Protein and Minerals to keep up the milk flow

Your cows will fall off in the milk supply at this time of year unless you feed the right quantity of protein and minerals. All milk cows must have both or they will give less milk.

Quaker Dairy Ration is a scientifically blended and concentrated feed, and is guaranteed 18% protein. Also contains one per cent. calcium carbonate, one per cent. edible bone meal and other necessary minerals.

No guess work about feeding Quaker Dairy Ration since it is perfectly balanced. No waste for cows eat it clean. Kiln-dried. The most economical concentrate because it produces most milk for the money.

MALPEQUE

Many will regret to learn of the passing of Dr. James Bearisto, of Winnipeg, and will extend their sincerest sympathy to relatives and friends. Dr. Bearisto was born in the Baltic in the year 1846 and was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Bearisto. After receiving his medical training he practised in Alberton, later he moved to Lakeville, Carleton Co., N. B., where he practised with great success for a number of years, and afterwards retired, moving to Winnipeg, where he resided with members of his family. About three years ago he was stricken with paralysis and passed away on Feb. 9th. The remains were brought to Lakeville, where interment was made. Dr. Bearisto was a successful practitioner and was the possessor of many lovely qualities of heart and mind that endeared him to all who knew him. He was twice married, first to Miss Nellie Wiggins, of Alberton, and later to Miss Belle Nungent, of John, N. B. There are left to mourn two daughters namely Mrs. King and Miss May; three sons, Messrs. Gerald, Harold and Robert, and one brother, Mr. Robert Bearisto of Spencer Lake, B. C. Dr. Bearisto had many relatives on the Island, especially in Malpeque; among them a niece, Mrs. Thomas MacNutt of Malpeque.

The members of the Malpeque Women's Institute and their families, together with a number of friends, enjoyed a social evening on Tuesday, Feb. 14th. The company numbered about seventy-five, and the evening was spent in the enjoyment of violin, banjo and organ selections, also dancing. Supper was served and a collection was taken amounting to nine dollars.

Mrs. Alex Cousins, of Burlington, and Mrs. Peter Warren, of Clinton, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Ramsay.

Miss Marion Cousins spent the week-end at her home in the Baltic. She was accompanied by her friend Miss Ella Gay, Summerside.

Miss Evelyn Corbett was called to her home on Friday evening on account of the illness of her sister.

Mr. John MacLeod, Granville, was a recent visitor to Malpeque.

Mr. Daniel Brander, of Kincaid, Sask., has been the guest for several weeks of his mother, Mrs. George Brander, Baltic. He returned to his home on Monday, accompanied by his mother, who purposes spending the winter with her sons, Messrs. Daniel and John, en route they will visit Mrs. Brander's daughter, Mrs. Benj. Mountain, Boston.

Congratulations are being extended to Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Cameron, Baltic, on the arrival of their first daughter.

All regret the illness of Mrs. Wallace MacNutt, Darnley, and are pleased to know that she is on the way to recovery.

Sage Tea Turns Gray Hair Dark

By SHIRLEY BLAKE

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray or streaked, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the mixture. You can get this famous old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, for only 75 cents, all ready for use. It is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color and lustre of your hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy and lustrous.

ton, is the guest of her brother, Mr. George Profit, Darnley.

The friends of Mr. Alex. Craig, Baltic, are glad to know that he is recovering from his recent attack of pleurisy.

Misses Lizzie Bearisto and Marjorie Peake spent the week end with friends in Victoria West.

Mr. Frank MacNutt, Darnley, is the guest of his sister, Mrs. Pope Beer, Charlottetown.

Mr. Simpson Crozier, Darnley, is spending a few days with friends in Summerside and Travellers Rest.

Miss Howatt, Teacher in Darnley School, has returned to her duties after spending the week end with her aunts, the Misses Burrows, of Summerside.

Mrs. Forsythe, of Alberton, has been visiting friends in Baltic and Darnley.

Mr. W. H. Phillips and daughter, Miss Phillips are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Ramsay, Hamilton.

Pownal

A capacity house greeted the Pownal performers on Friday night the 17th, wonderful order prevailed as the efficient chairman, Mr. William MacEachern announced the different numbers. With Miss Beatrice Judson on the bench, the entertainment opened with the rousing chorus, "The British Grenadiers", which is but further proof that the people of Pownal can sing also. This was followed by a violin solo by our genial friend, Miss Beatrice Judson, accompanied by her mother all went well. A duet by Mr. Rena Gay and Edith Lawton, "The Keys of Canterbury", called forth not a little applause, and was much enjoyed. This was followed by a song by Mr. Lewis, which like the preceding numbers, called an encore, which was generously given. The dialogue entitled "Dumbells", was both serious and humorous, each of the following characters carrying off their parts well:—Pa and Ma—Mr. and Mrs. MacE. Rae; Children—M. Beer, Amy Smith and Hazel MacEachern and Tom the Helper—Mr. Arden Richards. A new character was introduced at this point, the solo, or Daddy of the Fiddle, under the skilful touch of the player, who in times past has proven himself a rare artist of the stringed instrument, sweet music was provided. This was followed with a delightful treat for all, a song, "The Break of Morn", Mrs. W. T. Mutch, which was indeed a masterpiece of music, the interpretation calling for technique, volume and harmony. On Tuesday evening, the 14th, a meeting of the Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Wilfred McDonald, and was largely attended. A number of the Cornwall York Institute, gave a very interesting talk on matters pertaining to an institute.

Miss Carrie Grant, Charlotte, town, is spending a few days at her home here, and her many friends are glad to have her with them, even though her stay be short.

A masquerade ball was held in the hall Wednesday night, and was pronounced to be a huge success from every angle. The costumes all unique and artistic, caused the judges some consideration before being able to make a decision. But finally awarded John A. McDonald, Allisary, first prize for gentlemen's costume, and Miss Tena McKearney, Glenroy, and Miss Helen Walsh, Mt. Stewart, first prize for ladies' costumes. Mr. Daniel Birt accompanied on the organ by his sister, Miss Marion Birt, very capable supplied the music. Refreshments were served also. So taking everything together, all agreed that it was "some" night.

A forerunner of Spring! Boats and traps being hauled to the North Shore, and loads of laths being hauled from Leard's Mills, with which to build new lobster traps, etc.

Mrs. S. B. Clark, Charlottetown, and Mrs. Howard Court, Hunter River, visited Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Glover, Thursday evening, returning Friday.

We are sorry to learn of the illness of Mr. John Smallwood, St. Andrew's, and all hope for his early recovery to health.

With the fifteenth of the month came the closing of the smelt fishing season. So the different fishermen have rolled up their gear and put it away until the arrival of another season. And it is reported as having been the best season for some few years back.

A number of fans drove to the hockey match at Morell Friday night, and pronounced it an A-1 game.

IN MEMORIAM

MRS. ALLEN PURSEY

A very pathetic and unexpected death occurred at Fleurant on Dec. 17, 1927, when Mrs. Allen Pursey, third daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Court and bride of only eight months, died at the early age of eighteen years, leaving a four-day old baby boy behind her as well as a heart broken husband, her parents, five sisters, and four brothers, all living at home, with her husband and the sincere sympathy of the whole community in the irreparable loss they have sustained. It was at three o'clock Saturday morning when she took her last weak turn and realizing that her end was near, she called her husband and all the rest of her relatives who were standing near by and after their death kissed her a last good bye she repeated the prayer she had learned at her mother's knee, then peacefully went into her last long sleep with a firm faith in her Saviour, and although she will be missed by her many friends and her husband and all the members of her family will mourn for her at this Christmas season when they notice the empty chair, still it is comforting to know that she has gone to join the choir who more than 1900 years ago sang that everlasting song of hope, "Peace on earth, good will to men." And while we in our simplicity may wonder why this young life should be so abruptly taken, just as she was growing into womanhood we should remember that when a gardener goes to his garden to pull a flower he does not take one he hates, but one he loves, even so we believe that when the Great Gardener of the universe stoops down to earth to pluck a flower he chooses one he loves. In this case it was one in its most beautiful stage just bursting into bloom and so we commit her to His keeping. The funeral which was held at the home of the deceased's parents was one of the largest seen in this district for years testifying to the popularity of the departed.

Rev. George Gough conducted the service at both the house and the grave. The hymns "Asleep in Jesus" and "In the Sweet Bye and Bye" were impressively rendered and in the quiet of the Sabbath afternoon in the Ecumina cemetery as the sun was sinking behind the hills all that was mortal of the late happy, healthy, and robust bride was laid tenderly away to rest in the tomb by her six uncles.

MELVILLE A GREAT LUMBERING CENTRE.

There is probably more lumber shipped out from Melville, R. R. Station than from any other station on the P. E. I. R. R. Scarcely a day passed but there are one or more cars of lumber taken away from this station. Lumber goes out from here in every conceivable shape. The rough logs of spruce and fir, hemlock and pine in various shapes. Cortwood both split and round, timber rough and squared. Quite a lot of 12x12 inch square timber was shipped out this fall and winter. A size not easily procured on the Island. But the chief feature and the kind deserving of encouragement is the amount of dressed and manufactured lumber. There are two mills nearby, Ross Mills and McPherson Mills, that make a specialty of box material and shipped as shooks, balval like a bundle of shingles.

For egg cases on the Island, come from this place. With the great majority of the smelt-boxes, the poultry boxes, fish boxes of various sizes, tobacco boxes, are shipped out from Melville Station. One tobacco firm in Charlottetown gets all its boxes from here. In fact, the Charlottetown dealers, and not only these city dealers, but shippers east as far as Souris, and West as far as Summerside, get their boxes, or portion of them from this station.

This lumber industry furnishes profitable winter work for the natives. True, the prices paid are not high, the buyers claiming, and with good reason, that the freight on these cars of lumber amounts in not a few cases, as much as the lumber is worth. Take the case of rough logs. The freight to Melville is almost equal to the price received by the producer or shipper. Here is plenty evidence that the producer pays the freight. The biggest thing the Melville Station wood and lumber shippers is on against, is the freight. Everybody is in the wood cutting, chopping and hauling to the station, and making a little money every day, while in most other woodless or woodless parts of the country, the natives are sitting down during the fire all winter, when not doing chores. It is not a good farming country. The land is low and the soil is light. Yet, some fine fields of Certified potatoes are grown. But the natives have no encouragement to grow potatoes on a large scale, though their light-soil on the high spots is eminently suitable, for with the narrow gauge and handshipping at Charlottetown, they cannot be shipped away. Most of the growers could not get the late shipments off their hands, and in scores of cases, the bags, awaiting shipment, had to be restored in their home cellars where they now await spring shipment, if at all. Timber lands is changing hands. The recent timber lands is being rapidly bought up. There is a lot of uncultivated, fine woods of various kinds of lumber yet available.

AN EARLY BANK OF MONTREAL "TOKEN"

FOUNDED before Canada had any currency of its own, the Bank of Montreal early obtained authorization from the Government to issue copper tokens for small change.

Reproduced herewith are the two sides of the "Bouquet" token, one of the earliest coins issued by the Bank. The intermingling of the rose, shamrock and thistle indicates the three branches of the British people—the English, Scotch and Irish—while the use of English on one side of the coin and French on the other is significant of the mingling of the two races in this country.

"Trade and Agriculture" indicates the early connection of the Bank with both urban and rural life in Canada.

Throughout its long history the Bank of Montreal has always been active in serving the financial needs of all the people.
