

Red Cross Swimming At P. C. Guide Camp

A very successful Red Cross swimming program was carried out at the Prince County Girl Guide Camp at Fernwood.

Miss Jessie Fullerton, Provincial Camp Adviser, Mrs. C. H. Bess, Deputy Provincial Commissioner and Miss Mary MacNeil, a former Guide Commissioner, visited the camp during the swimming tests and expressed their hearty approval of this part of the Camp routine.

Miss Fullerton, as head of Camping for the province, commended the Commanding Officer, Captain McQuaid, and her staff on the generally good conditions and happy atmosphere of Fernwood and pointed out to the Guides their good fortune in being privileged to camp amidst such natural beauty.

Mrs. Harry Gudmors, Director of Red Cross Swimming and Water Safety, tested the Junior, Intermediate and Senior Classes. The results were most satisfactory and it was very apparent that the girls were well versed in the fundamentals of swimming and water safety.

The following awards were announced by Mrs. Gudmors and presented by Miss Fullerton: Junior: Grace Gallant, Marie Smith, Shirley Watson, Marie Penfold, Ruth Webster, Donna Deane, Blanche Betty MacDonnell, Wilma Gillis, Eleanor Gallant, Nan Pope, Patricia Watson, Betty King, Mary Morrison, Betty Trevellick, Leona Pineau, Lucille McQuaid.

Intermediate: Joyce MacKay, Joyce MacDonnell, Dorothy Jean Dewar, Buella Gaudet, Shirley Penfold, Betty Peters, Betty Penfold, Joan MacPhee.

Senior: Elaine Harrison, Mary Fenwick, Joan Marie Arsenault, Guy Schurman, Reg. Thompson, Joan Watson.

500 CATTLE

But while there is no doubt that the thousands of others will have divided interests, many of those who will be visiting the barns and the pens, are here to witness the races of horses, cattle, sheep, swine, and poultry that the Province has to offer.

The boys and girls too, more interested, perhaps, in lighter forms of amusement, will be able to indulge their delight in Ferris wheels, aeroplane rides, merry-go-rounds, and in the multifarious attractions of the Luncheon Circus. Booths of all kinds were being set up yesterday and so that no matter what form the human curiosity may take, it will be satisfied today in one or other of the many tents which are scattered throughout the grounds.

U. S. PROHIBITS COAL

Boikotters Forecast

MONCTON, N.B., Aug. 11 — (CP) Possibility of serious transportation bottlenecks in the movement of Maritime coal was foreseen here tonight as the result of an embargo by the United States Office of Defense Transportation on coal shipments to Canada via Canadian National Railways.

The C.N.T.'s action resulted from a critical shortage of coal cars in the United States and is designed to speed the return to the U.S. of coal cars now in Canada.

One transportation authority explained that Canadian railroads have not sufficient cars to haul all Canadian coal, especially that mined in the Maritime Provinces, and United States railway cars which have found their way into the Maritimes have been used to haul Maritime coal on the return trip.

O.D.T.'s embargo on coal shipments over the C.N.R. coupled with the necessity of returning as soon as possible all American cars in Canada, would mean that these cars would return empty and would be of no assistance in solving the coal transportation problem in the Maritimes.

Before the war a large part of the coal transportation problem was solved by coal-carrying boats which plied between Cape Breton ports and Quebec. Heavy shipping losses and diversion of ships to other duties wiped the large part of the coal transportation burden on the railways during the war and the transition period.

Brighton Beach Red Cross Swimming Classes Concluded

On Friday, August 8th, the Red Cross Swimming Classes at Brighton Beach were terminated for the summer. By two o'clock many enthusiastic children had congregated at the Grandview Grounds and tests continued during most of the afternoon. Although the day was ideally warm the strong wind caused heavy waves and many members of the Junior Class were disappointed when they found it impossible to swim the Elementary Back Stroke for the required 45 feet. However, the successful candidates felt a real sense of achievement when they realized that they had been able to accomplish this feat in heavy waters.

Amateur Talent

If the community had an auditorium, said Mr. Harris, talent could be developed among amateur players. It is also quite possible that during the summer such training given to teachers would be in turn carried to the children in the rural schools, and they would be enabled to put on their own plays, many of which would be of the purpose. They would also be taught to build and paint their own scenery, dress up, put on make-up, wig and hair, and learn to walk and talk, how to behave as a king and queen. Invite the parents to see them. Can you fancy what interest it would awaken?

After the swimming tests, we had our first screen tests. A gentleman from the National Film Board (the name escapes me), arrived to film a few scenes starting the whole shebang. We had a hike organized, so he took some shots as we trekked along. Look for some of these scenes when Academy awards are given out. If you should see the film, your writer is the fellow between whom and the camera "Ted" Moon" Mullins always.

In the afternoon we kind of relaxed. We went at the old routine less gusto, since the pressure of impending swimming tests had been removed. Friday night we had our farewell camp fire, and would have had a camp song, but the rain was too much for us.

After that everyone went to bed. That is, all the younger set went to bed. The rest of us—were invited to a party at Tom Doyle's, and a very enjoyable time was had by all. Thank you Tom, Mrs. Tom, and the Doyle girls, for being so thoughtful. After the party the leaders went for a midnight swim, a la Old Swimming Hole, and was it ever! (Aw, shucks).

Saturday, the rains came, and that with figuratively and in truth. Camp broke up, everybody went home. The good-byes were rather sad.

Well, folks, that's it for this year. Now comes the time to toss out a few thoughts. You people who have made this camp possible realize the great work you have done. You could not possibly appreciate it without spending the time to see the camp. We were fortunate enough to have seen there can assure you that the effect on the boys was almost every instance quite appreciable. 158 out of 160 campers were either from the City or the Towns of Summerside and Souris, and these have little or no opportunity to see the beauty and luxury of the country. Your generosity and thoughtfulness has made possible for them the privilege of seeing the beauty of the land all year round. Our thanks, a thousand of them.

For you who have only heard of the camp through your neighbors or (we hope), through this column, we have this to say: This camp has been 100% successful. The one thing wrong was that we had only 160 campers, whereas we would have liked 1600. We would like to see camps such as this in each county, and each operating for at least four ten-day periods so that possibly all our Island boys might attend. You would feel the same had you ever visited our camp. But we cannot as yet afford a camp in each county, though next year we may be enabled to operate the North Rustico camp on a much larger scale. Want to know how? Well, the K. of C. Island division, is sponsoring a lottery for the 1947 Mercury Deluxe. The drawing to take place early in September, at the Covehead races, $200 a book. Maybe you'll win. Maybe you won't. But if you do not, be consoled with the thought that your two dollars may send some boy of meagre means to camp next summer. Please loosen out. Don't buy a ticket—buy a book. Do your share to help make good citizens out of our youth.

Now, before we forget, our thanks go out to all those who donated treats for the boys at camp. They helped make camp more enjoyable; our thanks to the Guardian for carrying this column. We are glad we could bring these messages from the camp. Adieu readers—good-bye, kids.

Makes Strong Plea For Dramatic Training Before Rotary Club

Mr. Elmer Harris, actor, writer, and producer, who has been coming to his summer residence at Portune, Prince Edward Island, for many years, and who has had considerable success in both the Hollywood and New York, told Rotarians at their luncheon yesterday that the development of community theatres in Prince Edward Island would be of great benefit, educationally, culturally, morally, and economically.

"It is regrettable that you have not more here where plays are put on their way to or from New York might be seen," said Mr. Harris. "Despite the fact that the majority of people never see a stage play, there is a growing interest in the spoken drama, and a desire to participate in it. People like to act. We all have a lot of the monkey in us. Children like to put on their father's stovepipe hat or their mother's long dress, and pretend they're grown up. They like to imitate and it's well they do for imitation is the basis of our education. As a mother bird will teach a fledgling to fly, its way a child learns to walk, to talk, to behave in general. Child psychologists understand this, and in many schools, pupils from six years on with their teachers are producing plays. There's no better method of teaching young folk how to conduct themselves."

Mr. Harris suggested that Prince of Wales College might lay emphasis on dramatic training, and that a professional stage director might be brought here and made part of the faculty. A man who would not only lead the way in theory and history of the drama, but teach acting and assist students in all branches of stage production. He would enable the students to present plays, classic and modern, and the college would as it should, be a place of learning. The benefit would be widespread.

Funeral Services At Ottawa For Fisheries Minister

Doings At The K. of C. Boys' Camp

This issue will be slightly different. The atmosphere has changed. Camp has broken up for the season. The boys have gone home, the leaders have gone home. I have gone home. Instead of sixty-four sleeping boys, I have half-a-dozen fighting brothers and sisters around me. So if you should read these notes particularly vehement in spots, chalk it up to environment.

We had predicted nothing out of the ordinary for last Thursday. But wait! While we were down at the Cove swimming in the afternoon, we were out to buy a fishing boat? Who was on the boat but Bert Blaquere? What did he do but challenge us to a game of soccer? A game of the evening! We played, and to make a long story short, we conquered. Score: 14 to 10 (and they played grand old man if you sofaball, Tommy Johnson, too). Line up: Catcher, F. O'Keefe; pitcher, "Mel" McPhee; first, a guy named Grady; second, "Sport" MacDonnell; third, Billie Grady; short, "Ted" Grady; left field, Father "Stu" Butler; center, Phil Murphy; right field, Ken MacDonnell. Father "Ted" home run was the "thing" of the game.

On Thursday night Corporal King of the R.C.M.P. returned and showed some interesting films. Following the films, a treat of chocolate bars and a treat of oranges.

Friday morning we had our swimming tests. Unfortunately I forgot to copy a list of the successful candidates before I left, but the list has appeared in The Guardian.

After the swimming tests, we had our first screen tests. A gentleman from the National Film Board (the name escapes me), arrived to film a few scenes starting the whole shebang. Major Forest Fire Near Antigonish

ANTIGONISH, N. S., Aug. 11 — A major forest fire broke out tonight near this university town and, fanned by high winds, was sweeping large areas of dense timber. The fire was being battled to control the blaze. It was the third large conflagration in this area.

It was reported that no buildings were endangered and that the fire probably would be passed the communities of Cape George and Lakeview.

A recurrent blaze nearby continued to take a heavy toll of timber as it leapt into new life and raged through the woods. St. Augustine's Ministry was threatened earlier today but a timely shift of wind diverted the blaze.

Legion Wins Semi-finals Opener At Summerside Defeating Kinsmen 7-1

The Legionaires won the first game of the semi-final series from the Kinsmen last night in Summerside defeating Charlie Hogan's Juniors by the score of 7 to 1. Gerard Bernard continued his remarkable pitching, giving up only one hit, a fly by MacKay, the second man up in the first inning, that should have been taken care of if Williams, the left fielder, also pitched well, being found for only five safe bingles but seven miscues in the field helped to give the vets their big margin on by racing to second base. It was Summerside All-Stars at Summerside. The account said that Brawley made a pretty shoe-string catch and completed a double play by racing to second base. It was Les Gaudet who made this play and we apologize for the error. We were not present during the first three innings and the report we received was slightly garbled which led to the mistake.

Congratulations to Don Carson, the R.C.A.B. infielder, who won the batting championship of the Summerside Baseball League and the Grant Trophy which goes with leadership in that department. The big fellow, who doesn't take his baseball too seriously, is a general favorite with the fans.

Neither the Charlottetown Athletics nor the Summerside All-Stars seem to be able to play their best baseball before a home crowd and those who wish to see their favorites will have to travel with their teams to the other fellow's ball park. The two squads have played four games now and not one of them belonged to the club, hard-fought variety that the fans love to watch. 10 to 3, 18 to 5, 12 to 8 and 6 to 1 have been the scores. In the last of the four games, the team was more or less out-classed in each. Here's hoping that the nip-and-tuck knock 'em down and drag 'em out type of battle will be the order of the day when the two teams get into the play-offs. May the better team win, but may the worse team win so all-fired hot that they will be breathing down the neck of the necks of the winners until the last man is out in the ninth. We'd make the eleven, but we don't have the daylight in this standard time area for such a drawn-out contest.

Sport Echoes from Prince County

We'd like to take the opportunity right here to correct an error that appeared in the account of the last ball game between the Charlottetown Athletics and Summerside All-Stars at Summerside. The account said that Brawley made a pretty shoe-string catch and completed a double play by racing to second base. It was Les Gaudet who made this play and we apologize for the error.
