

ABOUT GARDEN TOOLS
Being means out of door work in the garden. This can be made a delightful pastime or it can revert to tedium; it all depends upon the kind of garden tools you select.

"The job of looking for a clue should always be turned over to a good looker."

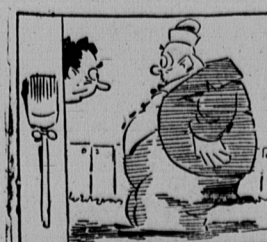

THE FLYLESS KIND
The flypaper lay on the table, where all could plainly see; could it speak 'twould probably say: "There are no flies on me."

"Young man, I want to give you a piece of my mind." "But won't that be robbing you?"

"That foreigner who is visiting the Parvenues claims to be a nobleman." "And the Parvenues are working the claim for all they are worth."

"What! You here again for money for a night's lodgin'?" "Why, I just gave you money for that purpose last night." "I know it, mum, but a feller's nadder sleep more'n wunst."

Alberton and Vicinity

The first school of mackerel are about past. Saturday, the highest catch was in the neighborhood of 2,000, which is not very big when one considers that this catch was made with sixty nets.

Mr. George Helsler, captain of the fishing schooner Erskine B., is preparing to leave for Souris to engage in cod-fishing during the summer months. The Lewis brothers are also preparing to leave for Tignish where they will follow the same calling.

There is a Board of Trade in Alberton and since it evidently has not sufficient energy nor initiative to function, the writer will help it along by telling it not only what to do to remedy this condition but also how to do it.

From all present indications, those who expect to buy salt cod this fall for five or six cents a pound, are going to be sadly disappointed.

Mr. Emerson Matthews and Mr. Howard Clark are both buying fresh mackerel here—price two cents apiece. At this price, none of our fishermen are contemplating spending the winter months on the Riviera.

Keenan's new store on Main Street is rapidly approaching completion and when finished will constitute one of the finest little stores of its kind in this section of the County.

For some unaccountable reason, mackerel continue scarce at this Port. The fishermen with anchored nets report no mackerel. The Lewis Bros. who were drifting Tuesday night off New London, brought in fifty mackerel Wednesday morning.

Mr. Alfred Genoit Jr., who had his arm broken while fishing lobsters, has returned from the Prince County Hospital and is doing nicely.

The many friends of Mr. George Ellis were glad to see him around again after his severe illness. Mr. Ellis states that he expects to have a crew aboard his vessel next week and that he will resume freight operations as soon as possible.
