NOVA SCOTIA Monthly Meeting Of C. W. League

The Catholic Women's League held their regular monthly meeting in the new Rosary Hall, on Tuesday evening May 7th, at eight o'clock. There was a splendid attendance, and the President, Mrs. W. J. McIntyre, occupied the chair. After the opening prayer, the minutes of two previous meetings were read and confirmed. The treasurer's report showed the finances of the society to be in a very satisfactory condition, a splendid balance being to our credit. The usual prizes to our schools, and to St. Dunstan's University, were voted, as was also the sending of a donation to our Western Missions. The president spoke of the splendid success of the bridge party which was held last week, in our lovely new hall, and plans were made for the holding of a whist party on next Wednesday evening, May 15th. On the conclusion of all business, the meeting was adjourned to meet on June 4th.

Application Not Yet Received

(Special to The Guardian) OTTAWA, May 7.—In view of recent statements by the presidents of the two great railway systems, Sir Henry Thornton and E. W. Beatty, K. C., that the reduction in grain rates to border points in the United States must be met by Canadian railways, it is presumed here that an application will shortly be made by the railways to the Board of Railway Commissioners for a reduction in grain rates from Port Colborne to Montreal. Enquiry this morning elicits that no such application has yet been received.

TRADE BOARD

part of the outskirts of Nova Scotia or New Brunswick. We should demand that being a Province we are entitled to equal rights. I have discussed this matter with a number of officers, and of course they say they are not in a position to dictate to their superior officers. It is not according to military rules, but so far as I can find out there is no reason whatever why our militia should be taken over to Nova Scotia. If we sit back and allow it, the same thing will happen next year and the year following. It means something to the capital of this Province to have the cavalry coming here and parading; it adds something to the life of the city and Province, and I for one feel that the Board of Trade would be justified in going on record on this matter. There are men in the militia who understand very little how it would affect the Province from a business standpoint, and probably they have not given it any consideration. In fact, I understand that the orders came from headquarters that they were to go to Nova Scotia; and what were our officers here to do but obey? I think we should go on record and send a wire to the Militia Department and to our representatives as well, asking that the order be countermanded and that our military units camp in Charlottetown. (Mr. MacDonald then moved the resolution referred to above.) Mr. Tidmarsh said the idea was to train the men in large bodies, ac-

ording to modern methods of warfare, and he presumed that was the reason Aldershot camp had been selected this year. The matter has already been decided on. This Board may protest, but the protest will be ignored. He did not see the advisability of taking up the matter at this time. Referring to the phrase subsequently deleted in Mr. MacDonald's resolution, he said it would be very difficult to prove that the militia had suffered by being attached to District No. 6. Mr. W. L. Higgins: I think you will be told that the efficiency of the militia was considerably increased by the transfer. Mr. S. A. MacDonald: It was only today that I was talking the matter over with one of the leading military men of the Province. I am not in authority, but I am speaking from the opinion of men who are qualified to know. Mr. MacDonald pointed out that before our military units had been sent away for any training, they had carried off prizes in competition with the crack companies of the Dominion. It was "all tommyrot" to say that they could not be trained at home. Mr. S. A. MacLeod agreed. He had heard the same statements from some of the older military men here. Attempts to remove the training camp from the Island has been going on for years, and he thought it a pity that it will happen this summer. About $15,000 is distributed during the twelve days of camp, and from the economic standpoint alone it is quite a loss. He thought the Board should protest. Mr. Tidmarsh thought it was not right to look at the matter from a purely mercenary viewpoint. It was a question of training the troops in the most efficient manner. Mr. R. E. Mutch suggested that if the local militia would indicate a preference for staying here, or make any move in the matter, the Board of Trade might very well assist them, but he did not think it would be advisable to take the initiative. The Militia should make the first move. Mr. MacLeod: But they can't. It's impossible. The Chairman: "Theirs not to reason why."

Mr. Mutch: I wouldn't admit that. We have men here who are qualified to speak, and who are not afraid to speak, if they think they can be properly trained at home. The first protest should come from them. Mr. MacLeod: It could only be done through the Militia Department. Mr. R. L. Cotton: I can understand the reluctance an officer would feel in taking objection to the orders which come from higher up. That is about the last thing that a man who is looking for promotion in the military service would undertake. Mr. Cotton believed that if we had small units rather than large ones in this Province we should have a better chance of maintaining our identity. In the case of infantry, the advantage of training at Aldershot is that they can at least train as a brigade. President MacPhee said he had spoken to two militia officers. One of them was strongly opposed to the transfer to Aldershot, on military grounds, while the other favored the innovation. Mr. J. O. Hyndman pointed out the danger of a precedent being established. If the matter went through this year without protest, it might be continued every year. The very fact that we have suffered an injustice through the Dominion Government falling to carry out the terms of Confederation, which has resulted in decreased population, has caused the military headquarters to be removed to Halifax, and now they are again to be discriminated against for the same reason. If the resolution did not accomplish anything but to remind the authorities that the removal of the troops would not be tolerated next year, it would be worth while. Mr. MacDonald: They say they will be back next year. How are they going to have the facilities next year when they haven't got them this year? Mr. MacLeod: It's always been politics. Mr. MacDonald: It was political pull that got them to Nova Scotia. Our men should be big enough to stand up for our rights. Mr. Nelson Rattenbury: Let the military men have a meeting. Mr. MacDonald: I discussed this with the military men and they say they are powerless. We are simply sleeping on the job and letting them get away with it. Mr. Rattenbury: Let the whole body of the militia protest, then. Mr. MacLeod: They can't do it. Mr. Rattenbury: If they kick'd them out, let them kick them out! Mr. MacDonald: They can't do that in the army.

INSPECTOR OF CIVIL AVIATION IS IMPRESSED

With Landing Fields For Planes At Falconwood Farm

Mr. G. S. Abbott, Inspector of Civil Aviation of the Department of National Defence, Ottawa, who arrived in the City on Monday evening spent yesterday morning with officials of the proposed Flying Club in company with Col. D. A. MacKinnon and Lieut. L. D. Parker. He made a survey of the landing fields available near the eastern portion of the city. The Inspector said that the requirements were usually not less than 1800 feet by 1800 feet, but on account of the absence of obstacles to landing he could recommend two adjoining fields at Falconwood Farm across the road from and south east of the orchard. One field is 20 acres, under grass and is almost level. There is a wet spot in it that can be tiled drained with very little difficulty. Adjoining it to the south is a field of 12 acres in stubble that can be rolled and put in order quite easily. It would require a little draining also. There are also eight acres connected with the 12 acre piece nearer the road, which should be obtained in order to round out and complete the area necessary for future requirements. He stated that the two fields adjoining north and south should, if possible, be kept in hay, so that in case of bumpy landing, little damage would be done to the machines.

Mr. Abbott seemed to be very favourable to the situation selected, stating that it offered less difficulty and was easier of access than those obtainable in most of the other cities. Owing to the absence from the city of the Premier and Hon. Walter M. Lea, Minister of Agriculture it was impossible to see these gentlemen with respect to the matter. A call was made on Provincial Secretary H. R. Stewart, formerly connected with the air service and who is quite enthusiastic over the proposed Club. Mr. J. P. Hillion, Secretary of the Club spent some time with Mr. Abbott just before his departure, securing all the data necessary for the formation of a Club and having explained to him various matters pertaining thereto. Mr. Abbott will forward plans and conclusions reached shortly after returning to headquarters at Ottawa to Mr. J. P. Hillion.

It was stated in conversation that there are ten clubs formed or are in process of formation in Canada and it is thought that sufficient planes would be available for eight of them. Therefore, those that are most advanced and earliest in position to fulfill requirements necessary to obtain these machines will receive the equipment; others will probably have to wait until next year. The cost of a hangar necessary to house the planes would be $1,000, and the cost of preparing fields about the same amount. The running expenses such as pilots, salaries, etc. for one year would be in the neighborhood of $10,000. The Department of Naval Defence offers to train free of charge as an instructor any local man who had flying experience overseas during the Great War. This instruction which usually lasts from six to seven weeks is given at Camp Borden. The machines at present which are being used in flying clubs and supplied by the Defence Department are new machines of the De Havilland Moth type. They are two seaters with a maximum speed of 105 miles an hour but are usually flown at 89 or 90 miles.

Mr. Abbott left by the afternoon Borden train yesterday for Moncton and Woodstock.

125th Anniversary Of Bible Society Is Celebrated

The 125th anniversary of the British and Foreign Bible Society was celebrated in Trinity United Church, Summerside, last night. Premier Saunders presided over the large gathering and with him on the platform were Rev. J. Sydney Bonnell, the speaker of the evening, Rev. Mr. Raymond of Charlottetown, Rev. C. J. St. Clair-Jeans and Rev. J. P. C. Fraser of Summerside. The devotional exercises were conducted by Rev. Mr. Fraser and Rev. Mr. Jeans followed by a solo by Mr. Charles Earle of Charlottetown very beautifully rendered. Rev. Mr. Raymond of St. Pauls Church, Charlottetown, gave a short address in which he made a splendid appeal for funds for the Bible Society. He also explained the work and endeavours of the society since its inception remarking that the first Bible sent out of England by the society was given to the Mohawk Indians and the first contribution sent to the parent society was from Pictou, N. S. The Bible was now published in 612 languages and in raised type in 38 languages. Premier Saunders then introduced Rev. Mr. Bonnell, B. A., B. D., of Saint Andrew's Church, St. John, N. B., to whom he referred as an old friend. Summerside audiences and one of the most outstanding orators of Canada. Rev. Mr. Bonnell in his opening remarks said it gave him great pleasure to be in Summerside once again. Six years ago he had been present with Mr. Earle to take part in the unveiling of the soldiers monument and he hoped it would not be six years before he returned again. The gifted speaker said the Bible had a great influence on every sphere of life in politics, commerce, science etc. In this age there was, he said, a tendency to stray away from the teachings of the word of God and the time had come to bring back the old ideals of our forefathers in the Bible. The Bible had a great influence on the character of an individual. When people could more fully realize that in spite of differences of opinion we all worshipped one God it would not be easy to pray for strength to kill our fellow who was also a believer in God's word. In that way only would international peace be brought about. The Bible, Rev. Mr. Bonnell said, was the greatest book ever produced and capable of expressing every emotion the human heart could experience. The purpose of the society in Canada was to place in the hands of every immigrant a copy of the Bible in their own language so that the traditions of the word of God may be built up in this great dominion of ours. In appealing for the special thank offering to celebrate the birthday of the society, Rev. Mr. Bonnell said he could not use the word sacrifice, as from the earliest times men and women had endured tortures and even death that we might be able to enjoy the scriptures and it was our responsibility to see that the word of God did not perish. Martyrs threw up the torch of truth to hand down through the ages. After an offering had been taken up Mr. Charles Earle rendered another beautiful solo accompanied by his sister, Miss Earle, and the proceedings closed with a hymn rendered by the full choir of the church and the blessing by Rev. Mr. Fraser.

THE MARKETS

OTTAWA, May 7.—The generally easier feeling continues on Canadian egg markets today and quotations on carlots have been reduced slightly. Toronto—This egg market continues steady. Dealers are quoting country shippers for ungraded eggs, delivered, cases returned, extras 28, firsts 26; seconds 23-24. Montreal—Quotations on carlots from the west are one half to a cent lower today and the tone of the market here is easy. Extras are in fairly good demand and there is a tendency for the price spread between this grade and firsts to widen.

FIVE KILLED

(Canadian Press) BOQUERGES, France, May 7.—Five military aviators were killed at the Averd aviation field last night, their bombing plane crashing to earth when a wing dropped off. The bodies could be taken from the plane only this morning after experts had removed two unexploded bombs from the wreck of the machine. The victims were two pilots and three bombing students.
