

Chicago Goes On Scoring Spree, Downs Boston 10-4; Maple Leafs Top League

CHICAGO 10, BOSTON 4 (CP)—The last-place Chicago Black Hawks went on a scoring spree tonight, defeating Boston Bruins 10-4 in the highest-scoring National Hockey League game of the season.

The Hawks were alone in last place as the game began, but the victory moved them into a sure way tie with Boston and New York. New York earlier in the evening dropped a 4-2 decision to Toronto Maple Leafs, who now are in first place.

The 10-goal assault closed out a dismal week-end for rookie goalie Jack Gelineau of Boston. The Leafs buried him 8-1 in Toronto Saturday night.

A Madison Square Garden crowd of 14,140 saw the Hawks strike quickly and then throw up solid defence with around veteran goalie Frankie Brimsek. It was his first whitewash job of the season.

DETROIT 1, MONTREAL 0 (CP)—Rookie Steve Black's first-period goal was enough to carry Detroit Red Wings through to a victory Saturday night over Montreal Canadiens in the third shutout in a row for the helpless Habitués.

A crowd of 12,718 saw Canadiens slip from a first-place tie with the Bruins to third in the N.H.L. standing before the teams headed for Detroit and a Sunday night engagement.

Canadiens' ineptness at goal-scoring was again glaringly on display as they were held to a 0-1 record in their last four games, the other unbeaten match being a 2-2 tie with the Rangers Oct. 22.

Eight penalties, including a 10-minute misconduct sentence to Dunc Fisher in the first period, were handed out by referee Bill Chadwick. Of these the Rangers drew all but two.

The Rangers outshot the Leafs 15 to 22, but many of the stops by Rayner, including a pair in the first period by Mackell and Ted Kennedy, bordered on the sensational.

SPORTING NEWS

PAGE SIX THE GUARDIAN, CHARLOTTETOWN OCTOBER 31, 1949

It is with regret that we record here the sudden death of William "Bill" Chandler who passed away yesterday, and the sad news will come as a distinct shock to his many friends.

Possessed of a cheery personality, Bill enlisted many a gathering with his wit and humor. He was keenly interested in sport and gave of his time and effort in organizing the Legion hockey team which took part in the City Hockey League in the first years after the war.

During his scholastic years prior to the war Bill was a valuable member of both West Kent and Prince of Wales rugby squads and not only took his turn at carrying the ball but always managed to carry his sunny nature into the game with him in the true manner of good sportsmanship and kept many a temper from flaring during heated sessions with a ready smile or humorous retort.

He served overseas with the 1st Medium Regiment, R.C.A., and there is no doubt his service on the active war fronts of Italy and North West Europe impaired his health. Not one to complain, Bill worked up to the last even though personally aware of the seriousness of his illness. He could not remain inactive.

Many times in the past this column has recorded the names of well-known local sportsmen and sports followers, and it is with a keen sense of personal loss that we pay tribute to Bill Chandler, a keen supporter of athletics and a comrade. Sincere sympathy is extended to his widow and two young sons.

Local fans sure got their fill of smart football Saturday, when S. D. U. and U.N.B. came up with a stellar performance in their 3-3 draw, the first of the season, and a deadlock encounter in the N.B.P.E.I. intercollegiate championship competition.

Coming up with everything in the way of snappy passing attacks, hard tackling and ground covering kicks, both teams waged a struggle that was nothing short of sensational at times, and nary a man on either lineup could have been called upon to turn in a better performance than they did.

Admittedly the Saints were the better team in so far as territory play was concerned, and should this writer's point of view, have won the game rather than tied it, as they had considerably more scoring opportunities than the Hawks. But breaks just didn't come when they needed them most, and had to give way to a tie game when the visitors made a brilliant break, the like of which is seldom seen in football, and which was a rugby player's dream.

However, it is often the breaks that win or lose games, and there is no taking away any of the laurels deserved by the S. D. U. effort and the spectacular 35 yard run by J. Glass who garnered the necessary points to tie up the game. It was a real break, and he certainly made the most of it.

There were a lot of conflicting opinions on referee Jim McCallum's decision over the try that was made by Saints in the last half near the 20-yard mark, when Pete Dunphy plunged over, from a 10 yard scrum, only to have it called back for another scrum. It certainly looked like a good try from the sidelines, but one doesn't always see the true picture of things. We took the opportunity of asking Mr. McCallum after the game about his decision, and this is how he saw it in his own words: "I lost sight of the ball during the pile-up and scramble, so I called it no touch-down. He was the referee and that's how he saw it, so that is good enough for us. Jim has always done a fair and capable job of refereeing, and he still does in our books."

Saints and U. N. B. Battle To 3-All Tie In Intercollegiate Series

In a rip-roaring rugby encounter at the S. D. U. gridiron Saturday afternoon, the University of New Brunswick and Saint Dunstan's University battled it out to a 3-3 deadlock in their last meeting of the N.B.-P.E.I. intercollegiate rugby championship series.

The game, played before the largest turnout of fans this season, came up with some sensational football at times, and provided a knock 'em down and drag 'em out style of play that kept the crowd in a frenzy of excitement all through the encounter.

The result puts S. D. U. and Mount Allison University on a tie for first place in the series, standing with four points each, and U. N. B. trailing in second with two, with one game left to play between the two latter teams next Saturday.

The Saints opened the scoring in the first five minutes of play, when, after making a series of smooth running attacks that ate up yardage, Dunstan Murphy, fast Saints three-quarter back, tore over the line at the far corner in a snappy 20 yard run on the end of a brilliant backfield attack. In the closing minutes of the second half, two minutes and five seconds later, J. Glass, high-stepping U. N. B. three-quarter man broke out in a terrific 35 yard run to go over the line standing up for the tieing points. Both converts were unsuccessful on difficult angle kicks.

First Half
 Putting on a drive right from the opening kickoff, the Saints, after a brief skirmish in their own territory, carried the ball deep into U. N. B. territory with a series of really smart running and passing attacks.

Kicker McIsaac, flashy Saints quarterback nearly scored on the end of a halfline attack in the opening two minutes of play, which three minutes later was realized when a tricky Saints run sent Murphy over for the opening try. Mike Hennessey missed the convert on a tough angle kick.

Continuing the pressure, and showing definite superiority on the play, the Saints ran the ball continually, with the play centered between U. N. B.'s 25 and 10 yard lines, where the battle raged back and forth with U. N. B. throwing their back with effective tackling, and the Saints coming back in again on smart running attacks, with McIsaac, Peter Dunphy, Reg. Rodgers and "Wee Willie" MacDonald, taking their turns and coming within inches of scoring. In fact MacDonald, plunging from a 10 yard scrum did go over but lost possession of the ball before he could get down. Although making a brief attempt to carry the ball into Saints territory with some smart backfield work of their own, it was not until about the 20 minute mark that the visitors threatened greatly, with a brilliant break, the like of which is seldom seen in football, and which was a rugby player's dream.

However, it is often the breaks that win or lose games, and there is no taking away any of the laurels deserved by the S. D. U. effort and the spectacular 35 yard run by J. Glass who garnered the necessary points to tie up the game. It was a real break, and he certainly made the most of it.

CALGARY, Oct. 30 (CP)—The Dominion champion Calgary Stampedeers beat Edmonton Eskimos 27-0 Saturday in a western inter-provincial football union contest before 8,000 fans.

The game, a one-point contest, had no effect on the W.F.U. standings as Stamps had first place clinched and the third-place Eskimos had no chance to catch the second play-off spot.

OTTAWA, Oct. 30 (CP)—Toronto Argonauts, striving to brighten their Big Four football hopes, staged a spirited comeback here Saturday before bowing 30-24 to Ottawa's powerful Rough Riders.

The loss, coupled with Montreal's 28-18 victory over Hamilton today, eliminated Argos' chances of a play-off spot. Rough Riders and Alouettes now have clinched the two Big Four playoff berths and will meet in a two-game series for the league championship opening at Montreal Nov. 9.

Buck Whitlock Sparks Beavers To 7-3 Victory

SAINT JOHN, N. B., Oct. 30 (CP)—Saint John Beavers went back into a second place tie with Moncton Hawks in the standing of the Maritime Senior Hockey League Saturday night. Beavers defeated the Moncton entry 7-3.

As decisive as the contest was, Beavers outskated and outplayed Hawks by a wide margin. The Hawks had little resemblance to the club that opened the season here Oct. 15. In the entire 60 minutes of play not a solid body check was thrown by either team.

Buck Whitlock, former member of the Hawks playing for Beavers this season, sparked the winners with a great two-way performance. He picked up a pair of goals and set up another to become the scoring leader. Beavers were steady back of the blue line with bespectacled Doug Fritz sliding Ralph Croucher and Jack Heon with the defence chore.

Glace Bay Miners Win 6-1 From Millionaires

GLACE BAY, N.S., Oct. 30 (CP)—Glace Bay Miners stunned Sydney Millionaires 6-1 here Saturday night to advance within three points of the co-leaders in the Cape Breton Senior Hockey League.

Millionaires and North Sydney Victorias are tied for top spot with nine points apiece while Glace Bay, third club in the three-team circuit, trails with six. Miners meet Vics tomorrow night at North Sydney.

Glace Bay kept going a peculiar league record; no team has yet been beaten on home ice this season. There have been draws for the home club, but no losses.

Halifax Gives Amherst 17-3 Plastering

HALIFAX, Oct. 30 (CP)—Halifax St. Mary's bettered their first-place position in the Maritime Senior Hockey League Saturday night — and their members gorged on scoring points — by plastering a 17-3 defeat on the hapless Amherst Ramblers.

The score was believed a modern record in the Big Four. Amherst now has been scored on 97 times in nine games, another league record. They have failed to win a game in nine starts.

The smallest crowd of the season sat in silence during the one-sided scolding. St. Mary's skidded in eight goals almost at will in the last period and the hometown fans hardly raised a whisper.

Amherst was trying but they didn't have it. They scored only in each period. Stan MacDougall got two and Allan Kelly the third. St. Mary's couldn't do anything wrong. In the third period, Bill Ford warded at a puck in mid-air and knocked it down into the corner of the Amherst net.
