WILLIAM J. Paquet was a passenger Saturday afternoon on return to his home in Souris. Mr. Paquet has been in the city for the past few months taking a course in cutting with Gordon & McLellan and will shortly open up a first class tailoring establishment in Souris. He will occupy the store lately held by his brother E. E. and will carry full lines of the best materials. The Guardian wishes him a large share patronage.

THE death under sad circumstances took place at the City Hospital on Friday night of James McKenzie, aged 20 years and son of Kenneth McKenzie of Cardigan. About two weeks ago he was playing with Harry Grey, aged about sixteen or seventeen years. They both had knives and in some way Grey stabbed the latter in the leg below the groin, perforating the main artery of the thigh. Considerable difficulty was found in stopping the blood at first. He was brought to the City Hospital Friday. Dr. Conroy found that the trouble was caused by the blood oozing gradually from the wound, which was larger internally than on the outside, and accumulating in the muscles and beneath the skin, thus causing the leg to swell and mortification to set in, making an operation necessary. The operation was performed Friday afternoon at three o'clock, but as the patient was very weak at the time he did not rally and at nine o'clock Saturday night his spirit passed away.

A LARGE crowd was in attendance at the Police Court on Saturday. The business before the Court was the trial of John McKenna, the alleged proprietor of the noted B. and W for keeping a disorderly house on Water Street. The trial lasted the whole day and was adjourned till next Saturday for further evidence and the arrest of two missing witnesses. Some nineteen witnesses gave testimony but there was not much in their evidence that would convict of the charge. It came out in evidence that men of all classes went to the resort at all hours, frequently remaining over night; that the place was at times frequented by girls of questionable character; that fights resulted in in smashing of stoves, windows, etc, had taken place and that occasionally drunken men had created much disturbance. There were numerous amusing incidents including the narration by one witness of the entertainment of a sick pig in the kitchen during the night. At four o'clock the Marshall asked for an adjournment which was granted. A. J. B. Mellish appeared for the defendant.

ON Thursday of this week our dearly loved friend, Mr. Stirling passed away from this life to the bliss of glory of Heaven. He died at Scotsburn, Pictou county where he spent the last year or two of his life with his son. He entered the ministry in 1857, and spent some years in New Brunswick where he labored with zeal and success. Fredericton was his principal station. For some years he labored at Scotsburn, and from Scotsburn he removed to P. E. Island. He was a genuine evangelist. Wherever his special charge might be, he eagerly availed himself of every opportunity of preaching Christ in season, out of season, in town or country. In this work he knew no weariness. He was of the McCheyne type of preachers. Mr. Stirling was not a rich man; he never enjoyed a large salary. Yet he has given for the support of missions amounts that have greatly astonished us all.—We have lost a great preacher and great saint. We have no space to say more this week but we hope to revert to the memory of our departed friend.—Presbyterian Witness. [Rev. Mr. Stirling was well known in this province where he was pastor for many years, his last church being Clifton.]

A MOVEMENT is on foot to amalgamate the Presbyterian congregation of North Sydney and Little Bras D'Or under Rev. T. C. Jack as pastor with Rev. Gordon Dickie as assistant at the meeting of the Little Bras D' Or Congregation it will shortly be discussed also by the Presbyterian congregation at North Sydney.

W. H. C. MACKAY, city passenger agent for the C. P. R., returned Wednesday from a trip to Toronto, where he attended a meeting of the executive of the Canadian Ticket Agents' Association, of which organization he is vice-president. The meeting was held for the purpose of completing arrangements for a visit of the association to the St. Louis fair. All details were practically arranged and the visit will be made early in May, so that upon the return of the agents to their different points they will be in a position to give intending visitors all the necessary information. London, Ontario, has been selected as a junction point and special trains will be run from that place to St. Louis. The maritime province party will leave St. John May 10th or 11th. Among those who will probably go are: W. H. C MacKay, F. E. Hanington, Geo Carvill, Alfred C. Currie, of this city; F. B. Edgecombe, of Fredericton; J. C. Robertson, of North Sydney; John I. Robinson, of Sydney; C. R. Coleman, Truro; J. D' Chipman, Halifax; J. Barry, Amherst; C. M. Dawson, Truro; D. Dwyer, Pictou; C. S. Charters, Point du Chene; J. L. Momson, Charlottetown; T. B. Grady, Summerside; H. J. Lynds, Moncton; Joseph Rodgers, Moncton; J. S. Sharp, Sussex; F. W. Wry. Sackville: J. R Douglas, Amherst. —St. John Globe.

C. O. THOMPSON of Amherst, N. S., is at the Queen. He has been visiting the chief points in this province in the interests of the new Hewson Woolen Mills, one of Amherst's most prosperous industries. Mr. Thompson, who is one of the charter members of this firm, on being interviewed stated that the mill has been in operation about one year. The buildings are all new, constructed of stone and brick after designs furnished by the leading mill architects of New England. There are five setts of cards of large size, six self-acting spinning machines of 264 spindles each and 22 looms with a daily capacity of about 1000 yards of cloth besides knitting yarns. The management is in the hands of H. L. Hewson late of Oxford, N. S. where he spent 20 years in the woolen business. He has gathered around him in the new mill a very efficient staff of men who, Mr. Thompson says, are well posted in their various lines of work. The quality of the goods as well as the designs, some of which were shown The Guardian's representative, are certainly very fine and are guaranteed to be all pure wool. On enquiring as to where the mill markets its output it was learned also while the Maritime Provinces are the chief consumers, yet Hewson Tweeds are going in good quantities into Western Canada—in fact they are distributed from coast to coast and in many places are already recognized as among the leaders in provincial woolens. It will be remembered that this enterprising firm made a most creditable and attractive exhibit at last year's Provincial Exhibition.
