STOMACH NEEDS REST

If You Would Have Appetite and Sleep in the Hot Weather—Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets Will Give It.

These are the days when everybody's stomach needs a little help—these sultry days when the lucky ones are off to the country or seaside in search of an appetite by day and a desire to sleep by night.

They are looking for rest, and you who have to stay at home and labor should rest that part of you that the heat first effects—your stomach.

Dodd's Dyspepsia tablets will rest the stomach. They will digest the food themselves and the stomach will have nothing to do but rest. They will take away that irritable feeling that scares away appetite and sleep. They will tone up your stomach and cure your indigestion before it turns to dyspepsia. The proof of this is the testimony of those who have used Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets and been cured. Isaac Jenkins, of 116 Dundas Street, Toronto, says:

"I was troubled with Dyspepsia for one year and could not get any relief. I would have sour stomach and heartburn and could never touch any rich food. I only had to use half a box of Dodd's Dyspepsia tablets and I was cured."
