KINGSBORO SCHOOL EXAMINATION.—The semi annual examination of Kingsboro school was held in the school room on Monday afternoon, December 22nd. The pupils were examined in the various subjects in which they had been taught, by their teacher, Miss Jeanette Coady and the visitors, of whom there was a large attendance. Their punctual and intelligent replies to the different questions, gave evidence to the capable and efficient way in which they had been taught during the preceding part of the term. The teacher was the joyful recipient of many gifts from the pupils, which gave testimony to the fact that while at all times maintaining a high degree of discipline, she has nevertheless, won the tender hearts of the little ones while under her care. The following interesting programme was ably rendered by the pupils, reflecting much credit on the ambition and patience of teacher and pupils alike. Dialogue, Two spitting girls, by Cecilia Mossy and Jennie Stewart; Recitation, When he begins to show, by Roy Bruce; Recitation, Little Fly, by Evelyn McEwen; Recitation, The hurried boy, by Watson Robertson; Recitation, The Grizzly bear, by Harold Robertson; Recitation, The foolish little maiden, by Keith Young; Dialogue, A slight misunderstanding, by Lydia and Iver Stewart. The following prizes were also awarded: Prize for attendance, merited by Elva McDonald; Prize for General Proficiency, merited by Jennie Stewart; Prize for Rapid Calculation, merited by Oren Kennedy. At the close of the above programme all present were, to the extreme enjoyment of the children, treated with candy, after which pleasing remarks were made by several of the visitors, including a short speech by Rev. Mr. McWalker, who in his ever pleasing and inspiring manner gave expression to feelings of entire satisfaction with the progressiveness of the school. The singing of God Save the King brought a pleasant afternoon to a close, and all departed wishing each other a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Increasing Your Earning Power Nearly everyone would like to make a little more money than they are already receiving. Very few, however, realize what an important part their eyes play in their earning power. Defective eyesight is quite frequently the cause of headache, loss of nerve energy, stomach trouble and a perceptible decline in vitality and earning power. A Toronto Company, in an effort to determine the cause of the lack of efficiency in their staff, found as a result of a complete and systematic examination of the eyes that only eight out of a hundred were of normal vision. Eighty-four out of a hundred required glasses, but either had none at all or had glasses not suited to their needs. Lack of efficiency, frequent cases of illness, results in lowered earning power. To keep yourself fit and your earning power high treat your eyes right. We have all of the facilities for testing eyes, fitting prescriptions and fitting glasses. SCHOOL EXAMINATION.—The semi-annual examination of St. Peter's Harbor School was held on Dec. 19. The school room was beautifully decorated for the occasion. A large number of teachers and visitors from surrounding districts were present, the children were examined in the different subjects by their teacher, Miss Sinnott, assisted by Miss Driscoll, teacher of the school. The pupils acquitted themselves in a very intelligent manner, reflecting much credit on their teacher, Miss Sinnott. After the examination was concluded a delightful program was carried out, and so perfectly did each one perform his or her part that it would be unfair to specialize. In the program, as in the examination, the children gave evidence of the excellent training they had received at the hands of their teacher, Miss Sinnott. At the close of the program Santa Claus appeared on the scene and unloaded the beautiful Christmas tree prepared for the children with various presents, after which remarks were made by several of the ratepayers, expressing their entire satisfaction with the work being done in the school and congratulating Miss Sinnott on the very excellent entertainment they had just listened to. Prizes were awarded to the following pupils: Prize for the highest number of stars awarded to Mabel O'Brien; prize for "conscience" awarded to Horace McEwen; prizes in primary class awarded to Margaret McDonald and Pearl Mosher. The special prize for attendance (a fountain pen) donated by Mr. Alfred McEwen, was won by Ethel McEwen. All present were treated to candy by the teacher and the entertainment was brought to a close by singing the National Anthem.

CHRISTMAS CONCERT A very enjoyable evening was spent at Kingston Hall on Tuesday evening, Dec. 23rd, when the young ladies and children of Hampshire gave a delightful Christmas concert. The children all performed their parts very creditably, and much credit is due them for the splendid evening's entertainment. Rev. S. D. Webster very capably performed the duties of chairman. At the close of the programme a hearty vote of thanks was tendered Mrs. John Easton who trained the children, to which she responded very thankfully. Santa Claus also arrived in time to distribute a generous supply of candy and presents from the nicely trimmed Christmas tree. The proceeds of the evening amounted to $80 which goes toward the Forward Movement of Hampshire church. The people of Hampshire take this opportunity of thanking Mr. Donald McDonald for his splendid violin selections, and also the people of Kingston for their kind donation of the hall for the evening. The following is the programme: Remarks, by the chairman, Chorus, by 6 girls. Recitation, Gertrude Ackland, Lullaby, Irene McLeod, and Maud Ward. We, now grown to manhood and womanhood with children of our own are better able to appreciate your love and care and Christian training than we could as children in the old home. God has been merciful to have spared you both so long to bless and strengthen our lives, and we are grateful and happy to day that we are all able to meet together again. We can never forget all you have been and are to us, and as a mark of our love and appreciation we bring to you these gifts to add to your comfort and happiness, and to be mementos of this happy anniversary and family reunion. Signed in behalf of us all. PETER J. MACDONALD. The Guardian joins in extending hearty congratulations on the auspicious occasion.
