—FUNERAL OF MR. GEORGE MacCALLUM—The funeral services for Mr. George H. MacCallum were held on Tuesday afternoon from Trinity United Church. Rev. L. E. G. Davies, Pastor, conducted the service. Following the regular funeral service the impressive service of the Masonic Lodge was carried out, the Masons attending in a body. Bro. Waldron Darrach of Kensington had charge of the Masonic service. Hymns sung by the choir and congregation were, "Peace, Perfect Peace" and "Safe in the Arms of Jesus". Mr. George A. Bowness sang with symptahetic feeling the beautiful hymn "The Christian's Good Night." The staff of the Canadian National Silver Fox Breeders Association of which the late Mr. MacCallum was secretary for many years attended the funeral. Among the many lovely floral tributes testifying to the high esteem in which the deceased was held were wreaths from the C.N.S.F.B. Assn., Masonic Lodge, and Oddfellows Lodge, Summerside, Maple Leaf Rebekah Lodge and Brace MacKay and Co. The pallbearers were: Messrs. George A. Callbeck, R. E. Ellis, T. D. Carruthers, Austin A. Scales, Peter G. Clark, C. B. Morris, Major Small and Dr. A. A. Lockhart. Interment was in the People's Cemetery.—S.

New Year's Day passes Quietly at S'side

New Year's Day passed off quietly at Summerside. Services were held in St. Paul's church with High Mass at 11 o'clock, at which service the Rt. Rev. Mgr. MacLellan preached an eloquent sermon and reviewed the work of the church during the past year, speaking with pride of the improvements made to the exterior of the church. There was a celebration of the Holy Eucharist in St. Mary's Church for the Feast of the Circumcision of our Lord. Ven. Archdeacon G. R. Harrison, rector was the celebrant and brought a New Year's message to his congregation.

Hon. Thane A. Campbell received informally yesterday at his residence in Summerside, and many citizens called to extend New Year's greetings. There were many social and family gatherings for the New Year and many of the boys in the forces enjoyed the holiday with their families.

The men at the airport were generously entertained by many of the citizens, and in the evening they were the guests of the mayor and town councilors at a dance in Maple Leaf Gardens. The members of the Girls' Band acted as hostesses, as well as supplying the music. The recreation rooms of the Odd Fellows lodge were thrown open for the use of the airmen who very much appreciated this generous offer. Mr. Gaudet, of the Capitol Theatre had Cantor, in "Forty Little Mothers," and also put on a special skate, so the airmen and visiting soldiers and others were well entertained for the New Year holiday. Blame Axis Submarines for Sinking Spaniards

LONDON, Jan. 1 —(CP)— The British Broadcasting Corporation said tonight Italian or German submarines in recent months have sunk at least six Spanish merchant ships or fishing vessels.

"In fact, there seems to be a systematic axis campaign to sink Spanish shipping," the BBC said. "None of the ships sunk was engaged in a trade which could remotely benefit the allied cause."

The BBC said comment in London was that 'Spain has reason to be grateful for British naval supremacy in the Mediterranean, which prevents Italian surface ships from finding the same sort of outlet."

SALES OF RADIO RECEIVING SETS

Sales of radio receiving sets by Canadian manufacturers during the third quarter of 1940 totalled 116,866 units compared with 139,478 in the corresponding quarter of 1939. Customs figures show that 4,785 sets were imported during the latest three month period, including 2,922 which came in under special conditions. Imports of radio tubes during the same period amounted to 161,071.

FO Ken Taylor Home from England Coming to P. E. I.

(Sackville Tribune)

First hand stories of Britain's fight against Germany and Italy were listened to with a mingled feeling of pride and thankfulness by Mr. and Mrs. T. T. Taylor at their Port Elgin home Sunday evening as they sat looking at their son, R.A.F. Flying Officer Kenneth, home after two years in England. Flying Officer Taylor arrived on a special train, carrying flying instructors from England to assist in the great British Commonwealth Air Training Plan, early yesterday afternoon enroute to P.E.I. "Ken", as he is known to a host of friends was greeted with cheers as his train pulled through Port Elgin and on to Cape Tormentine where he was permitted to leave his fellows on a well earned leave to visit his parents. At Cape Tormentine he met a large number of old friends and was soon enroute back to his old home in Port Elgin.

Ken Taylor received his private pilot's license in 1938 at the Curtis Wright Institute of Aeronautics in Burbank, California where he also studied acetylene welding and aero engines. In July 1938 he sailed for England with twelve other Canadian aviators and enlisted with the R.A.F. His training took him through the flying school, flying training school, torpedo training unit, squadron flying school. He received his commission as pilot officer in May 1939 and in August 1940 was promoted to the rank of flying officer. Since the opening of the war Flying Officer Taylor has been attached to the coastal patrol off Northeast England and Northern Scotland. He was engaged in the defense of Norway during the German invasion and took part in the evacuation of Dunkerque. He was pilot on a twin-engine long range fighter plane and later piloted a torpedo bomber during his coastal patrol duty.

In conversation with The Tribune last evening over the telephone Officer Taylor paid tribute to the people of Britain. "You have to admire the people of Britain. They are taking their part in a marvelous spirit and the air raids don't seem to matter much to them anymore. The sirens sound shortly after dusk and the all-clear in the early morning and life goes on" was the way Officer Taylor reported the situation in England today.

Officer Taylor will act as a flying officer instructor in connection with the Commonwealth Air Training plan here for the next few months and expects to be stationed in P.E.I. In the meantime he is enjoying a well earned leave with his parents at Port Elgin.

Among Mr. Taylor's Canadian friends in the R.A.F. overseas were Pilot Officer Alec Trueman, son of Dr. and Mrs. George J. Trueman, who was killed in action earlier this year; Jimmy McKinnon, of Moncton, who also died in action over England; and Harry Burns, of Halifax, who is now a prisoner of war in Norway.

Boys discuss Post-war Prospects

SACKVILLE, N. B. Jan 1—(CP) —A discussion tonight on "After the War—What?" was the highlight of today's session of the 18th Maritime Boys Parliament here. Democracy, what it should and must mean after the war, were points debated.

The evening session opened with a discussion of the parliament publication, "The Upward Trail". Decision was reached to abandon the publication and a resolution was passed advocating a news column in the Maritime church papers.

Yesterday "Lieutenant-Governor" Professor A. W. Trueman, Sackville, read the speech from the throne. He noted there were more boys' conferences than usual this year. Regret was expressed concerning resignation of the boys work secretary, Ralph Young. Plans are being made, he noted, for a national older boys conference in 1941.

After the speech open discussion was held on various points in it. In the evening resolutions were passed regarding the Tuxis war effort, the local Tuxis work, and world problems.

Decrease in Fish landing In Island

HALIFAX, Dec. 31—(CP)—Total quantity of fish landed in the Maritime Provinces in November was 20,732,200 pounds with a landed value of $385,336, the eastern division of the Department of Fisheries announced today. It was an increase of 2,723,600 pounds over November in 1939 and its landed value was placed at an increase of $31,489.

The principal varieties taken during the month were, in order of value to the fishermen, cod, haddock, smelts, lobsters, oysters, sardine, mackerel, scallops, herring, hake and cusk.

Nova Scotia fishermen landed 13,656,600 pounds, an increase of 1,180,800 over last year with a corresponding increase in value of $27,762.

New Brunswick fishermen landed a total of 6,244,800 pounds, an increase of 1,695,500 pounds and an increase of $4,839 in the landed value. However, due to almost continual storms, the lobster catch decreased 42,300 pounds to 206,700 valued at $32,989.

Unfavorable fishing weather was responsible for a decrease in the Prince Edward Island catch, both in quantity and landed value. The total of 791,200 was a decrease of 122,400 from last year. The landed value of $9,468 was $2,448 less than last year.

In Memoriam

MRS. ISABELLE MOASE

At an early hour Saturday, Dec. 21, there slept peacefully away at her home in New Annan the gentle spirit of Mrs Isabelle Moase, widow of the late John Moase (who predeceased her several years before) leaving the following sons, Messrs. Burrows, Kensington; Alden and Henry, New Annan; several grandchildren and numerous relatives and friends who respectively mourn a loving mother, grandmother, kind friend and neighbour.

Born 88 years ago, Mrs. Moase was a daughter of the late Samuel and Mrs. Burrows, Long River, who, later with their family moved to Wilmot Valley where she spent her girlhood days.

"Grandma" as she was lovingly known was a lady of exemplary character, borne with true Christian fortitude, possessed of a cheerful unselfish disposition a charitable nature evidenced throughout her four score years causing admiration respect and love by all who knew her. Her faith too, of her Saviour whom she so long and faithfully served was truly evident for no word of complaint ever passed her lips even though she were partially bedfast for several months. "Grandma" has truly earned the great "Well done" and is now ready for a richer and fuller life in her new Home on High.

On Monday afternoon, December 23, after a short service at her late home an impressive ceremony was held in Anglican Church, Kensington, conducted by her pastor, Rev B. Fream who spoke words of comfort to the sorrowing family taking as his text Deuteronomy 33, verse 27. He also read a favorite psalm and the choir sang three favorite hymns of the deceased.

The pallbearers were her six nephews: Messrs. Harold and Stuart Moase, New Annan, Percy and Erskine MacMurdo, Kelvin, Edward Caseley and John Burrows, Wilmot Valley who tenderly laid her to rest beside her late husband in the family plot at Kensington.

First test of De Gaulle's stay In movement

BERNE, Jan. 1.—(AP)—The first "stay in" test of the strength of Gen. Charles de Gaulle's Free French movement in occupied and unoccupied France passed today without a clear decision.

For a week de Gaulle broadcast appeals to Frenchmen to remain indoors between 3 and 4 p.m. in occupied France and 2 and 3 p.m. in unoccupied France as a "protest" of sympathy for the Free French movement.

Streets were bare almost everywhere in both zones as the hour passed, but whether this bespoke a Frenchman's thought of de Gaulle and his movement or simply the day after the night before, when a Frenchman's fancy fondly turns to thoughts of a New Year's dinner and rest could not be determined.

Claims Spain Was hurried In Tangier

MADRID, Jan. 1 —(AP) —Foreign Minister Ramon Serrano Suner said in a published interview today that Spain's hand was hurried in taking over the internationalized zone of Tangier in Africa by "the excessive and misguided pretentions" of a certain party which had not understood the "reality" of the situation in Europe.

The "party" was not named, being referred to only as "not one which could logically have expected anything in Tangier, regardless of what may be the final result of the war." This party, he said, "wanted others to share with Spain in the defence of Tangier."

Recounting reaction of various countries to the absorption of Tangier, Serrano Suner attacked France.

"A people whose military prowess was not this time accompanied by fortune," he said, had surprised Spain with their lack of understanding."

The French, he added, had given themselves to "too simple worries, unjustified suspicions, formal words and useless process."

Rust Resisting Cereal Varieties In P.E. Island

(Experimental Farms Note)

For the past few years much interest has been shown in rust resistance cereal varieties, particularly varieties of oats and wheat. Stem rust of wheat and leaf rust of oats have caused very serious damage in recent years and the new varieties were welcomed as a means of combating these diseases. Many people, however, have wondered how the new varieties would perform in a normal season when rust was not a factor. In most areas of Prince Edward Island, this question was answered during the past season, says R. B. MacLaren, Dominion Experimental Station, Charlottetown, P. E. Island.

Erban oats, which is moderately resistant to leaf rust, has become widely distributed throughout the province and reports of the 1940 crops indicate that its popularity is well deserved. In a season when leaf rust was very light, it has yielded well as compared with older varieties such as Banner and Victory. A further advantage of Erban was well demonstrated this season, namely, its relatively early maturity. Harvest was seriously hampered by wet weather, but Erban growers in general were able to save their crop before bad weather set in.

Rust resistant wheat varieties, chiefly Coronation, are rapidly replacing older sorts such as White Fife and Huron. The 1940 season was very favorable for wheat and stem rust was very slight. Under these conditions, Coronation has yielded well when grown on reasonably good land. In light, open soil, however, Coronation may be excelled in yield in non-rust years by Garnet and Huron. Coronation is criticised somewhat for its inability to thresh readily.

Regent, a newer rust resistant wheat, is now available and may prove more popular than Coronation. It is a beardless type, threshes more readily than Coronation, matures moderately early and is considered equal to Marquis in milling and baking quality.

Expect lively Session of U. S. Congress

(By Richard L. Turner, Associated Press Staff Writer)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 1—(AP)—With President Roosevelt's plan for lending war equipment to Britain and the whole question of United States policy toward the war providing a seething controversy, the 77th Congress convenes Friday.

Although technically a new session, it actually will be a continuation of the one which began a year ago, approved the beginnings of the country's huge defence program, enacted the conscription law, quarrelled endlessly over the Roosevelt foreign policy, and at the insistence of House of Representatives Republicans and a few Democrats, refused to adjourn.

On Monday, Mr. Roosevelt will address the Congress in person from the rostrum of the House. His "fireside chat" of last Sunday outlined his views on aid to Britain in general terms, and many expect the speech to Congress to go into details on which he did not touch at that time—especially where the "lease-land" plan for helping Britain is concerned.

While that obviously will furnish the central controversy of the session, the double-headed question of federal finances—taxes and appropriations—has already taken on enormous stature.

Some leaders have indicated the general objective would be to pare non-defence expenditures and increase tax rates and revenues to a point at which they will bring the Government enough money to pay for everything except the defence and aid-to-Britain program at least.

The latter, it is expected, will be costly. Some, in a position to know, have estimated that it will require an outlay of $2,000,000,000 to $2,500,000,000 over and above the cost of the United States' own defence plan.

Smuts predicts U. S. entry Into conflict

LONDON, Jan. 1—(CP)—Gen. Jan Smuts, Prime Minister of the Union of South Africa, in a New Year's message published today in London, predicted United States intervention in the war and said it is "necessary for victory."

"Deeply as America desires to keep out of this war, they will find the necessity laid upon them and in the last resort they will not let freedom perish from the earth," said Gen. Smuts, himself a veteran of the last war and the Boer War.

"I feel assured that American intervention is necessary for victory and for the peace which has to be shaped thereafter."

Gen. Smuts said the menace of Nazi Germany is such a real thing that he is "convinced that in the last resort America will not, as indeed she can not afford to stand out."

"Under the great and inspiring leadership of Roosevelt," the statement said, "she will once more freely of her own choice dedicate herself to the greatest of human causes.

"In the spirit of Abraham Lincoln once more she will take her rightful place among the champions of a free world against a slave world."

Carleton and Vicinity

Mrs. Harry Francis and Mr. Ralph Francis, Summerside, spent Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Francis, Carleton.

Mr. Fenton Howatt, Carleton, was a recent visitor to Charlottetown.

Mr. Harold Heffell, Carleton, was a passenger to Summerside on Monday.

Mrs. Leo. Croken, Charlottetown, is visiting her mother, Mrs. John Smith, Carleton.

Miss Miriam MacDonald, teacher of Centerville, Bedeque, is vacationing at her home in Carleton.

Mr. Fenton Howatt has returned to his home in Carleton from the St. Eleanor's Airport where he has been employed for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman MacWilliams have returned to Halifax, after spending the Christmas holidays with friends and relatives in Borden, Cape Traverse and Searletown.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Langille, Amherst, spent Christmas with Mrs. Langille's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Campbell, Cape Traverse.

Mrs. Leigh Lowther, Carleton, has as her welcome guest her niece, Miss Doris Muncey, teacher in the Summerside High School.

Mrs. Douglas Bell and little daughter Gloria are enjoying the Chirstmas holidays in Rustico, where they are the guests of Mrs. Bell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Stevenson.

Miss Elizabeth MacKay, teacher of Carleton School is spending the Christmas vacation with her parents in Bradalbane.

Mrs. Eber C Bell, Capt Traverse, has as her guest for the holiday season Miss Jo. Anne Innes, Staten Island, New York, who is a student at Mount Allison University.

Mr Lorne Bell, Mount Allison University student is spending the Christmas holidays with his parents, Mr and Mrs. Eber C. Bell, Cape Traverse.

Among the Prince of Wales College students who spent the Christmas holidays at their homes in this vicinity were the following: Miss Ruth MacDonald and Mr. Joseph Noonan, Carleton; Miss Helen Muttart, Cape Traverse; Misses Eileen Sherren, Eileen MacFadyen and Mr. Wendell MacFadyen, Augustine Cove; also, Miss Eleanor Bell, student at Union Commercial College.

The annual Chistmas Concert of Carleton School was presented in the school house on Friday evening, December 21st. The schoolroom was decorated with spruce, tinsel and gay Christmas streamers and a prettily trimmed tree was laden with gifts which jolly Santa Claus distributed after the final number. The carefully prepared program was greatly enjoyed by the large and appreciative audience. The Star Drill and the Bell Drill were especially good, aso the pantomime, "A Little Town of Bethlehem, and the "Star of the East" was a lovely and very appropriate number. The patriotic play, Brittania, was most effective and the beautiful costumes added greatly to its appeal. The Darkie song, Sing a Song of Christmas Day, created much merriment and was enthusiastically encored. The dialogues were also good; in fact, each pupil and each number deserves special mention. Much credit is due the teacher, Miss Elizabeth MadKay, for her careful training. An enjoyable feature of the program was a delightful solo by Miss May Muttart. Mr. John Haslam, who capably performed the duties of chairman, congratulated the teacher and pupils on their splendid concert and appreciative remark were also made by Messrs. T. B. Gillespie and Burpee MacMicken. The pupils presented their teacher with a beatiful gift of lingerie and the Women's Institute supplied a treat of home-made candy and fruit for the pupils. The proceeds of a small admission fee were in aid of the Red Cross. A hearty vote of thanks was tendered to all who had contributed to the success of the concert. God Save the King brought the proceedings to a close. Following is the program:—

Mrs. George D. Irving, Cherry Valley, is the welcome guest of her mother, Mrs. Robert Howatt, Searleton, for the holiday season.

Miss Marion Bell, of the Department of Transport, Charlottetown, is spending the holidays at her home in Carleton.

Among the guests who attended the MacDonald-Larkins wedding at Carleton Saturday were Mrs. Alonzo Larkins, Summerside; Mr. and Mrs. Champion, Kensington; and Mr. and Mrs. Frank McEwen, Summerside.

Let us hear from you, as this is the season of the year for such, so who can beat this W. J. Howatt of Cape Traverse lately killed an eight months hog which dressed 321 lbs and a twenty months old baby-beef which dressed 533 lbs, both of which were entirely fed on home grown products.

A quiet but interesting event took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lord of Cape Traverse on Sunday evening, December 8th, when their eldest daughter, Margaret Dora, was united in marriage with Mr. William Richard Carver, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Geoge Carver of Charlottetown. The ceremony was performed at 5.30 o'clock by Rev. Ralph Barker. The bride was given in marriage by her father and was attractively gowned in a street length dress of Indian Earth crepe with matching accessories. The bride and groom were unattended. After the ceremony and the signing of the register the bridal party proceeded to the dining room where a bountiful supper was in readiness. Mr. and Mrs. Carver will reside in their beautiful new home at Carleton Siding. We wish them every happiness and prosperity in their married life.

A post nuptial shower was held in honor of Mr and Mrs. Richard Carver at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lord, on Wednesday evening, Dec. 18th. The drawing room was tastefully decorated with pink and white streamers, and a beautiful arch of pink and white roses centred with a large white wedding bell. After the friends had all arrived Mr. David Murphy escorted the bride while Miss Mildred Muttart conducted the groom to their seats of honor beneath the wedding bell. Little Miss Marion Lord and Master Warren Lord, acting as a miniature bride and groom, carried in several well laden baskets of gifts. Miss Milded Muttart opened the presents, while Miss Evelyn Bell read the verses. Miss Evelyn Harvey presented the gifts to the bride and groom and Mrs. A. K. Lord tastefully arranged the presents on the table. They consisted of cut glass, linen, pyrex, bed clothing and silver. The groom, on behalf of the bride and himself, expressed sincere thanks for the many lovely gifts, and invited all to visit them at their new home in Carleton. All joined in singing "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows. The remainder of the evening was spent in games after which a delicious lunch was served and all departed, wishing the popular young couple much happiness.

The following item, taken from an Ashland, Mass. paper will be of interest to friends in this Province of Mrs. A. E. Joslyn, who was formerly Miss Violet Clark of Augustine Cove. In this connection it is interesting to recall that Mrs. Joslyn's mother, Mrs. Roy Clark, recently won $20.00 in the Robin Hood radio contest. Ashland, Nov. 25—Lyman H. Walbridge of Concord Street, with a score of 48, was the winner of the turkey in the male division of the Telechron Associates' annual shoot Friday evening George Putnam, of Alden Street, with a score of 31, was runner-up. Mrs. Augustus E. Joslyn of Irving Street, Framingham, with a score of 20, won the turkey in the women's division, with Mrs Vera Kelly of Saxonville, second with 16 points. The many persons attending the shoot also enjoyed the dart game and the other facilities of the club, it being the annual open night at the clubhouse. The winning of a turkey by Mrs. Joslyn may have a comedy climax, provided her husband returns without game from a Maine hunting trip. Mr. and Mrs. Joslyn have both been contestants at the Telechron shoot for several years, but this year "Gus," who is a top-notch marksman, went on a week-end hunting trip, leaving it to his wife to represent the family at the local shoot. Both of them have had high scores in previous Telechron Shoots, but neither won a gobler; so this year Mrs. Joslyn has the chance to "crow" a bit over 'Gus," especially if he returns from the Maine woods without venision.

The Cape Traverse Young People's Union met on Friday evening, December 27th at the home of Miss Evelyn Bell, with the president in the chair. Ten members responded to roll call and the minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. It was the annual business meeting and the president gave a comprehensive and encouraging report, reviewing the varied activities of the past year. The report of the Secretary-treasurer was adopted as read. Election of officers for the ensuing year resulted as follows: President, Thelma Quigley; vice-president, David Murphy; Secretary-treasurer, Deane Bell; additional members of the executive, Evelyn Bell and Ferne Bell. Home committee, Evelyn Bell and Ferne Bell. The lunch committee for next meeting, Mrs. Richard Carver Ferne Bell and Mrs. David Murphy. Mary Muttart then read a beautifully worded address to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Carver, better known as Dick and Dora, both valued members of the Union who were recently married; and on behalf of the members Ferne Bell presented them with a handsome cabinet of silverware. Speaking for his wife and himself the happy bridegroom made a nice little speech, thanking his fellow members and extending to them the hospitality of the new Carver home. A general knowledge contest was put on by David Murphy and a Christmas contest by Evelyn Bell. Mary Muttart gave a humorous reading, "Hospitality," and generously responded to an encore. Ferne Bell contributed several piano selections and a vocal solo which was also encored. Evelyn Bell led a sing song of Christmas Carols, after which the meeting closed with the Mizpah Benediction. Delicious refreshments were served by Evelyn Bell and her mother, Mrs. James Bell.

A pretty wedding took place Saturday morning, December 28th at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Russell MacDonald, Carleton, when, in the presence of about thirty invited guests, their daughter, Gladys Amelia, was united in marriage with Mr. David Lloyd George Larkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Larkins, Summerside. The ceremony was performed at eight o'clock by Rev. Ralph Barker. To the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March, played by the bride's sister, Miss Ruth MacDonald, the bridal party took their places beneath a canopy of white streamers centred by three white marriage bells, with the cheery background of a lighted Christmas tree. The young couple were unattended and the bride was given in marriage by her father. She looked charming in a street-length dress of Queen's blue crepe, the bodice ornamented with a single large flower, beaded in white, and she carried an arm bouquet of pink carnations and maidenhair fern, with pink tulle streamers. During the signing of the register Mrs. Kenneth Muttart, sister of the bride, sang very sweetly "O Perfect Love." Immediately after the ceremony a dainty wedding breakfast was served. Those assisting were Mrs. Frank MacDonald, Mrs. Ernest Inman, Mrs. Kenneth Muttart, Misses Miriam MacDonald, Ruth MacDonald and Eleanor Bell. The dining table was tastefully arranged with a handsome lace cover, the wedding cake in the centre flanked by white candles in silver candlesticks. Amid showers of confetti and good wishes the bride and groom left on the ten o'clock boat for a honeymoon trip to the mainland, the bride's travelling coat being of teal blue cloth, fashioned in bolero effect, with grey Squirrel trimmings, her hat, gloves and accessories of matching grey. On their return, Mr. and Mrs. Larkins will reside in Summerside, where the groom is a member of the Post Office staff. The Guardian joins with their many friends in wishing them every happiness.

The Cape Traverse Women's Missionary Society met on Thursday, December 5th at the home of Mrs. James Bell, with the president in the chair. The meeting opened with a Christmas meditation. The theme for the worship service was "The World Church Pays Homage to Chrsit," Mrs. Lord, Mrs. Norring, Mrs. James Bell and Miss Mary Muttart taking part. A very lovely solo, "I Cannot Tell Why He Whom Angels Worship", was then sung by Miss Mary Muttart. Instead of the regular study book, an appropriate sermon, "Will the British Empire Crumble", was read. Six members and one visitor were present. A letter from Mrs. MacQuarrie was read and other business discussed. Owing to the small attendance the report of the nominating committee and other business was left over for the next meeting. Collection was taken and the hymn ,"We Would See Jesus," was sung. The meeting closed with prayer by Mrs. Norring. A delicious lunch was served by Mrs. Bell, assisted by her daughter, Evelyn.

On Monday evening, December 23rd at the Borden Dance Hall, a miscellaneous shower was tendered Miss Amelia MacDonald of Carleton, who, for the past two and a half years was the efficient vice-principal of Borden School. The orchestra platform was prettily trimmed for the occasion, and Miss Tessie Sexton escorted the guest of honor to a decorated chair. Little Miss Joan Cameron and Master Walter Westhaver, dressed as a miniature bride and groom, carried in a large basket of gifts. The packages were opened by Misses Beryl Dorsey and Tisey Darrah while Miss Tessie Sexton read the accompanying cards and verses. The gifts, which comprised linen, silver and china, were both beautiful and useful. In a gracious little speech Miss MacDonald expressed her sincere thanks and invited her friends to visit her at her new home in Summerside. All joined in singing "For She's a Jolly Good Fellow" and the remainder of the evening was spent in dancing.

The December meeting of the Augustine Cove Women's Institute met at the home of Mrs. Harold Howatt on Friday, December 6th.
