

AN IDEA

of the large assortment, style, quality and price of our solid Gold Gem Rings, Keeper Rings, Plain Rings and Child's Rings can only be had by inspecting our stock.

G. H. TAYLOR,
Sunnyside

EDGEHILL, Church School for Girls,
Windsor, Nova Scotia.

The Bishop of Nova Scotia, Chairman Board of Trustees,
Miss Lefroy, of Cheltenham Ladies' College, England, Principal, with Nine Resident Experienced Governesses,
Housekeeper, Maatou, a trained Nurse,
Preparation for the Universities.
Michaelmas Terms begin Sept. 13th 1899.
For Calendar and Blank Form of Application for admission, apply to DR. HIND,
Secretary,
Aug. 2 Tu. Th. Sa. 6v.

AUCTION FURNITURE.

I am instructed by Mr. N. A. Currie to sell by auction at his residence Kent Street, (opposite West Kent School) on Wednesday, the 2nd day of August commencing at 11 o'clock a. m.

All his household effects comprising, Parlor, Diningroom, Hall, Bedroom and Kitchen Furniture,
The above all good as new. Terms cash.

R. BEARISTO,
Auctioneer

CANADIAN PACIFIC RY.

WORLD'S BICYCLE MEET MONTREAL
Aug 7th to 12th, 1899.
ONE FARE PLUS 10 CENTS, FOR ROUND TRIP.

On Sale August 4th to 7th, and good for return until Aug. 14th 1899.

The Popular Route is via St. John, N. B. and CANADIAN PACIFIC.

The only Express Train from Maritime Provinces reaching Montreal in the morning. Arriving daily, except Monday, at 3:45 a. m. To secure berth in one of the Luxurious Palace Sleepers of the C. P. R. or for particulars of extension of above limit to attend L. A. W. at Boston, passage rates, time table, write at once to

A. J. HEATH
D. P. A., C. P. R.
St. John, N. B.

PURE GOLD YEAST

KEEPS WELL and NEVER FAILS.

Handled by Carvell Bros.
J. T. Pearden, and
J. A. Farquharson & Co.

TRIP TO BOSTON

On Board S.S. La Grande Duchesse.

A FLOATING PALACE

A Passenger in Search of Health Takes the Plant Line.

Saloon of La Grande Duchesse, July 25.

I had not felt as bright as usual. There was not very much the matter but no doubt my general tone as the doctors term it, had been depressed to a greater degree than I was conscious of. I emptied many bottles of tonic, but to no purpose, but very little aid was received. My spirits continued to lower, and the feeling of poorness increased. At last I found it necessary to call on my doctor to seek his advice.

"Your little excursions," said he, "are of no use. I think you want to take an ocean voyage. By doing so you will breathe winds which blow from all quarters of the globe, you are carried into a truly new sphere of life where every condition of shore wears a new face."

I considered the matter, and presently thought perhaps he was right. After consulting with myself for some days I thought of the Plant Line to Boston. I was told that a ship without its peer in eastern waters, filled with every modern appliance known to the art of ship building was concentrated in the La Grande Duchesse.

It did not take me long to make up my mind as to what course to pursue. I called on Mr. W. W. Clark, the Agent for Prince Edward Island, at his office on the corner of Water and Queen Streets, secured a pleasant state room and went home to prepare for the trip. After a few hours application to my wardrobe all was ready and with a small piece of baggage in hand I wended my way to the Plant Line Wharf.

I knew nothing whatever about the sea, and to me, save in the matter of size, paint, etc., one ship seemed uncommonly like another.

I noticed, however, that La Grande Duchesse was a magnificent ship, superior to anything that I had ever seen, and I could not help remarking my observation to Mr. Clarke. In a few minutes I was aboard. After getting a key for No. 35, my stateroom, I went out to see the ship in which I would spend the next few days. The first thing that struck me was her size. She is far from being a small craft, her length covering 404 feet, her breadth 47.9 feet, and her depth 47.4 feet. Upon enquiry I learned that she has a tonnage of 5,000, and indicated horse power of 7,000, with a capacity for the accommodation of 700 passengers.

I took notice that La Grande Duchesse, was new and clean; her fittings with a hint of dandification in a certain elaborate elegance of finish. It was not long before I made the acquaintance of one of the officers who, kindly showed me through the ship and I found it the most pleasant hour of the trip. The immense proportions of the ship, particularly the great depth of draft, enhances very materially her sea worthiness, and it is generally conceded that it will require greater seas than any ever experienced in a summer trip to the Provinces to cause her to pitch and roll like an ordinary craft. A casual glance would convince the most critical of her great strength and superiority. While power and everything that goes to make a ship staunch has evidently been the first consideration, her interior furnishings and fittings have been provided apparently without regard to expense. Her staterooms are of extraordinary size, with plenty of light and air. Her main saloon, dining saloon and social halls are all commodious and furnished in excellent taste. This is particularly true of the ladies' observation saloon or social hall amidships on the promenade deck. This is reached by a grand stairway from the main saloon, which continues up to the pilot house deck, and is surmounted by a dome of opal cathedral glass. There are also in this saloon four richly embossed panels representing the four seasons. Immediately forward of the machinery bulkheads is the music room entered from the promenade deck, with a staircase leading to the dining saloon and still further forward is a saloon for cabin or second-class passengers, and on the deck above a smoking room, both finished in quartered oak. The arrangements in connection with the dining saloon seem to be perfect. The galley and pantry are located aft of the dining saloon, and the pantry is reached by large double doors on either side of the ship, one of each leading into the dining saloon and the other admitting to the dining saloon. This arrangement enables a large number of passengers to be served promptly, and avoids confusion among waiters, which is so common in many cases. Ample provision is made for both men and women cabin passengers in a saloon on the main deck forward of the dining room, and leading from this saloon are separate apartments in which are located berths. These quarters are reached by two stairways from the cabin passengers' social hall on the promenade deck, also another stairway leading from the deck farther forward. Probably the most notable among her lavish appointments is the telephone exchange. In each room is a telephone connected with "Central," enabling a person to call up the steward, the purser, or even the captain, as well as talk with a friend in some other room.

When we returned to the deck we found that the lines had been cast off the dock and that we were preparing to sail. Only a moment or two had elapsed when I realized that I was fairly under way at last, and it was with a heart full of mingled emotions that I stood on the deck surveying the shores of the harbor sliding softly past on either quarter into those delicate films and blobs which will make one start at times as though they were looking at the receding land through tears.

It was fine weather and pleasant sailing until about an hour before we reached Hawkesbury when we were enveloped in a fog. We arrived in Hawkesbury as the shades of evening were falling. I will mail this when we go ashore.

HOMO.

terior furnishings and fittings have been provided apparently without regard to expense. Her staterooms are of extraordinary size, with plenty of light and air. Her main saloon, dining saloon and social halls are all commodious and furnished in excellent taste. This is particularly true of the ladies' observation saloon or social hall amidships on the promenade deck. This is reached by a grand stairway from the main saloon, which continues up to the pilot house deck, and is surmounted by a dome of opal cathedral glass. There are also in this saloon four richly embossed panels representing the four seasons. Immediately forward of the machinery bulkheads is the music room entered from the promenade deck, with a staircase leading to the dining saloon and still further forward is a saloon for cabin or second-class passengers, and on the deck above a smoking room, both finished in quartered oak. The arrangements in connection with the dining saloon seem to be perfect. The galley and pantry are located aft of the dining saloon, and the pantry is reached by large double doors on either side of the ship, one of each leading into the dining saloon and the other admitting to the dining saloon. This arrangement enables a large number of passengers to be served promptly, and avoids confusion among waiters, which is so common in many cases. Ample provision is made for both men and women cabin passengers in a saloon on the main deck forward of the dining room, and leading from this saloon are separate apartments in which are located berths. These quarters are reached by two stairways from the cabin passengers' social hall on the promenade deck, also another stairway leading from the deck farther forward. Probably the most notable among her lavish appointments is the telephone exchange. In each room is a telephone connected with "Central," enabling a person to call up the steward, the purser, or even the captain, as well as talk with a friend in some other room.

When we returned to the deck we found that the lines had been cast off the dock and that we were preparing to sail. Only a moment or two had elapsed when I realized that I was fairly under way at last, and it was with a heart full of mingled emotions that I stood on the deck surveying the shores of the harbor sliding softly past on either quarter into those delicate films and blobs which will make one start at times as though they were looking at the receding land through tears.

It was fine weather and pleasant sailing until about an hour before we reached Hawkesbury when we were enveloped in a fog. We arrived in Hawkesbury as the shades of evening were falling. I will mail this when we go ashore.

At the present time there are 65 dwelling houses and offices using the Sewerage System, and a number of applications are in waiting for the connections being made. The increased water consumption is not noticeable. The usual quantity—about 50,000 gallons—is not being used regularly this season by the watering cart owing to the frequent rains. The daily consumption of water in Charlottetown is about 400,000 gallons.

CANCER And Tumors cured to stay cured, at home; no knife, plaster or pain. For Canadian testimonials & 150-page book—free, write Dept. 28, Massey-Macdonald Co., 577 Sherbourne Street, Toronto Ontario.

There is no rival but the Eastman Kodak.

No. 2 Falcon Kodak

For 3 1/2 x 3 1/2 Pictures, Uses Eastman's light-proof film cartridges and can be loaded in daylight.

Fine achromatic lens, safety shutter, set of three stops and socket for tripod screw. Well made and covered with leather. No extras, no bothersome plate holders, no heavy glass plates.

Kodaks $5.00 to $35.00. EASTMAN KODAK CO. Rochester, N. Y.

For sale by JOHNSON & JOHNSON, Charlottetown, July 11—d30i

"MY STORE" * "MY STORE" * "MY STORE"

FIRST SALE

ANNIVERSARY JULY 1899.

$10,000 WORTH TO BE SOLD THIS MONTH.

Discounts from 10 to 50%

SALE ENDS JULY 31st.

DOORS OPEN AT 7.30 A.M.

All goods sold for cash or wool taken in exchange. Having just completed our first year in business, we thank our many customers for the liberal patronage extended to us, and take this opportunity of celebrating our first anniversary by giving you some rare bargains this month.

SENTNER McLEOD & Co.

Pleasant View Hotel

WHAMPTON P. E. ISLAND.

The place to go for the holidays. If you have not arranged where to spend your holiday, write to the Proprietor,

MATTHEW SMITH, Hampton.

Good table. Comfortable rooms. Enjoyable surroundings. Rates $5.00 per week; for family parties $3.00 each per week.

BARGAINS! BARGAINS!

You will always get Bargains at W. P. Colwill's in

CROCKERY

You always get what you want and it always is the best value. We are offering special discounts in toilet sets this week, it will pay you to drop in and see our new printed bed room sets which are very cheap. To anyone who is thinking about house keeping this is the place to get fitted out in every line in Crockery, China or Glass ware either for Kitchen, Dining Room or Bed Room, everything from an egg cup up. We have some very beautifully decorated jet black tea pots. These goods are excellent value, it will pay you to drop in and see them. No trouble to show goods, Come on, come all, and if you what you want ask for it.

W. P. COLWILL, The Crockery Ware Man.

Wholesale and Retail.

No

Woman need deny herself the luxury of a good corset if she has heard about our

P. C. '99 Model

Any figure can be suited because the corsets come in models adaptable to all forms. Ask any dry goods dealer in Charlottetown to show them to you.

Hughes SPECIAL REMEDIES

HUGHES' COUGH MIXTURE For Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, and all Pulmonary affections. Price 25 cents.

HUGHES' CREOSOTE MIXTURE An elegant preparation for chronic Bronchitis and Lung Disease. Price 25 cents.

DODD'S RHEUMATISM CURE A positive cure for Rheumatism. A trial will convince you. Price 50c.

Special Remedies prepared for DYSPEPSIA, INDIGESTION, CONSTIPATION etc., etc., For the Best English Drugs and Medicines

PATRONIZE HUGHES THE PEOPLES DRUGGIST.

At the Apothecaries Hall, Sunnyside

ARTHUR MELLISH, Barrister and Attorney-at-Law.

SOURIS, P. E. I. Telephone. Money to Loan. June 24/99

Spring Trade

The time has come, when you should look up your wardrobe and see how you are fixed for spring war. In the event of you deciding to invest in a suit or overcoat, etc., act promptly by ordering the same from

J. T. MCKENZIE, THE Tailor