-HAD BAD TUMBLE-The heavy thaw, which continued throughout Thursday and Friday last, was followed at night by a sharp frost which made the sidewalks more dangerous than they have been this winter, which is saying a good deal. Miss Margaret McFarlane, popular operator at the Summerside telephone exchange was returning home from duty late at night, when she slipped on Central Street, near the Capitol Theatre and got such a severe shaking up that she was taken to the Prince County Hospital. Fortunately, however, no bones were broken and her many friends will be pleased to know that she is now recovered from the ill effects.-S.

-SLIGHT BLAZE AT SUMMER-SIDE-The prolonged shrieking of the fire siren at 1.30 a. m., awoke the citizens of Summerside on Saturday morning. Quite a number turned out to discover a small blaze at the residence of Mr. J. A. Arsenault on Summer Street. The fire, which had been caused by defective wiring was very easily subdued by the firemen, in spite of it being between the walls and only very trifling damage resulted. For the benefit of those citizens who do not like to be aroused too early in the morning and several long shrieking of the fire siren for of whom have complained of the so small a cause, it may be stated that the alarm is automatic and when once set in motion has to keep going for a certain length of time and at certain intervals. Also, the alarm is to call the firemen together and not the citizens, who at many fires are only in the way. When there is a really serious fire a more general alarm is given for the benefit of citizens.-S.

In Memoriam

THE LATE MR. JOHN CORRIGAN

The death occurred in the Charlottetown Hospital on Sunday evening, Jan 5th, of Mr. John Corrigan 180 Water Street, after an illness of about three weeks. The late Mr. Corrigan, who was 71 years of age, was a lifelong resident of Charlottetown and was widely known and esteemed throughout the city. He was associated for many years with the labor movement in Charlottetown and was one of the organizers of the Laborers' Protective Union.

The deceased enjoyed vigorous health up to his last illness and his death yesterday will be learned with deep regret by his many friends.

Mr. Corrigan's wife predeceased him by five years.

There are left to mourn one son, Thomas, of The Charlottetown Guardian Staff, and one daughter, Mrs. William Dalton, Pictou, N. S., to whom The Guardian extends sincere sympathy.

Mrs. Dalton arrived home before her father had passed away.

Parliamentarians

In the cabinet meeting the staff of the Tuxis paper, "The Upward Trail," was appointed, and is as follows: Editor Hon. Allen Beveridge; Business Manager, Lloyd M. Iachum, North Dover, N.B. Associate Editors are Hon. Ben Rogers, Charlottetown; Art Cooke, Halifax, and Angus Cameron, Saint John.

At 11 a. m. William Rose, of Dartmouth University, spoke to the boys in an intensely interesting address, dealing with phases of the cause of the world war and other items of value to such a gathering. Mr. Rose is at the Students' Conference in the Ladies' College and was able to find time to speak to the Parliamentarians.

In a general caucus in the early afternoon Charles Simms, present Premier, was elected Speaker for next year, and Lloyd A. Macchum alternate.

The fifth session of the Boys' Parliament was held at 2.30 p.m. The financial budget was read by Hon. George Thompson, Minister of Finance. $2,500 is the object for 1930, and is allotted to various Counties and sections of New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and P. E. Island. This was moved by Art Cooke, Halifax, who stressed the share selling campaign, and seconded by Lewis Tibert, Fredericton, who endorsed the idea of supporting the M.R.E.C. Hon. Joseph Berridge, Hon. Ben Rogers, Charlottetown; Hon. Allen Beveridge, Minister of World Brotherhood; George Roy, Saint John; Roger Rand, Yarmouth; Hon. Burnett Ralston, Wendell Black, Saint John, also spoke on the budget.

At this time the rules of the House were waived to allow Mr. Curry, Professor in Theological College, New York, to speak to the House. This address, like the others given by speakers at the Students' Conference, was most helpful and practical. Mr. Curry spoke on boys' work on life.

Parliamentary business was resumed by the presentation of two bills by Charles Simms.

The first bill for second reading was regarding the admittance of boys outside Tuxis work to Parliament. This was moved by Rt. Hon. Joseph Berridge, and with an amendment, seconded by Hon. Wendell Black. Speakers were Ben Rogers, Ian MacCormac, Carried.

An Act to appoint a delegate to attend the conference in Toronto July 1931, moved by Hon. Allen Beveridge, seconded by Hon. Ben Rogers, not carried, but referred to a committee.

An Act regarding world brotherhood, moved by Allen Beveridge, and seconded by Freeman Jenkins. A unique feature of the world brotherhood question was an address by the colored member of Parliament, Howard Lawrence, Halifax. Lewis Tibert, Fredericton; Hon. Joseph Berridge, Hon. Charles Simms, Albert Levy, seconded this bill and was carried.

Rt. Hon. Joseph Berridge moved that a representative be sent to Sunday School Conference in the summer of 1930, and nominated Hon. Charles Simms. Seconded by Hon. Ben Rogers. Passed.

The final session was held at 7.20 p.m. The Premier announced the candidates for next year's Premiership. They are Hon. Ben Rogers, Hon. Burnett Ralston. Leader of the Opposition is Malcolm Matheson, with alternate, George Thomson, Rt. Hon. Joe Berridge moved votes of thanks to Mount Allison University; to M. A. E. officers; to Rev. W. C. Machum; to the pages of the Parliament; who are Ronald Bennett and Allen Trites; to Fred Morrison, the Sergeant-at-Arms, and to Mr. Wood, who acted as Lieutenant-Governor.

Resolutions

A resolution regarding the appointing of commissions to investigate the liquor question, the race problem, and cadet instruction in school, was moved by Rt. Hon. Charles Simms and seconded by Hon. Roy Smith, Liverpool.

A resolution re the Election Act was moved by Rt. Hon. Charles Simms and seconded by Hon. Roy Smith. "That we may know him," was moved by Joseph Berridge and seconded by Hon. Ben Rogers.

A resolution re the sending of a delegate to the conference in Toronto was moved by Hon. Allen Beveridge and seconded by Jos Berridge. A motion re the responsibilities of parliamentarians, was moved by Jos. Berridge and seconded by Hon. Ben Rogers.

Bills received the third reading. Rt. Hon. Jos. Berridge gave a glowing account of his attendance at the National Premiers' Conference of Jasper Park, Alta., which he attended during the summer of 1929. Many boys gave their impressions of Parliament when session was left to committees as a whole. Following the last session, after a

TORONTO, Jan. 5-Operators of muskrat fur farms in Ontario have been warned that unless they change their methods of securing at least a part of their assets to investors they may find themselves in conflict with the Securities Frauds Preventive Act, officials of the Attorney-General's Department announced yesterday.

There are easy access to the Manager's office and agents' room-through the main door. With the convenient location of the staff on the main floor, this makes one of the finest and best appointed offices in the City.

Mr. McInnis, previous to entering the insurance business was, for eleven years connected with The Royal Bank of Canada in this city, the latter three years as Assistant to the Manager. Starting in 1924 with a small office in The Royal Bank Building, the expansion of business in Life, Fire and other lines of Insurance soon necessitated larger office space for his growing business. In 1926 a new office was obtained at 70 Prince Street and as the business continued to grow, the present office at 75, Queen Street had to be procured where Mr. McInnis is in a position to handle all lines of insurance, being District Manager for Prince Edward Island of THE IMPERIAL LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY OF CANADA, one of the strongest and largest of Canadian Life Insurance Companies, its slogan being "Absolute Security to Policyholders." He is also General Agent for six strong old line tariff Fire Insurance Companies, including The Prudential Assurance Company, Ltd., of London, England, the largest composite office in the world.

By diligent application to business, by giving special and personal service to policyholders and clients, and possessed with a genial personality, Mr. McInnis has built up a splendid business, especially in Life, Fire, and Automobile Insurance and we bespeak for his continued success in his new quarters. 921

1930 CURLING

An exceptionally cold December has enabled the ice committee at the Curling rink to lay three excellent sheets of ice. Now that the holiday season is over and cold weather here once more the games committee are planning to draft out the schedule of games for the season as soon as the membership teams have handed in the complete returns which must be in this week. Several new members have already joined and all that is necessary now is good crisp January weather. As there are indications that the other Island Curling Clubs are far from asleep it is imperative that all new members get posted in the game before the inter-club games begin. With an energetic staff at the head of affairs we look forward to an enjoyable and successful curling winter and feel confident that the laurels already won will be held at least during the new year of 1930.

EXONERATED

(Canadian Press)

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Jan. 5-United States Attorney Henry H. Bose, Jr., here yesterday issued a statement in which he completely exonerated the crew of the coastguard patrol boat 290 from any blame in the killing of three men aboard the rum runner Black Duck last Sunday and said he would not produce the crew before the state inquest held at Newport into the three deaths. As a result, Attorney-General Oscar L. Helzen stated he would be forced to go through the formalities of an interstate summons to get the coast-guardmen to testify before the coroner. The 290 did not fire a warning shot across the bow of the rumrunner Black Duck before it poured the deadly

Mr. A. R. McInnis Opens New Office At 75 Queen St.

The Guardian reporter had the pleasure Saturday morning of viewing the new office of Mr. A. R. McInnis at 75 Queen Street.

The exterior is of Island stone, with large plate front window and bevelled door with glass panels. Mr. McInnis' name on the front window, The Imperial Life Assurance Company of Canada Crest on the door and the number of the tramway done in gold leaf and pearl, the work of an artist, Mr. H. Crossman, of this city.

The Manager's office, situated at the rear of the main office, elevated three feet, overlooking the main office, is well lighted and finished in Douglas Fir, with light colored paper, giving this office a cheery appearance.

Situated in the main office is quite a spacious room solely for the use of the agents, finished in Douglas Fir and etched glass.

The Main office is quite large and furnished throughout with Douglas Fir; the walls of burlap and full colored paper. The floors are covered with inlaid linoleum of life pattern. This office is used for transaction of business over the counter and to accommodate the accounting staff.
