THE CHARLOTTETOWN GUARDIAN

TUESDAY MORNING DECEMBER 4, 1906.

A PROMISE NOT KEPT.

Experience has demonstrated that it is only by perpetual and earnest agitation that we can get our wants attended to and our rights respected at Ottawa. This has been true with either Liberals or Conservatives in power. It was a long hard fight to get the Stanley and another long hard fight to get the Minto. It was the same in our battle for a night and day telegraph service at reasonable rates. It is only after the Island has been the third part of a century in the union, and after the needless loss of many lives, that the Ottawa authorities begin to think of providing for us a life-saving service like the other Provinces have.

It is the same with the new winter steamer. The Stanley and the Minto have in two winters proved utterly inadequate. In the second of these disastrous periods a cry was raised loud and long from every section of the Province for the Tunnel, and for a steamer adequate to our needs. The steamer was promised to be ready for this winter's service. That promise has not been kept. It is safe to say that it will not be kept if the agitation is dropped. If we are content to suffer in silence we shall always suffer. The shouting and complaining of 1905 will not serve for 1907. The Ottawa authorities have dull ears, and the distance is long. We must have that stronger additional steamer! Let all the people join in the shout.

PARLIAMENT OUT OF WORK.

The sudden collapse of the budget debate at Ottawa has left our highly paid Members and Senators with nothing to do. There is talk of an early adjournment so that work can be got ready for them when the session shall be resumed after the holidays. All of which goes to show that the real work of the ordinary session might easily be accomplished in three months or less. For such service they make the people pay them $2,500 apiece—the price of a good farm for three months' work!

The Government has shown a fair measure of readiness in having the public accounts, the budget, the estimates and the tariff ready in good time. But more than this should have been ready. It is worse than idle to call Parliament together without abundant work for both Houses to do. We have grown accustomed to the do-nothing Senate. The life-pensioners of that body are beyond the reach of public criticism. A few minutes constitutes a day's work with them. But the House of Commons ought to make a better showing. To have both Houses idle at enormous expense is something that ought not to be tolerated.

The steamship Bavarian went on the rocks below Quebec two years ago. Experts were brought from both Britain and the United States to get her afloat again but entirely failed and gave up the task. Then a Canadian, William Leslie of Kingston, 65 years of age, undertook the job and in three months did the work.

The salary grab will not down. Mr Stewart, K. C. forcibly expressed the the general condemnation of that transaction at St. Andrew's dinner the other night as another speaker did a year ago. Senators and members are our paid employees and servants. When they want more pay than that which was given them at the beginning of their service they should ask their employers for it, not take it without leave. When railway or bank employees, or the employees of any firm or individual, thus help themselves to their employers' funds the act is called by a very unpleasant name.

CANADIAN FISHERIES.

By the annual report of the Fisheries Department it appears that the total product of the fisheries of Canada in 1905 was $29,479,562. British Columbia leads among the Provinces in the value of her production, followed in order by Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Quebec. The following are the figures:

British Columbia	$9,850,216
Nova Scotia	8,259,085
New Brunswick	4,847,090
Quebec	2,003,716
Ontario	1,708,933
P. E. Island	998,922
Northwest Provinces	1,811,570
Total	$29,479,562

The bounties paid to fishermen totalled $158,546. Nova Scotia received the lion's share—nearly double the amount of the other three Provinces—the figures being: Nova Scotia, $100,664; Quebec, $34,185; New Brunswick, $15,379; Prince Edward Island, $8,317. Nova Scotia does not give its unanimous support to the Government for nothing.

The Pioneer says no valid arguments have been advanced in favor of the one jail system for Prince Edward Island and quotes The Watchman in support of that statement. The Watchman quite naturally opposes almost any act done or contemplated by the present Government. The Pioneer's judgments on the validity of arguments do not usually carry very much weight, and we fear will not, in the opinion of the Commissioner of Public Works at least, be made any more weighty by the edorsation of The Watchman. Politics and jails alike bring together strange bedfellows.

The Governor General's horses ran away at Ottawa on Saturday last, colliding with a delivery waggon, and for a time His Excellency is said to have been in great danger. Fortunately he escaped without serious injury. The incident serves to recall a runaway of the viceregal team in the days when the Marquis of Lorne and Princess Louise were the official occupants of Rideau Hall, on which occasion the Princess narrowly escaped with her life. As it was the accident caused her great and prolonged suffering. The average English coachman is an excellent driver of a wheeled vehicle but is not to be trusted with a sleigh, a vehicle whose ways and tricks he will never understand. Lord Grey should employ a Canadian coachman.

The women suffragettes are naturally impatient because Premier Campbell-Bannerman will not at present take up their cause. But he or some other Premier will yet be forced to take it up, if it is true, as we believe it is, that no fewer than 420 of the 670 members of the Commons are pledged to support the movement to enfranchise women on equal terms with men.

Trusts do not thrive in England, although there are no anti-trust laws such as we have in Canada and the United States. The reason is there are no sheltering tariff walls to entrench them and the spirit of the British people is intensely hostile to monopolies. Not long ago the tobacco trust had to go out of business in England and the more recent soap trust has collapsed almost before it was born. No official action was taken. The people killed both these trusts by refusing to buy their wares.

With zero weather and the ground covered with snow the people of Saskatchewan have been enduring a coal famine. Now, we are told, the strike at the Lethbridge mines has been settled and the settlers will after a while have coal again. But at any time the trouble may recur.

In the eastern Provinces we have still some wood to burn as well as coal. We have also abundant good water and we are about two thousand miles nearer the great markets of the world than are the people of Saskatchewan. These are advantages which our people should consider before setting out for the Northwest. Our winters here are severe enough, but the thermometer goes twenty to forty degrees lower at Edmonton, and a Northwest blizzard is something appalling. That great country has some great drawbacks.
