Held In Check For Two Periods Saints Earn Margin In Third

A torrid third period attack that netted Jackie Kane's S. D. U. squad four goals, last night paved the way for an 8-2 victory for the University team over "Windy" Steele's Summerside All-Stars in a City Hockey League encounter at the Forum.

But for two periods, during which the winners managed to pile up a 4-2 lead, the Summerside team held the University team in check. Before the nine minute mark of the first session had been reached Steele, playing coach of the visitors, shot his team into the lead on a snap drive from twenty feet out. Just 29 seconds later Saints tied it up with Cart McDonald scoring his first of three goals on a pass from Mc Isaac; and before the period had ended the winners had raced into a 3-1 lead on goals from the sticks of Ledwell and Mahar.

The two squads, battling it out on even terms all during the middle canto, split two goals evenly. The visitors got back into the running at 1:34 of the session when Trainor dented the twines behind McKinnon on a passing play with Gallant. The counter made the score read 3-2 and for nearly fourteen minutes the score remained unchanged until Joe Mahar, S. D. U. speedster broke through on a pass from Mike Hennessey to again increase the winner's margin to two goals.

It was all Saint Dunstan's throughout the third and final period. Less than two minutes after the start of the session Rodgers, dark-thatched winger of the Saints combined with Trainor and Houde to make it 5-2. Less than two minutes later Mahar shot his second goal of the game on a play with McDonald and Hennessey and to complete the scoring Cart McDonald netted the final two goals of the game, getting the first one of the period on passes from Mahar and McAdam and the second on a pass from Mike Hennessey.

That in brief was the scoring summary of the game but in between, especially in the first two periods, the Summerside team, cheered on by a large crowd that came by special train from Summerside, checked the Saint Dunstan's team to a standstill. Backed up by the stallar goal tending of Schurman, the Summerside team remained well in the game but the power contained in the ranks of the Saints finally paid off in the final period; and despite the hard-working efforts of the visitors they, in the final analysis could not cope with the fast breaking attacks of the Kane-coached squad.

Habs Defeat Maple Leafs 8-4

MONTREAL, Jan. 15 —(CP)—In a free-scoring, wide open game that brought a wild first period of fighting and never produced a let-up in action, Montreal Canadiens defeated Toronto Maple Leafs 8-4 tonight and moved to within one point of the fourth place Boston Bruins in the National Hockey League.

DOUBLE-DUTY WEED

Tobacco was once used by Indians in America as a medicine and as incense in religious ceremonies.

Juvenile Welshmen and Kinsmen staged quite a battle at the Forum Wednesday night in the Juvenile League opener and, the draw verdict was a fair indication of the play throughout the game for at no time could either squad show to any distinct advantage over the other.

✤ ✤ ✤ ✤

Reece, the other entrant, is said to be equally as strong as the two that have already been seen in action and indications point to one of the closest and hardest fought juvenile leagues in recent seasons. And by hard-fought we mean just that, for the youngsters really take their hockey seriously and anything they may lack in fitness they certainly make up for in the all-out efforts they put forth.

✤ ✤ ✤ ✤

Again, and it is not surprising to a great many, the game failed to draw the attendance it deserved. The weather of course may have played a minor part Wednesday night; at least that is what sponsors of the league would like to think and the same officials still have unbounded enthusiasm that the games will draw much larger crowds before the season is very far advanced. The band of hockey the youngsters dish out is certainly worth it and on top of that if the fans displayed more interest the players would come through with even better performances than they have.

✤ ✤ ✤ ✤

Kensington Juveniles, according to the results of two games played against the Summerside Kinsmen, seem to pose a new threat this year for honors in the division. For the past couple of seasons Summerside has held a decided edge over their County rivals but Kensington has stuck to their program no matter what setbacks they received; and, if one is to judge by the results of the two exhibition games, there is a distinct possibility that Kensington, which always has a good hockey program year after year, may come through this year with a title that has been denied them in the past. And there are any number of fans who would like to see this occur.

✤ ✤ ✤ ✤

Walter Goss' Prince of Wales basketball team proved conclusively Wednesday night that their showing against Ray's Millionaires the previous Saturday, a game which saw victory snatched from them in the last few seconds of play, was no mere flash in the pan. They were deserving of their victory over the strong Saints squad, playing smart basketball all the way, and the forwards, backed up by spectacular guard work of LeClair and Sterns, gave a display of marksmanship that was outstanding, to say the least.

✤ ✤ ✤ ✤

The game was easily the fastest and cleanest played all season. The boys, with the exception of minor fouls, stuck to straight basketball all the way, and as a result the fans saw a fast, wide open encounter. For over thirty minutes of the full playing time the lead see-sawed back and forth and it was only in the last eight or nine minutes that the winners were able to build up their victory margin.

✤ ✤ ✤ ✤

It has been remarkable the way the Prince of Wales team has come along. At the start of the season it was the intention to enter them in the junior league but after a few exhibition games with the intermediates, games in which they showed continual improvement, they decided to string along with the higher division. The move was a right one. Now, instead of Saints and Ray's being co-favorites for league honors, Prince of Wales has to be included in that bracket and if Navy can take a new lease on life, or rather take on some additional players, the league may produce an unexpected winner.

✤ ✤ ✤ ✤

The Navy—Millionaires clash, also on Wednesday, had to take second place to the first encounter. Both teams seemed content to play it slow with the Millionaires, more adept at this style of play, building up an early lead that Navy, despite a persistent second half offensive, could not overcome although they did manage to outscore their opponents during the 20-minute session.

✤ ✤ ✤ ✤

But by their performance in the second half, Navy saw a ray of hope that they will yet make the other entrants hustle in future games. So far this season they have shown a tendency to be caught up the floor with the result their opponents sunk some pretty soft baskets; but this can be remedied by the entire team tightening up on the defence and, with the still necessary addition of more players, the "tars" should come a long way before playoff time rolls around.

• • •

Picked at Random: Montreal Canadiens have a custom whereby a rookie, after scoring his first N.H.L. goal, buys cigars for all his teammates. When Tod Campeau, rookie centre, broke in with Canadiens at the start of the season, he thought he might as well be prepared for the occasion and bought himself a box of cigars.

• • •

After four games with Canadiens, Campeau was sent to Buffalo in the A.H.L. Canadiens recalled him recently and on December 28, over three months from the time he played his first game for the Habs, he scored his first N.H.L. goal.

• • •

When he attempted to pass out the cigars after performing his feat none of his teammates would accept them—remembering only too well how he had bought the cigars over three months ago!

• • •

"Frigid Frankie" Brimsek, Boston Bruins' great goal-keeper, is a very fussy guy when it comes to protecting his precious eyes from any undue glare, etc., and whenever a photographer takes a picture inside the Bruins dressing room, Brimsek makes certain he has a towel covering his eyes. If by chance the flash goes off before "Brimmy" is prepared, he gets quite peeved.

Freetown Royals Defeat Augustine Cove By 6 To 2

The second game of the South Shore League was played at Bedeque Rink on Wednesday night between Freetown Royals and Augustine Cove, Freetown winning with a score of 6-2.

It was a fast game of hockey on slow ice with both teams fighting for every goal.

The first period started off slow until players got familiar with their opponents' style of playing. L. Reeves of Freetown started the game rolling by getting the first goal of the game. A few minutes later P. Gardiner of the Freetown Royals scored, making the score 2-0 for Freetown at the end of the first period.

Augustine Cove started the second period with A. Gardiner getting their first goal and making a score of 2-1 for Freetown. Freetown coming back wit MacMurdo, Hill and Hogg to make the score 3-1. A. Waugh of Freetown was served a penalty in this period for tripping.

The third period was fast and rugged with both teams fighting hard. Augustine Cove make several breakaways only to be checked by A. Waugh, defence player for Freetown Royals. Hill, McEntee, Campbell and Stavert of Freetown displayed fine hockey by coming back three times in a row to make the score 6-1 for Freetown. F. McWilliams came back for Augustine Cove, getting the final goal and making a final score of 6-2 for Freetown Royals.

The three stars were A. McEntee, R. MacMurdo of Freetown and F. McWilliams of Augustine Cove.

Will Use Plane To Drop Feed To Birds

Island Pheasants Unlimited in a move to protect the wild game life of this Province will drop paper bags of feed from an airplane in the areas where bird life is known to concentrate.

For some time now the Charlottetown sportsmen have been worried as to the fate of game birds and have discussed plans as to how to tackle the problem.

Through the co-operation of Mr. Paul Sharpe, well known local aviator and proprietor of Paul's Flying School, it is hoped to take aloft feed in five and 10 lb bags and drop them in localities frequented by bird life.

Mr. F.A.S. Jones, President of Island Pheasants Unlimited, in commenting on the scheme said it was planned some days ago but was deemed advisable to await colder weather as the bags would disappear in the soft, slushy snow. It is expected the plan will be tried out Sunday.

Several donations of bags of oats have already been received by Pheasants Unlimited and it is anticipated other contributions will be forthcoming.

It is understood the plane will carry 500 lbs, and two local sportsmen will accompany the pilot on the flight to point out the districts where the birds are believed to be most plentiful.

It was announced last night that the bagging of feed would take place tonight at 7.30 in the Livestock Marketing Board premises, Fitzroy St., kindly loaned by Mr. J.A. Gillies for the purpose. Officials of Island Pheasants Unlimited would be grateful for any volunteer assistance from sportsmen.

Halifax Defeats Moncton 3-2

MONCTON, N. B., Jan. 15 —(CP)—Halifax Crescents moved back into a second-place tie with Moncton Hawks in the Maritime Senior Hockey League tonight by defeating Hawks 3-2 in a hard-fought, heavy-bumping type of game usually reserved for play-offs.

For Crescents it was their fifth win in as many games and they served notice they will be a potent factor to consider in this year's battle for the League championship, now held by Truro.

Despite the rugged play referees Cy Taylor and Wick James were lenient with their penalties and most of the roughness went unpunished.

The arbiters drew the ire of the fans near the end of the game when Pius Gaudet struck George Bell in the face with his stick. Gaudet had been holding Bell as the rangy forward sped goalward and Bell slashed at his tormentor. Gaudet replied with a sweeping blow of his stick that opened a cut over Bell's eye. The crowd applauded a five minutes penalty to Gaudet but protested loudly at a two minute sentence imposed on Bell.

Sharing honors with Chick Charlton, whose two goals were a big factor in Crescents win, was the stellar netminding of Stan Pion. He faced a terrific barrage of rubber in the final period and carried on gamely with a stellar performance after being knocked to the ice by one of Buck Whitlock's bullet drives.

Denies Statement About Whitlock

MONCTON, N.B., Jan. 15 — (CP) — Happy Emms, scout for Buffalo Bisons and associated with Montreal Canadiens, here looking over hockey material, today emphatically denied having made a statement that "any good Ontario junior club could beat any team of the Maritime Big Four loop". The scout said that in his opinion, top ranking junior "A" teams in Ontario could make it tough for Big Four teams. He added that he did not even imply that such junior teams could defeat Big Four clubs of the Maritimes.

Emms also denied having any statement in reference to Buck Whitlock, Moncton Hawks goal-getter and Big Four scoring leader.

The Canadian Press erroneously reported last night that Emms said any good Ontario junior club could beat the Big Four teams and also that Whitlock was not good enough for the N.H.L.

Sport Echoes from Prince County

Ever since the Kensington Juveniles scored their upset victory over the Summerside Kinsmen Juveniles we have been anxious to see the two teams in action. We have seen them, but we are still far from satisfied. With the ice surface in the Crystal Rink in the condition it was on Wednesday night it was impossible to judge between the relative capabilities of the two teams. The game they played that night was certainly not hockey, but rather a combination of polo, ping pong and cops and robbers. We will admit, however, that although the game did not prove Kensington's superiority as a hockey team, it certainly did not disprove it. The Kensington team are heavier than the Summerside squad and have plenty of speed and spirit. They have a defence that will give any juvenile team on the Island a rough passage from the blue line in. It will probably outweigh any other juvenile defence in the Maritimes, and the boys have the savvy and the pep to make their weight effective. Eugene Pendergast, a boy who must be nearing the one-tenth of a ton mark, was particularly impressive. Last year when the Kensington boys were taking a drubbing to the tune of 14 to 0, if our memory serves us right, this same lad took our eye. He was considerably lighter, but he was right in there swapping bumps with his opponents until the final bell. Instead of being down some fourteen goals, you would think the score was tied and everything depended on the energy he put into his play. He is much bigger this year and has the same swashbuckling style. When these two teams meet again on a hard ice surface we want to be around to watch them play.

Don Davis, dependable defenceman of the Summerside Legionaires, has won the award for the outstanding player on his team for two consecutive games now. Don is having a great year, seemingly a much better player than he was last winter. The prize was donated by George Clark, Summerside jeweller.

Bennie Grady, brilliant juvenile performer, was adjudged the best of the Dodgers on Tuesday night's play, and won the "R.T. Holman, Ltd." prize. Bennie has chosen to play with Steele's team in the Summerside Town League and has been dropped from the Kinsmen Juveniles because of this, they having made a ruling forbidding their minor players to participate in the Summerside League. This has separated two of the most promising hockey players developed by the Kinsmen organization, young Grady and his sidekick, Layton Schurman, as Laysh has elected to remain with the juveniles. No longer will "the dynamite twins" be seen making their spectacular twosomes up the ice, excursions which very often ended with the flashing of the red light.

The Summerside Curling Club held its organization meeting recently and everything is in readiness to begin their season's activities. Owing to the unusually mild January weather, the beginning of the season's play was considerably delayed, and the devotees of the besom and stane in Summerside are considering following Charlottetown's example in installing an artificial ice plant for their games before another winter rolls around.

A.A.A.A. Drive For Membership Makes Progress

Officials of the Abegweit Amateur Athletic Association last evening announced that their membership drive, after the first day's returns were reported, is well on the way to success. Teams composed of members of the Association executive started their canvass yesterday and will continue their calls during the week-end. As was expected old athletes and fans are showing by their response to the canvass that they are eager to revive sport in all its branches and it should not be long before the old Charlottetown Abegweit colors are again familiar and respected in sports circles.

As it will be impossible for the canvass to reach every citizen interested in sport, officials last evening stated that anyone missed by the canvassers and desiring to join the Association can obtain a membership card by making arrangements by phone with the secretary, R. A MacDonald, Rochford St., City.

Beavers Win From Truro 6-3

Barbara Ann Wins European Ch'ship

By Jack Sullivan

PRAGUE, Jan. 15 —(CP) —Attractive Barbara Ann Scott tonight won the European figure skating crown for the second consecutive year, turning back the challenge of 18 experts from other countries in a fresh demonstration of her mastery of the ice.

Miss Scott, a charming figure in emerald green, was placed first on the scoresheets of all seven judges.

Cries of "Scottova" — the Czech feminine ending for Scott— echoed from the crowd of 12,000 which packed Prague's outdoor winter stadium as the agile 19-year-old Ottawa star went gracefully through her free-skating movements.

Eva Pawlik of Austria finished second in the competition, followed by Aya Vrzanova, Czechoslovakian champion, in third place, and Jrina Nekolova, also of Czechoslovakia, fourth.

It was midnight before the judges—a Briton, a Canadian, a Swiss, an American, an Austrian, a Hungarian and a Czech, had finished compiling the points. Their task was complicated by language difficulties.

The judges awarded Miss Scott 181.66 points to 177.03 for Miss Pawlik, 174.43 for Miss Vrzanova, 173.79 for Miss Nekolova and Jannette Altwegg of England, who was fifth.

The placement results, completed 40 minutes before computation of the points, gave Miss Pawlik 22 placements, Miss Vrzanova 23, Miss Nekolova 26 and Miss Altwegg 47.

Under the placing system, a "first" counts one point, a "second" two points, and so on.

Miss Scott had entered the free skating event with a lead of nearly four points over her nearest competitor, Miss Nekolova. The Ottawa girl was credited with 106.5 points in the compulsory school figures events Wednesday.

"I am thrilled," the radiantly-happy Barbara Ann told the Canadian Press in her dressing room after the contest.
