ROYAL ORANGE ASSOCIATION

Queen's County Loyal Orange Lodge met in annual session at Brookfield, Prince Edward Island on Feb. 7th, 1933 with Tanton Lodge No. 1126, there being present a large number of Brethren from the various L. O. L. Lodges in Queens County attending the afternoon and evening sessions, where the old and young mingle together in love and loyalty, faith, hope and charity—most all the officers were present. After the G. Chaplain had conducted the Devotional Exercises, very encouraging reports were submitted by Brethren from the various districts of Queens Co. Although the day was cold, quite a number of Brothers over the score and ten mark attended the sessions, some of them driving over 20 miles that morning to attend Lodge and enjoy the hospitality of Brookfield Brethren at their homes.

The evening session opened with a large number of Brothers present, and after Devotional Exercises were conducted by the Chaplain, the Lodge proceeded to elect its officers for the current year. Bro. J. Vernon Moore, D. G. Master, Crapaud, was invited to the chair to elect and install the officers for 1933. County Master Bro. Fred Sherrin, Crapaud at councils—sending emissaries in fiery chariots to the ends of the earth to reform and Millenniumize the world.

PLEASANT VALLEY W. I.

The regular monthly meeting of the Pleasant Valley Women's Institute met on Feb. 13th, at the home of Mrs. James McSwain. The President, Mrs. Wigmore, presided. Meeting opened by singing Institute Ode and repeating Creed in unison. Minutes of previous meeting approved. Seventeen members responded to roll call by repeating a Valentine Verse. There were also six visitors present. Committees reported and new ones were appointed. It was moved, seconded and carried that suitable maps be purchased for the school, and also that two dozen books be purchased for school. Four members paid dues. One new member, Mrs. J. E. Sothers was welcomed. A committee was appointed to write a letter of sympathy to a bereaved member. Next meeting to be held at the home of Mrs. Bruce Somers. After the business part of our meeting was over, a short programme was carried out, consisting of readings, duets. An interesting contest was put on, the prize being won by Mrs. James Murray. The remainder of the evening was spent playing games, and instrumental music was also enjoyed. After a vote of thanks was tendered, Mr. and Mrs. McSwain, a most pleasant evening came to a close by singing the National Anthem.

SLEEP AND SLEEPLESSNESS

The ability to throw off the cares of the day and to compose one's self for a night's refreshing sleep is something that is best appreciated when it is lost. To the majority of people, the hours for sleeping are just a third part of the day, following naturally upon the hours of mental and physical activity. They accept sleep as a matter of course. The time arrives, conditions are favorable, relaxation is complete, and soon they are asleep.

There are a goodly number to whom sleep does not readily come. Bedtime finds this group fearful that they are about to put in another restless night. Some there are who go to bed prepared to make every effort to sleep. Such effort is vain. He who concentrates on sleep invariably remains awake long into the night. Sleep comes best to those who are thoroughly tired and who are able to lay aside the problems of the day with its disappointments and unsolved difficulties until the morning.

The postponement of the bedtime hour may be an important factor in insomnia. Late parties with too much excitement; guests who never know when to go home and hostesses who will not let them go are sworn enemies of sleep. Dances are now only nicely under way at an hour when a previous generation had retired for the night.

Headaches and Dizzy Spells Nerves in Bad Condition

Mr. Neil Crawford, Hamilton, Ont., writes: "My nerves were in such bad condition I found it almost impossible to get a good night's sleep. I was also bothered with headaches and dizzy spells. I tried many different remedies, but they did not seem to give me much relief, but after I had taken Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills I could hardly believe the change they had made in my condition."

Is History Foretold In The Scripture?

(The Glengarry News)

In his concluding address on Prophecy at Dunvegan, Ontario, Rev. D. M. Lamont, (formerly of Charlottetown), forecast the closing events of history in the following order: Avoiding the riddle of mystic numbers which have so often led to the rash anticipation of dates and have brought the subject into ridicule, there is some agreement as to the consecutive order of the World's Closing Events.

First: Wars, pestilences and earthquakes shall be in many places in abnormal magnitudes. This is what Jesus calls "the beginning of sorrows," and accords with Rev. Chap. 6. The last war for example surpassed all wars in magnitude.

Secondly: An almost universal Apostasy from the Christian faith is predicted; headed by a dark, sinister figure called the Anti-Christ or Man of Sin.

No past apostasy either in the Eastern Church or in the Western nor yet in the "Non-Catholic" churches, has measured up to the awful pictures foreshadowed in Daniel and Revelation. Nor has any war of the past reached the proportions, or fitted the character of that great Armageddon described in Revelation, Chap. 16. All these sorrows loom yet before us. I am aware that some writers try to evade these ugly prospects by "planning" the Second Coming and the so-called "Rapture" of the saints to proceed the Apostasy.

But this pleasing scheme of the rapturists collides with some obvious facts of Scripture. For example; when the Thessalonians believed the day for Christ's second appearing had arrived, Paul corrected them. He warned them that it is not the coming of Christ but the coming of Antichrist they must first look for. (2 Thes. 2). Again when some recent writers teach that the early Christians were commanded to look for the Second Advent any day or any hour, we find two of the greatest Apostles, St. Peter and St. Paul telling, in an open letter to the churches, that they expected to die before His coming. That is, these two apostles did not expect the second coming in their day.

Time will not permit us to discuss the old controversy between Pre- and Post-Chilists. Suffice it to say that some recent writers have let imagination run riot in describing Christ enthroned in a reconstructed Jerusalem, within a re-brewed Palestine—issuing commands by radio to international councils—sending emissaries in fiery chariots to the ends of the earth to reform and Millenniumize the world.

Certainly unless we divest biblical prophecy of all the meaning of plain language, there are tremendous and glorious events drawing near. But let us not vulgarize divine prophecy, as if producing fancy films of the future. Let us keep in close touch with Scripture.

We come now to the Third epoch. The Fall of Antichrist, coinciding with the inauguration of the Millennium triumph of the Gospel. Eminent writers doubt that the thousand years in Revelation 20 are to be taken literally; and there are strong reasons for believing that the Second Coming of Christ, in the glory of His Father with His Angels, will mean the culminating and closing chapter of mundane history.

This glorious return of our Saviour to our sorrowful earth, is as clearly predicted as was His first coming. There are some theorists who follow Swedenborg in teaching that there is to be no Second Coming, other than the coming of His Spirit to individual souls. Had Swedenborg's spiritual doctrine been applied to the First Coming it would have proved that there was to be no physical birth in Bethlehem, and no physical crucifixion on Calvary. It could be all spiritualized into some experience of the church.

Concluding, Mr. Lamont made an appeal to the young for more earnest study of prophecy. "Why should the Church," he asked, "which glories in His first coming, forget about His promise to come again?" "Watch ye, therefore, and pray always, that ye may be accounted worthy to escape all these things that shall come to pass, and to stand before the Son of man."

Bedeque and Vicinity

A large number of friends and neighbors of the surrounding districts assembled at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Reeves of South Freetown on Wednesday evening, for the purpose of extending congratulations and best wishes to their son and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Reeves (Mrs. Reeves, who was formerly Miss Irene Stewart of Bradabane) whose marriage took place a short time ago. As the guests assembled in the drawing-room, which was tastefully arranged, the bride was ushered in, and seated in an attractively and prettily decorated chair, while a large number of gifts were unwrapped by Miss Marjorie Harper and the humorous and witty verses accompanying the gifts were read by Miss Margaret Reeves, and received with much merriment. The bride and groom, then expressed their thanks to their many friends for the lovely gifts and good wishes. The hostess, assisted by Mrs. Frank Reeves, Mrs. Fred Reeves and Mrs. Mary Mullen served a very delicious buffet luncheon, which was much enjoyed by all. The remainder of the evening was pleasantly spent in dancing and instrumental music. At a late hour the entire party departed for their homes, after wishing Mr. and Mrs. Reeves, many years of wedded happiness. A very enjoyable evening was spent together.

The sad death of Mr. John McBride at Boston, Mass., has been received by friends in Kinkora with much regret. Word to the effect that Mr. McBride, was walking across the street, he was accidentally struck by a passing automobile and sustained severe injuries, from which he only lived a short time. The sudden death under such sad circumstances, came as a great shock to the many relatives and friends. The deceased was a former resident of Maple Plains, near Kinkora, P. E. I., where he lived some years ago. There are left to mourn, a sorrowing widow (who was before her marriage Miss Gertrude McEwen of Mount Tryon) also two sisters Mrs. George Kelly of Shamrock, and Mrs. Thomas MacCabe of Newton, P. E. I. and many other relatives, all to whom, the community joins in extending sincere sympathy in this sad bereavement.

Miss Emily Platts of Charlottetown, spent the week end in Central Bedeque, the welcome guest of her friend, Miss Hester Inman.

Miss Olive Dalziel, entertained at her home, to a very enjoyable Valentine Party, last Tuesday evening the members of the Women's Institute of New Annapolis. The parlour was very prettily decorated with little Valentine decorations. The president, Mrs. Jack McInnis, capably presided. A very interesting programme of instrumental selections, vocal and other musical numbers and contests, whiled away the evening all too quickly. Suitable prizes were awarded the lucky winners of the contests. A very pleasing feature on the program was an exhibition of step dancing. The hostess and assisting hostesses served delicious luncheon. Later in the evening, all left for their respective homes feeling that a very pleasant evening's entertainment was given.

The many friends of Miss Ruth MacLeod will be sorry to hear of her serious indisposition.

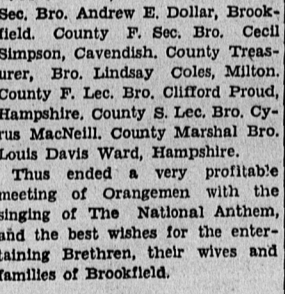

The many friends of Mr. Bernard Connolly of Centreville Bedeque, who sustained quite severe injuries to his head when he fell on the ice about a week ago will be pleased to hear that he is recovering slowly.

A very interesting and exciting game of hockey in the final game to decide the second and third place teams in the third section for the Clark League. This game being played between the Carleton team and the Middleton team, and was attended by quite a number of hockey supporters, last Wednesday evening in the Bedeque Rink. The first canto opened brisk and with real fast hockey exhibited by both teams. Shortly after, I. Bradshaw speedy right winger, for the Middleton clan, neatly planted the disc between the posts in play from the blue line. This was fol-
