Virgin Wool Supplies

Available supplies in 1933 of virgin wool, imported and homegrown in the principal consuming countries, exclusive of the Soviet Union (Russia), were about 10 per cent greater than in 1932, the principal increases occurring in the United States, France, Japan, and Italy. Small decreases on the other hand are reported in the United Kingdom, Belgium, and Czechoslovakia—Imperial Economic Committee.

Farm House Prospects

There is today a very marked scarcity of big, sound, work horses, and owing to the slackening off in breeding, and the natural mortality in aged horses, the scarcity is bound to be acute during the next two years. From a breeding standpoint the industry is suffering greatly from a lack of high quality stallions of the draught breeds. Statistical returns indicate a decrease of stallions amounting to 8,000 head between the years 1900 to 1929, a situation which does not lead itself to a rapid increase in the horse population. Stallion owners report that the breeding season of 1933 was the most satisfactory experienced for some years, stallions being used to an increased extent. The prospect for 1934, says the Agricultural Situation bulletin, is considered to be even more favourable. An 81 year old Norfolk woman, Mrs. Margaret Torrey, arrived at Oroyden after an 18,000 mile air tour of Africa. She said it was her idea of a holiday to visit interesting points along the African air route.

Barbaric Dances Welcomed Prince

(By The Canadian Press)
MARTINBURG, South Africa, April 20.—Dances barbaric in vigor, form and fury but intended to express the joy and respect of the Zulu people for the royal visitor were set before Prince George here during his visit in the course of his tour of the Union. It was phrased they were not "war dances."

More than 800 chiefs were present, with groups of their immediate lieutenants, tribesmen and families. Twelve of these chiefs, exercising authority over large areas were presented with walking sticks by Prince George, who was very pleased with the songs and dances. It was a thrilling moment when the regiments of natives, in all their elaborate and savage finery, leaped forward from their ordinary lines in the long grass and took possession of the mown ground immediately in front of the Prince. With their shields flung up high and brandishing their fighting sticks and battle axes, they reared the air with an ear-piercing yell. This was the beginning of the dances.

Beaded and decked in a hundred mother lalis, several of the chiefs who came forward to pay their respects to Prince George contrasted sharply with others dressed in the drab suits of the European. Their headgear, neckties and black feathers shook violently as they pranced back to their followers after saluting the Prince, who was dressed in naval uniform. Under a canvas-covered dais, the Prince and the members of his entourage, all in ceremonial uniforms were greatly impressed as they looked over the scene of seething black humanity.

"Bayel! hooi!" a song of royal greeting, sung by both men and women, was beautifully harmonized as chief after chief came forward to lay at the feet of Prince George gifts characteristic of the Zulu handicrafts.

HEARD DAUGHTER DEAD ORILLIA MOTHER FAINTS AS SHE WALKS IN DOOR

ORILLIA, April 20.—Mrs. Frank Miller of Toronto paid a visit today to her mother, Mrs. Peter Bahamere of this town, but Mrs. Bahamere fainted when her daughter walked into the house. Mrs. Bahamere, restored to consciousness, revealed she had received a telephone call last Wednesday from Toronto, in which Mrs. Miller was dead and had received no contradiction subsequently. The puzzle was solved by Mrs. Miller, who explained her small son, Clarence, had informed Mrs. Bahamere of the death had been confused and had mixed the names of Clarence and Grace, Mrs. Miller.

NEW DOMINION W. I.

The minutes of last meeting were read and adopted. Reports of various committees were given. The social committee were re-appointed. On motion it was decided to pay small bills at next meeting. Mrs. MacEwen invited the members to her home for the May meeting, roll call to be "Cleaning Hints." Lunch was served in the hostess' usual good style and a social hour enjoyed.

Pictures Told Of Wife No. 2

(By The Canadian Press)
CAPE TOWN, April 20.—Nineteen years after he had left her on Cape Town Station, Mrs. James Scott rediscovered her husband. She also made the discovery, through a friend and herself showing photographs of wedding groups that he had married another woman. The sequel was the appearance of James Scott, 48, before Magistrate C. H. Shaw, charged with bigamy. He pleaded not guilty, and in his evidence told how he had been informed that his wife had died in India from malaria and "I thanked God." Scott was found guilty and sentenced to six months hard labor. The magistrate described the prisoner's attitude as "debauched and callous."

WALLES DISCUSES HOME RULE STATE

(By The Canadian Press)
ABERYSTWYTH, Wales, April 20.—Home rule for Wales was discussed by the Executive Council of the Welsh Nationalist party. The meeting was attended by private delegates, and was held in private. It is understood a good deal of attention was given to the terms of a Constitution providing for Dominion status for Wales. This Constitution has been drawn up by the Legal Advisory Committee of the party and is styled "Draft articles of agreement between the Welsh and Westminster Parliaments."

Reports from the country executives were discussed and arrangements were completed for the holding of the party's summer school and annual conference at Llyan-dyssul in August. The subject of the six lectures to be delivered at the summer school will be "The meaning of the co-operative state," the establishment of which is said to be the aim of the party.

THREE SLIPPERS AT PROPAGANDISTS

POONA, India, April 18.—Pandemonium reigned at a religious meeting here when several women in the audience threw slippers at a propagandist, named Ananda Murti, who is reported to have succeeded in converting Christians and others to embrace another faith. No sooner had Murti begun his speech than a woman walked up to the dais and denounced the speaker saying that they were not prepared to hear him. She then took off her slippers and fung them at him, hitting him in the face. She was followed by several other women. One of the missiles thrown at him was a parcel of fat. The speaker was finally rushed off the platform by men in the audience. One man was injured.

The meeting closed by singing the National Anthem. Some refreshments were served by Mrs. P. A. O'Donnell and Miss Helen O'Donnell.

REACTION ON GOLD TAX

(By The Canadian Press)
Wild selling of gold mines shares at the opening of the Canadian stock markets yesterday was the public reaction to the budget's new 10 per cent tax on gold. After a hectic period of unloading under accumulated overnight orders during which leading shares were sent down from $3 to more than $6, trading steadied and a gradual recovery set in. It was not enough to overcome the day's losses and at the close most quotations were substantially below Wednesday's.

While discussion of the effects of the tax ranged back and forth representatives of mining leaders who rushed to Ottawa to protest the tax secured from the government the assurance the cabinet would consider "some modifications" so far as the smaller mines were concerned, at any rate. The mine leaders asserted the tax on gross production would mean the closing down of those mines which are working low-grade ores, operating on a small margin, and would throw perhaps 8,000 men out of work. The industrial boards were unperturbed by the violent upheaval in the golds, generally closing narrowly lower than Wednesday. The cut in the sugar tax to one cent a pound helped to bring about an improvement in food and soft drink shares in Toronto and Montreal. Adjustment of the beer and malt tax had no appreciable effect although distilleries weakened in Toronto.

What Every Widow Knows

By LUCILLE VAN SUREK
The tea room was locked when he reached it. He sat down on the little bench by the door, stroking Pard's head. Utterly miserable. "Molly he thought, 'nobody. I don't blame you. It's not your fault. I wouldn't have been good enough for you anyhow. Not half. But you're so little—and sweet—and I want you. All the time I've wanted you and didn't know enough to tell you—"
