A BLENDED TEA IS BETTER.—Tea from one garden, no matter how fine it is, possesses certain desirable qualities but may lack others, because all characteristics are not developed under the same conditions. If the tea has a perfect flavor it may lack richness; if it has body it is, perhaps, without the same perfection of flavor. To combine all the desirable qualities in one blend has been the work of the "SALADA" Experts for over a quarter century and the broad "SALADA" is the fruit of their labours.

Opposition Criticism

Mr. McArthur asked who would dare insinuate that the late Government made mistakes. He knew the report of the outside auditors would be an attempt to show up the Bell Government, but the report would be no bomb-shell to the Opposition; they knew what was coming. There had not been a dollar of graft in the work, and the old system will have to be kept up. It might be good business to reduce the auto fees, he suggested, as there was a feeling that the auto men had not been used right. The Conservatives would not be able to collect a tenth of the arrears of taxes. It was brazen effrontery to assume their attitude on the tax question. He wished the Premier would take the House into his confidence about the new system of accounting. He hoped it would be a right one. The Lord knew the old system needed improvement. He wanted to know the Government's attitude on the "Turn to the Right" movement. It might have found a place in the Speech.

Premier Stewart: "Is that necessary Government legislation? Mr. McArthur: "It may not be, but it would not be out of place." On the question of prohibition Mr. McArthur said he would not say to which side he leaned. Abuse of any good thing was not argument. It was a mooted question whether there might not be two Prohibition Commissions. The price of rum had been reduced fifty cents a bottle, he complained. It looked as if the matter were being made a political football.

He made reference to a man who had been given shooting privileges and a deed of land to which he was not entitled. This was another encroachment on public rights. The public be damned, that was the policy so far. He cited page 59 of the Public Accounts to show that the Bell Government finances were above board, and quoted the statement of the Island's financial reputation as sent to the bond dealers by the present Government. Incidentally he ventured to say that the Government is not getting equality on certain bonds. They are still paying 5 per cent on call money, and the bonds are yielding only 5.10 percent to investors.

Before concluding Mr. McArthur again referred to the recent election, and to the "perverse generation" that had turned out the Bell Government. Mr. William Dennis, Second District of Prince, followed Hon. J. A. McDonald on the draft address, and was the last Liberal speaker in the debate. He regretted that the last three or four speakers had wandered away from the subject. Believing it the duty of every member to deal with what he considered the most important interests of the Province, he wished to govern himself accordingly. He reviewed the Dominion Highway Act, which provides only for provincial government roads, costing on the mainland between $22,000 and $35,000 a mile. The Liberals had the conditions modified respecting costly material. The present Commissioner (Hon. J. A. McDonald) said that many miles of good roads on the island were torn up by the Bell Government at a great waste of money, but this Mr. Dennis contended, were what the conditions of the time demanded.

Hon. J. A. McDonald: "I think the member for the Second District is not quite correct. So far as the Act is concerned his statement may be more or less true, but New Brunswick carried out their program in a manner entirely different. They made special arrangements with the Commissioner of Highways, and the Chief Commissioner at Ottawa told me we could have done the same." Mr. Dennis: "Was that within the first year?" Premier Stewart: "It was in 1919."

Mr. Dennis asked why the Conservatives had not taken the matter up during the part of the year they were in power. How many changes had they since made? Not one. The present Government is not open to any vast cost sure on road work because they have not done any yet. Mistakes may have occurred in the Public Works department under the Bell regime but on the whole the record was one to be proud of. He credited the former Commissioner of Agriculture with butting in on co-operative purchasing of farm supplies. He had personally ordered through Mr. Lea for the O'Leary Station one standard car of oil cake, costing $1,900, at a great saving. The dealers through out town and country came in and virtually choked Mr. Lea against the wall of his own office and said, "You take your hands off."

"And he done it," continued Mr. Dennis. Hay, seed and fertilizer he said, had been distributed at cost to the farmers, but Liberal friends who were dealing in those commodities made it unwholesome for the Liberal government. He went on to stress the needs of the dairy industry. There have been new regulations at Ottawa re concerning grading of butter for export, one of them prohibiting butter from being graded at the factory. We have here no gathering place for grading. Pasturized butter only retains its grade for six weeks, so that it is possible to have butter graded and regraded after being held in cold storage. Producers bringing such perishable commodity to the caudor to be graded do not know what grade they will get until arriving. This is a handicap on the dairy industry. People have had to haul a large quantity of butter four or five miles to the rail, and back again. He had been a salesman and knew the buying tricks of the trade; they combine

Children are apt to bolt down their food without chewing. That means poor teeth and poor digestion. The best food for growing children is Shredded Wheat because it encourages thorough mastication. Contains all the nutritive elements in the whole wheat grain, including the bran which is Nature's best food laxative. It is ready-cooked and ready-to-eat—delicious for any meal with hot milk, sliced bananas or other fruits.

to work against the producers to get the lowest prices. It was difficult to know what to do about this. There should be some central place to gather dairy butter from all over the Island, say at Borden or Emerald. The cold storage at Charlottetown is poorly situated, and it has not sufficient accommodation. In his own district people are paying $8,000 for refrigeration and they would gladly contribute this towards a central cold storage. When the late Liberal Government came in $18.24 was paid for education per student. In Nova Scotia it was $22.30 and in all other provinces there was a marked increase. Saskatchewan being highest, paying $86.00 per student. The Bell Government's increase to education was fairly successful in keeping our teachers at home. The Conservatives went to the country with a promise and a half a full promise to repeal the poll tax, and half a promise to reduce sessional indemnity. They picked out the most taking card with the people.
