ALL THE SYMPTOMS OF THESE AFFECTIONS ARE REMOVED BY FRUIT-A-LIVES

MR. JAS. S. DELGATY.
R.R. No. 4, Gilbert Plains, Man.,
"In the year 1910, I had Nervous Prostration in its worst form; my weight reduced from 170 pounds to 115 pounds. The doctors had no hope of my recovery, and every medicine I tried proved useless until a friend induced me to take 'Fruit-a-lives'. I began to mend almost at once; and after using this fruit medicine for 3 or 4 months, I was back to my normal state of health. I never had such good health for many years as I have enjoyed the past six years. We are never without a box of 'Fruit-a-lives' in the house'."

LAI TO REST.—The funeral of the late Gunner Damien Leonard of the 9th Siege Battery, whose death from influenza occurred in St. John, N. B., took place yesterday. There was a very large attendance of people from his home in Crowsnest and vicinity and when the cortege entered the city it was joined by a military escort from the Depot Battalion with six military men as pall bearers. After service at St. Dunstan's Cathedral the remains were conveyed to the Catholic cemetery where the last rites were said and a bugler sounded "the last post." The death of this excellent young man in the very bloom of life is deeply regretted.

SOLDIER'S RETURN.—Gunner George Harold McInnis, Charlottetown, arrived home Tuesday after spending over two years in service overseas. He was the youngest of three brothers who left the island to serve their King and Country, two of whom are reported killed, one on the twenty eighth of August, and the other on the eleventh of September. Joe, in August was reported wounded and missing, and later was reported killed. W. F. in September was reported missing; now he is believed killed in action. Harold was wounded the ninth of April in the thigh and back, lost a rib, and went through a number of operations in different hospitals. Harold will not be 20 years old till March.

LAMONT—VANIDESTINE.—On Wednesday evening, Dec. 11, at the home of the bride's parents Mr. and Mrs. Peter J. Vanidestine, Heatherdale, Miss Gladys was united in marriage to Mr. Malcom Lamont, Victoria Cross. A few immediate friends of the contracting parties witnessed the ceremony which was performed by the bride's pastor Dr. McEwen; the ring services being used. A bounteous supper was served after the marriage and a pleasant social evening engaged by the friends present. Mr. and Mrs. Lamont are well and favorably known in their communities and have the best wishes of their many friends for a prosperous journey in life, which they begin under very favorable auspices. They go to housekeeping in the old Lamont home at Victoria Cross.

BAPTIST CONVENTION.—The nineteenth session of the P. D. I. United Baptist Quarterly Convention met with the North River Church, December 10-11. Tuesday evening session was opened by prayer and Scripture reading. Rev. W. E. Piper was appointed acting president, Rev. E. S. Mason then addressed the audience on the subject, "The Rural Problem," giving in his usual forceful manner, some valuable information or suggestions regarding the solution of the problem. A well rendered quartette selection was given by the local choir after which Rev. C. R. Freeman delivered an inspiring address on the subject, "Keep the Home Base Strong." Wednesday morning, after the devotional service, the reports of the churches were given, which, in spite of the epidemic, were encouraging. Rev. W. E. Piper was appointed vice-president. A committee consisting of Reverends C. R. Freeman, E. S. Mason, F. A. Hubley, and deacon William McLeod was appointed to report on the churches for Denominational Funds. The report of this committee with an increase of $500.00 was received, and adopted. The remainder of the afternoon and evening sessions were given mainly to the induction of Rev. H. R. Bell, pastor of the North River group of churches. The receipts of the quarterly were ($7.45) less ($1.97) leaving to the credit of the North River church ($5.48). A hearty vote of thanks was tendered the entertaining church, the minutes read and approved, bringing to a close a pleasant and profitable convention.

Suddenly at Wood Islands, on Wednesday, Nov. 27th, 1918, Mrs. Sarah McMillan, widow of the late William McMillan in the 78th year of her age. The late Mrs. McMillan is worthy of more than a passing notice. Early in life, she was left alone with seven young children. Of more than ordinary intelligence, and strong indomitable courage, she determined to keep her children together, she toiled early and late to bring them up. Though often sorely tried during those years of lonely widowhood, she was never known to murmur. Strong faith in God was her guiding star. In all her relations in life she was characterized by her rectitude and high Christian character, always cheerful, serving the Master whom she loved. Her endearing kindness to the sick, the needy, and the stranger, will be long remembered. She was a faithful member of the Presbyterian Church for many years. Although the day was stormy the funeral was largely attended. Rev. Mr. Stewart, a former beloved pastor conducted the service, assisted by Rev. Mr. Martin at the house, and grave. Mr. Stewart very touchingly spoke from the words "Let Not Your tender tribute of respect to the deceased. The remains were peacefully laid to rest in the new cemetery beside her husband who predeceased her 30 years ago.

There are left to mourn two brothers, Dan McNeill, Little Sands, Nell, Western States, besides a family of three sons and four daughters, namely Mrs. William Brown, Mrs. Rody McKay, Wood Islands, Mrs. McMillan, Mrs. Martin and John, Boston, Nell P. and William, of Wood Island Mills to sorrow the loss and cherish the memory of a loving and devoted mother. The heartfelt sympathy of the whole community goes out to the bereaved family.

After high four score and ten years of industrious and fruitful toil, beloved and esteemed by the town folk of Souris, Matilda Jane Spencer Carlton, widow of the late C. C. Carlton, last daughter of James Spencer and Hannah Maria Wright of England, passed to her rest and reward. During the past two years Mrs. Carlton's health has been gradually failing, and on Dec. 7th she "fell asleep" in the glorious hope of immortality. There is no death, the stars go down To rise upon some fairer sphere; And bright in heaven's jewel crown They shine for evermore.
For many years she was a valued and faithful member of the Methodist Church and took a keen interest in all that appertained to the spiritual and moral welfare of the community.

The funeral cortege was large in spite of inclement weather. The service was conducted by Rev. H. A. Brown assisted by Rev. A. McKay of the Presbyterian Church. A solo—"We'll Never say Good-bye in Heaven" was sung by Mrs. H. A. Brown also a trio "Abide with Me" by Mr. Morley Acorn, Mr. and Mrs. Brown. The sincere sympathy of a large circle of friends goes to the bereaved family at home. Mr. C. C. Carlton, Miss Matilda and Miss Susie.

The death of Mr. Robert McLean, of Alberton, which occurred at Emerald Junction, on Sunday last, 15th inst., is deeply regretted by a large circle of friends throughout the province. The late Mr. McLean was well known as an experienced and very efficient railroad truckman, and was foreman over a number of workmen engaged in track laying near Emerald for the past few months. About a week previous to his death he complained of heart weakness and asthma, and received medical treatment, but appeared to fall despite kind nursing and care by those in attendance. On Saturday Rev. Father Murphy of Free-town was called and administered the last rites of the Catholic Church of which he was a faithful member. The remains were taken by train to his home in Alberton on Monday for interment. He leaves a family of sons and daughters to mourn the loss of a kind and devoted parent. He was about 66 years of age and lived in Newcastle, N. B., in his younger days where several of his relatives still reside. May his soul rest in peace.

In the window of the McKinnon Drug Company's Store, Charlottetown, there are displayed two large posters, printed in French, which are attracting a great deal of attention. They are well worthy of attention too, being copies of the actual proclamations posted throughout the city of Mons in Belgium upon the recent occupation of that city by the British army.
These proclamations were sent home by Major D. A. McKinnon, D. S. O., C. de G., and a translation of them was kindly made by Prof. Blanchard, of Princes of Wales College and a copy of the translation is also shown in the window.
Through the courtesy of Mr. Ernest Worth in charge of the McKinnon Drug Co. store the Guardian is enabled to give its readers the context of both proclamations.

PROCLAMATION

The Governor of Hainault
To the Authorities and Officials of the State and Province.
To the Administration of the Commune.
To the Inhabitants of the Commune.
The victories of our armies have put an end to the power which the German authorities had arrogated to themselves in our country.
Today Belgium enters upon the full exercise of her independence and autonomy.
I have the honor to inform you that I have resumed the function which I had abandoned in consequence of the occupation of the Province in August 1914, in conformity with the instructions I had then received.
By virtue of a decree of the Belgian Government all laws enacted by the legislator must be considered abolished.
Consequently Belgium returns to the régime which existed at the time of the invasion of her territory by the German armies.
I ask the authorities and officials of every rank to be governed by this principle and to apply it in all decisions and decrees which they may make.
The food situation is assured with the help of the National Council of Assistance and Supplies and of the Federal Bureau of Communal Cooperative Food Societies, by a series of decrees which I have just issued.
At the moment when the eyes of the civilized world are turned towards us and when every corner of our country is being visited by the highest civil and military authorities of the Allied Nations, it is expedient above everything else, that public order be everywhere maintained.
While awaiting for a normal government to be established in all its integrity, all those in authority, will I feel assured, lend me a helping hand and watch over the safety of the state and the rights of persons and property.
If during the troubled times through which we have passed certain actions contrary to the interests of our Fatherland have been committed let those in authority forestall private vengeance by assuring all that Justice will uncover the guilty ones and inflict just punishment.
Let us continue, as good citizens, to set aside anything which might be the cause of dissension.
Let us celebrate with quiet joy the signal victory won by the cause of Right and Honor to which Belgium has so generously sacrificed all she possessed.
Let us show ourselves in all our actions worthy of our beloved King and of our splendid and heroic army! Let us live up to the glorious examples of honor, of service and of union which they have shown.
And thus, the days which are to follow will be for our beloved country the dawn of a new era of prosperity and progress in all the spheres of our national activity.
Long Live Belgium independent and free!
Long Live the King!
God Save Belgium and her King!

liberated by the heroism of the British army, which, at the signing of the armistice, is terminating the series of its victories in the very locality where, on the 23rd of August, 1914 it first came into contact with the enemy.
The Third Canadian Division, at the price of enormous sacrifices, entered the city at 3 o'clock this morning, thus avenging, by a signal victory, the retreat of 1914. Glory and gratitude to them!
The Armistice is signed; the German army has capitulated; brutal force is annihilated. Justice and right are triumphant. Belgium emerges greater and fortified from the terrible ordeal through which she has passed. The citizens bore with confidence and courage the sufferings of the occupation. We feel confident that in the hour of triumph they will observe that dignity and moderation which they have ever shown.

We trust to the good will of all that order may be maintained. We also ask the whole population to resume work as soon as possible. The ruins inflicted by war are enormous and the co-operation and the good will of all our people are necessary to heal the wounds which it has caused.
In this solemn hour, our infinite gratitude goes out to the Allied armies, and among them, from the depths of our hearts, to our splendid Belgian Army, and its chief, our heroic King.

Peace, But—
Huns Leave Belgium in Ghastly Misery; OUR Help Never So Sorely Needed!

Our troops find the Belgian population gaunt with hunger and suffering terribly for lack of clothes and shelter. Tens of thousands of homes have been blasted away!
Peace to them means a cessation of the frightful brutality of the German soldiers; but more than that, it means that they are within our reach, and that we, their grateful Allies, can see that they are provided with food and shelter for the many months that must elapse before they can start life afresh.
Fix firmly in your mind that Peace does not mean immediate happiness and prosperity to Belgium, who first stood in the breach, and by so doing made this victorious peace possible.
