It is noticed that considerable alterations are being made at the Montague Garage where a new cement floor has been laid in the front part of the building. Last year a new workshop was erected in the rear containing a modern hydraulic hoist, and electric welder. It is understood that a new office will also be built in the front.

Mr. Donald Campbell is at present getting his car in shape prior to beginning the motion picture circuit. Mr. Campbell reports that the new 16 mm machine is in excellent running condition, and that he has some very fine pictures booked for the circuit. He expects to open the circuit by the middle of May after his car has been conditioned and the roads have somewhat improved.

The regular meeting of the Almonite Young People's Union of the United Church was held in the classroom on Monday, May 10th. The meeting opened with the devotional prayer led by Miss Blanche Hume. The scripture was read by Mrs. Archie Hillech. The programme for the evening was in charge of Rev. A. S. Adams, who gave a very interesting talk on his experiences in Bermuda, and the characteristics of the people there. He showed some pictures he had taken while he was there. The president, Mr. Rudolph Hamilton, presided over a short business period. It was decided not to have a meeting on the next week so that all might attend the Sunday School convention. Plans were made for a social evening for closing in two weeks time. The meeting closed with the Mizpah Benediction.—Lan.

BROWN COMING IN "OVERLOAD TRAILS"

His father supposedly murdered by road agents, Johnny Mack Brown attempts to find the killers and becomes involved with a gang of gold-mine thieves in "Overload Trails," due today at the Empire Theatre. The new Monogram western film promises suspense and gripping action as the cowboy star fights against heavy odds to uphold law and order.

When Johnny arrives in Goldfields he is told by engineer Bill Kennedy of Brandon Enterprises that his father has been killed by outlaws. Brown meets his dad's old friend, Raymond Hatton, who proves Brandon is an escaped convict. The two friends discover that the Brandon outfit have been grubstaking prospectors who are mysteriously killed after they make rich strikes. When one of the miners is victim to the guns of the outlaw, Brown and Hatton endeavor to thwart the plot of the desperadoes to take possession of his precious mine.

RIOTOUS MODERN COMEDY CURRENTLY AT THE CAPITAL

Warners "Love and Learn," the current film fare at the Capitol Theatre is a riotous modern comedy co-starring Jack Carson, Robert Hutton, Martha Vickers and Janis Paige. The film tells the story of the vicissitudes of two tunesmiths who finally are able to get their songs on the Hit Parade, and be with the women they love. Jingles Collins (played by Jack Carson) and Bob Grant (Robert Hutton) are a songwriting team who haven't been able to get any songs published. Bob becomes discouraged with their lack of success and decides to return to Sperryville, Indiana. While celebrating his last night in New York with Jingles' girl friend Jackie Madden since we were here last time." Jump to light another woman's lights her own.

Say, "You'll have to talk to Ethel, she's the boss." And then give Ethel the high sign to make their excuses for not doing something rather than make them himself.
Tell his wife before a party that they simply have to leave early since to the hostess say, "Oh, sure we can stay a while longer. Relax, relax."
When his wife gives him a meaningful look to try to steer him away from a dangerous subject, say, "Ethel is giving me one of her looks, so I guess I'd better not tell this."
Say, "I only get this when we have company," when his wife has outdone herself on a difficult dish and has tried hard to promote the idea that she hasn't gone to a job of trouble for her guests.
Say, "There's an idea for you, Ethel," when a woman Ethel can't endure is impressing the crowd with one of her clever ideas.
