VICTORY FOR SYDNEY

(Continued from page 9.) By an accident to one of the home player's skates, and no sooner had this been rectified, when the game was again delayed, by Sydney's right wing being badly checked against the boards, and somewhat stunned. The body check was not altogether a foul one, though Ramsay was penalized for two minutes.

After this rest both teams played with renewed vigor, and several good rushes were made though without avail. At last Sydney scored and as the excited crowd leaned forward to watch further results the bell rang and half time arrived, with the score of two to one in favor of Charlottetown.

At nine forty, the second half began, and within two minutes Sydney changed the score to two all. The excitement was simply beyond description, and after more play of a severe nature the home team again put the puck into the nets. Three, two, no attempt was made to disguise roughness, and more than one player on both sides received a bad fall.

Of a sudden Sydney seemed to obtain new life, and with a strenuous effort made still another goal. Again the teams lined up for play and after a short sharp struggle the visitors scored once more.

Three to four and the Charlottetownians determined not to be beaten fought like tigers though without avail as Sydney reached the goals. This point met with some little discussion in which the spectators attempted to take part, but the score was given and the game went on. Both teams made several good runs and a little later the Sydney men were one ahead.

Corrfoos, received an injury in his leg and while he was off the band proved its usefulness. Again a score for Sydney and only a short time left.

slaughtering the same with marks of identification in each case.

The subject was further discussed by Mr. McLean, Hon. Joseph Read, Mr. McKinnon and Mr. J. Kennedy (the mover of the original resolution) and Mr. L. McDonald.

Mr. IRVING thought that meats sent forward on an affidavit would be under a disadvantage compared with inspected meats. He thought many farmers would regard the affidavit as a hardship. The requirement to leave the organs attached was found to be necessary if the carcass was to be inspected at a packing house, but it is expected that some relaxation so as to remove all needless obstacles in the way of farmers and dealers shipping meats.

Mr. MATHIESON strongly objected to an affidavit being required. The shipper might have to go miles to find a magistrate. A certificate might be substituted. He held that under the Act, the organs were not required to be attached except when the carcass had to go through a packing house and no inspected. He suggested that the resolution and amendment be referred to a select committee.

Mr. DOBLE pointed out the undesirable of leaving the vital organs in or attached, as in the case of the carcass for a few days in mild weather these parts were the first to become decomposed. The farmers strongly objected to the regulations as they stand.

Mr. B. GALLANT thought well of the suggestion to refer the matter to a committee.

Hon. Mr. RICHARDS was very sorry to see the farmers deprived of any of their privileges and had no objection to refer the matter to a committee.

The discussion was continued by Mr. J. Kennedy, Mr. Palmer, Hon. Mr. Hughes (who moved an amendment to the amendment) Hon. Joseph Read, Mr. McKinnon, Hon. L. McDonald. On motion of Hon. Joseph Read the debate was adjourned and the matter referred to a committee composed of Messrs. McLean, Kennedy, Palmer and Richards.

The committee of supply was resumed and some items passed. EVENING SESSION.

The House resumed committee of supply at 8.50 o'clock.

On the item County Stipendiary Magistrates, Mr. Mathieson inquired whether these magistrates outside of Charlottetown and Summerside received fees as well as salaries.

Mr. PALMER said they received fees in addition to their very small salaries. The fees were only those of an ordinary justice of the peace.

Mr. MATHIESON pointed out that stipendiaries advanced fees and were out of pocket until they collected a fine. This placed them in an unfair position, especially when they had advanced considerable sums in this way.

Mr. PREMIER HASZARD thought there was no hardship in the matter. The custom was for the stipendiary to deduct his fees from the fines he collected. If the sums paid out by the stipendiary were considerable and there were no outstanding fines to collect, he should send in an account to the department and it would be paid. No fund was advanced to stipendiaries to provide for such cases.

Mr. MATHIESON contended that this placed the stipendiaries in a false position as it would be to their interest to impose fines in order to get back moneys they had advanced.

Mr. PREMIER HASZARD explained in regard to a payment to Dr. Hattie of Halifax as an expert in the Brown trial, that he was paid $25 per diem and hotel and travelling expenses, as little as could be paid to an expert of his standing. The matter was handled by the late Premier Peters, before he (Mr. Haszard) was in the Government. But he fully approved of the action taken.

Mr. MATHIESON contended that $300 was too much to pay, however good the intentions of the Government were. Referring to the Attorney Generalship he remarked that the House had not yet learned whether the Premier when he became Attorney General had resigned the Dominion law agency?

Mr. PREMIER HASZARD—No! Much half joking comment followed as various items came up for consideration and were passed, including the salaries of prohibitory law inspectors, and the sheriffs.

Hon. Mr. CUMMISKY in reply to Mr. McLean said that repairs would be made to the court house in Georgetown. It was rather early yet to do plastering but the work would be done before the next court. Repairs were also promised for the court house in Souris.

A long time was consumed in discussion over coal supplied for the Summerside Court House at $5 and $6.10 per ton by John Grady, the cheque being endorsed by Joseph Read & Co., the Opposition contention being that the price was excessive and that there ought to have been competition. The Commissioner of Public Works claimed that he had before answered questions on the subject fully, while being pressed by the leader of the Opposition to state whether tenders were received or not, and if received how many tenders there were. The item was held over.

The estimates for the department of Agriculture were passed without debate. Coming to the estimates for the Executive Council Mr. Mathieson strongly objected to a payment of $200 to Mr. Newberry without having been voted. He contended that this was not an unforeseen or emergent case, and recalled that Mr. Newberry had last year refused to answer questions before the public accounts committee.

Mr. PREMIER HASZARD justified the payment to Mr. Newberry, whom he declared to be an excellent officer,
