Profitt welcomed the members from the Primary lodges. Grand Master French then gave a lengthy address reviewing the activities of the Order during the past year, especially in connection with assistance to war work, a great many of Orangemen had paid the supreme sacrifice during the year, a very large proportion of the younger membership of the Order were in the armed services. T. J. Inman, P.G.M., and H. T. Bureyne, P. G. Mar. each spoke briefly in their humorous manner. In responding to the address of welcome Lorne Seaman spoke for Calvin Lodge and Cyril MacFarlane for King Edward Lodge. During a social hour refreshments were served by the members of Coldwell lodge and the National Anthem brought an enjoyable evening to a close.—I.

—THE HORSE WAS TRESPASSING — A man charged with trespassing on railroad property was fined $20 and costs before Magistrate W. E. Darby, K.C., in Summerside on Saturday. It is not clear, however, who did the trespassing, the man or his horse. It seems, according to the evidence, that the incident occurred at Bloomfield station recently. While the waiting room was filled with people waiting for the train, the door opened and in walked a man leading a horse. This understandably caused considerable consternation among those present some of whom were women and there was quite a lot of crowding towards the corners of the room to keep away from the horse. After turning the horse around in the room the man led him out again and that is all there was to it except for the $20 fine.—S.

"HAIL THE CONQUERING HERO" PACKS LAUGH-A-MINUTE

—The shenanigans at the Capitol Theatre where Paramount's "Hail the Conquering Hero" opened last night brought back fond memories of "The Miracle of Morgan's Creek."

The story deals with a colossal fraud. Bracken, discharged from the Marines because of hay-fever, meets up with the toughest top-kick in the service, Demarest who's accompanied by five other marines home on furlough. Eddie's tale of woe spurs his newly-found "buddies" into action. They find he's ashamed to return home because of his poor service record—afraid his mother and friends will regard him as a failure.

Demarest immediately takes charge of the situation, outfits Bracken in a uniform laden with medals and forcibly deposits the groggy lad right in the center of town where a brass band, the mayor and big-wig citizens await his arrival. Waiting, too, is Ella Raines, the girl Eddie left behind now engaged to the mayor's son because the disappointed marine wrote her to forget him. Local citizens boom Bracken for mayor against Raymond Walburn whom the local gentry feel is fleecing the public.

Sure enough, the hoax is discovered by the opposition's astute campaign manager and the masquerade is ended. Eddie confesses to his followers, but they back him more strongly to provide a happy ending —Eddie gets the girl, too.

Says Strategic Bombers Have Completed Task

By ALLAN NICKLESON

LONDON, April 30 —(CP Cable) — Strategic bombers have completed their task in Europe, it was announced today in a statement telling of the tremendous contribution made by Allied bombers towards victory over Germany.

Now, the strategic bombers — which battered the enemy's war-making potential while tactical bombers carried out operations in close support of ground forces— are ready for transfer to the Pacific theatre as needed.

No clue was given of the part to be played by R. A. F. Bomber Command, including the Canadian Bomber Group, in the Pacific. There is no doubt, however, that Bomber Command will participate against Japan in any way it can.

The statement detailed these five main bomber achievements:

1. Acquisition and maintenance of air superiority.

2. Virtual cessation of oil and gasoline production in Germany after 12 months of bombing cut Germany's over-all oil production to 7 1-2 per cent of its capacity as of April, 1944, and gasoline production to 3 1-2 per cent.

3. Paralysis of the German army by the process of encircling it and cutting it to pieces by strafing.

4. Successful preparation of land operations such as the Rhine crossings.

5. Destruction of V-weapon launching sites and experimental factories.

Dachau Prison Captured; 32,000 Inmates Freed

DACHAU, Germany, April 30— (AP) —Dachau Prison, Germany's most dreaded extermination camp, has been captured and its surviving 32,000 tortured inmates freed by American troops who killed or captured its brutal garrison in a furious battle.

Dashing to the camp atop tanks, bulldozers, self-propelled guns — anything with wheels — the Americans hit the notorious prison northwest of Munich shortly after the lunch hour yesterday.

Dozens of German guards fell under withering blasts of rifle and carbine fire as the soldiers, catching glimpses of the horrors within the camp, raced through its barracks for a quick clean-up.

The troops were joined by trusty prisoners working outside the barbed wire enclosures. Frenchmen and Russians, grabbing up weapons dropped by the slain S.S. guards, acted swiftly on their own to exact full revenge from their tormentors.

Sorting of the liberated prisoners was still under way today but the Americans learned from camp officials that some of the more important captives had been transferred recently to a new hide-out, probably in the Tyrol. These were said to have included Marshal Stalin's son, Jacob, who was captured in 1941; Kurt Schuschnigg, former Austrian Chancellor, and his wife; Prince Frederick Leopold of Prussia; Prince Xavier Bourbon de Parme and Pastor Martin Niemoller, the German Lutheran who was arrested when he defied Nazi attempts to control his preaching.

The C.C.F. have a nominee in every constituency while the Liberals have yet to nominate in Souris and Springfield and the Progressive Conservatives in Lisgar, St. Boniface and Winnipeg South Centre.

Flying Cargo Boats For Fish

BOSTON, April 30 — (CP) — Flying cargo boats which will pick up fish at the fishing grounds and fly it to inland markets is a proposal that will be enacted in the not too distant future, Ralph H. Osborne, director of the Massachusetts division of marine fisheries, said today. This would allow the big trawlers to remain at sea for a longer period of time.

The first step in the use of aircraft carying fresh fish to inland areas will take place here tomorrow when fresh sea foods will be placed aboard a Trans-Western Airlines plane leaving Boston for the west coast by way of Albany, Pittsburgh, Chicago, and Kansas City.

The first day's schedule of flights on the new air route will carry token cargoes of fish.

In the post-war era it is expected that big cargo stratoliners will insure a supply of fresh fish for the entire midwestern area of the United States. Mr. Osborn said the use of aviation to carry fish direct from fishing grounds to inland markets is a natural outgrowth of this initial use of planes.

Mr. Osborn looks for a substantial increase in the Massachusetts fish industry through use of air express.

"Last year there was landed at our ports more than 500,000,000 lbs. of sea foods for which the producer received over $30,000,000," Mr. Osborn declared. This was done with a reduced fleet of boats, due to the number taken over by the government. They are now returning and 'production is increasing so that Massachusetts may produce 700,000,000 pounds of sea food this year.

"We are now facing the problem of marketing a 200,000,000-pound increase in production. Quick freezing and packaging, particularly of fillets, has already broadened our market to pretty much the entire country. The undeveloped field is the potential market for fresh fish existing in the mid-west. Air borne fish is the answer".

Liberals Return To Quebec House

QUEBEC, April 30 — (CP) — The 37-man Liberal opposition under Adelard Godbout returned to their seats in the Quebec Legislative Assembly when sittings were resumed today, following a walk-out Friday over a ruling of Speaker Tache.

Members immediately sat in committee to study resolutions relating to the six per cent luxury tax.

The members walked out Friday when Speaker Tache "named" a Liberal for repeated interruptions which were judged unparliamentary by the Speaker.

Brief mention of the walkout was made by Premier Duplessis, who said the Liberals acted "like school boys" and by Mr. Godbout, who said the walkout was "our sole means of protest against the Premier's dictatorial attitude." Then debate on the luxury tax was resumed, with Liberals opposing it and Union Nationale members defending it.

"We cannot tax corporations, banks, incomes and companies, because these fields belong to the Federal Government in wartime," said Premier Duplessis. We have but restricted means to find the money. We must use them."

Mr. Godbout said large chain stores in Canada usually had their head offices outside the Province and the new tax would "kill" their branches in Quebec, leaving hundreds unemployed.

Ever Watch a Sap Pail Fill?

● It takes a long time for a sap pail to fill . . . and a lot of pails of sap to make a gallon of syrup. The term "sap's runnin' " is deceptive. Sap does not run...it comes a drop at a time...and lots of time between drops.

But a lot of drops of sap from a lot of trees make a good crop of syrup.

Famous Mosquito Plane Arrives In Montreal

MONTREAL, April 30 — (CP) — With 213 midget bombs painted neatly on her nose, the famous combat Mosquito F for Freddie arrived in Montreal today, after adding a westward trans-Atlantic flight to the operational record she piled up in two years of service as a pathfinder bomber over Europe.

The sleek plywood product of British Columbia forests put down at Dorval Airport on schedule after a 13-hour Atlantic crossing during which she was throttled back as far as possible so that no mechanical trouble would interfere with her projected coast to coast tour of Canada on behalf of the eighth victory loan.

Even "under wraps" however, she averaged better than 250 miles an hour against Atlantic headwinds. She made brief stops at Iceland and Greenland, then flew 2,000 miles non-stop from Greenland into Montreal. Her total trip was 3,250 miles.

Although Canadian built Mosquitos have been flying regularly east-bound across the Atlantic, F for Freddie is one of the few planes of her class that have made the more difficult westbound flight. From here she will go to the Maritimes and thence westward across Canada.

Her R.A.F.T.C. crew was made up of Flt. Lt. Maurice Briggs, D.S.O., D.F.C., D.F.M. of Silverdale, Eng., and F/O. John Baker, D.F.C. and Bar. Flt. Lt. Briggs flew her at an average altitude of 15,500 feet, making oxygen masks necessary all the way.

F for Freddie, known officially as LR503, is the pride of the R.A.F. Bomber Command with her amazing record of coming unscathed through 213 operational flights through the intense ground fire which usually greets pathfinder bombers. Probably no other plane in the world has had such quantities of explosives and tracers fired at her without result.

Germans Forced To Bury Victims

BY EDWARD D. BALL

IN GERMANY, April 29 — (AP) — The bodies of 161 Polish Jews who were murdered by S.S. troopers were moved from roadside mudholes today and buried by the Germans in the town of Nuenberg. The burial was carried out at the direction of American army officers.

All of the victims, who had faltered on the march from Flossenberg and Buchenwald concentration camps, had been shot through the head or clubbed to death by S.S. guards.

The bodies which had lain in shallow holes for five days were placed in pine coffins built by the villagers—four bodies to the coffin—and given a mass burial in three huge graves.

C. P. R. Sparks Loan Campaign By Big Purchase

OTTAWA, April 30 — (CP) — Purchase by the Canadian Pacific Railway Company of $17,500,000 in Eighth Victory Loan bonds sparked the opening of the second week of the current campaign for $1,350,000,000, National Loan Headquarters said tonight.

The C. P. R. purchase included $3,500,000 for the employees' pension fund. Toronto head office of the Imperial Life Assurance Company announced purchase of $5,000,000 in bonds.

Pending compilation of today's purchases across the country, latest national total, as of Saturday, stood at $432,008,000 against $428,834,250 for the first six days of the Seventh Loan last fall. Saturday's sales totalled $75,980,750, compared to $69,470,950 for the corresponding day in the previous campaign.

Looking back at the opening week of the three-week campaign, individual sales were $221,100,650 compared to $197,667,600 for the same period in the Seventh Loan. Objective of individual sales in this loan is $675,000,000—half of the national minimum target of $1,350,000,000.
