteous, and obliging, ever ready to take an active part in anything that tended to the uplift of the community or the betterment of our social life, a fact that was not overlooked by our local club for you had the honor of being its President and it was deeply regretted by all when you tendered your resignation this year.

Your amiable bride is well and favourably known to us all and the popularity she has attained as a teacher at home and elsewhere has not gone unheard of by us and we sure feel a certain amount of pardonable pride to be assured of her prominent residence amongst us.

It would not be in order for us to try and impress on Mrs. Burge the attitude the community tenders a new resident. Sufficient proof is adduced by the fact that your worthy husband, after giving us a trial decided to settle amongst us and has placed his name on our assessment roll.

We will not tire you, dear friends, with any further arraignment of your personal qualities and in conclusion we ask you to accept this gift as an outward token of our inward feelings. May your married life be blessed with happiness and contentment and may a kind Providence grant you health and length of days to live happily amongst us is the fervent prayer of your many friends.

On behalf of the residents of Bedford and near vicinity.

Jan. 24th, 1921.

Mr. Burge, although taken by surprise spoke on behalf of his bride and in a few well chosen words expressed his pleasure and thanked the people for their thoughtfulness and complimentary remarks were expressed by a number of the men present. After supper the remainder of the evening was spent in song and dancing At twelve o'clock the guests departed for their homes singing: "Happy Friendships."
